SUMMARY.

Mr. Lloyd-George declares that Britain is better prepared for an emergency than ever before.

Britain and Russia are nearing the completion of a joint agreement in regard to Persia.

Four officers and a crew of 10 were drowned by the sinking of a submarine off the Isle of Wight.

The submarine was badly injured in a collision with a warship, and sank immediately.

Bertrand Stewart has been sentenced to 3½ years' imprisonment in a German fortress for espionage.

General Yuan Shih Kai is awaiting the concentration of Chinese troops at Peking before the Emperor's abdication is announced.

The payment of officials at Mukden has been suspended.

Disorder among the people is feared, and there have been wholesale departures northwards.

Serious troubles are said to be likely to arise in Canton. The city is at present under the rule of a military dictator.

European residents are preparing for emergencies, and the joint British and French concession has been mined and fortified.

Heavy snowstorms in the north of England are impeding traffic.

In the international Rugby Union match between Wales and Scotland the former won by 21 to 6.

H.M.S. Powerful is to convey the body of the late Duke of Fife from Egypt to England.

The masters have refused the application of cotton weavers for an increase of wages. A general strike is feared.

Five hundred Tilbury dockers have struck work against the employment of non-unionists.

The Bishop of Oxford says that Churchmen should insist on the abolition of slums.

The British Parliamentary delegation was accorded an enthusiastic welcome in Moscow.

The case against Mrs. Hazzard, the "starvation doctor," has gone to the jury.

The Duke of Connaught, speaking in Ottawa, expressed approval of the military training of youths between 14 and 18.

Labour troubles, fomented by the socialists, are growing in Vancouver.

The Brisbane strike has extended to Ipswich, Rockhampton, and Townsville, and promises a far wider extension.

The latest thing talked of is a general strike throughout Australia.

It is being discussed behind closed doors by the strike committee.

The Government has issued a proclamation calling on all persons engaged in unlawful assemblies to desist.

The Prime Minister has refused to call out the military to back up the police.

Thousands of people paraded the streets of Brisbane on Saturday. No demonstrations were held.

The strikers attempted to hold an organised meeting in South Brisbane, but they were dispersed by the police.

The picketing of shops is being broken up by the special constabulary. A number of shops will probably reopen to-day.

It is expected that the trams will be running to-morrow.

Ample tram men are said to be available. It is only a question of adequate police protection.

Policemen will ride on all the cars for the protection of the passengers.

The special constabulary has been largely augmented, and most of the suburbs have formed vigilance committees.

Although there are instances of hardship, there has been no food famine.

There has been a revulsion of feeling amongst the more sensible section of the tramway men.

It is said that many were not aware that the claim before the Arbitration Court contained a clause referring to badges.

Mr. Fisher has expressed the opinion that if the strike is not soon settled it will become an interstate dispute.

Unrest is stated to exist among the Melbourne tram men.

Father O'Gorman, preaching at East Maitland, was very outspoken against unionism.

He characterised the Brisbane strike as the most wanton blow ever aimed at a country's prosperity.

A serious hitch has occurred in the settlement of the tramway strike in Wellington (N.Z.).

In the event of an agreement not being reached by noon to-day, other unions are to be asked to cease work.

The Governor-General unveiled tablets affixed to the soldiers' memorial in Sturt-street, Ballarat.

His Excellency said he had served in South Africa himself, and his interest was of a personal kind.

The French community has presented a portrait of La Perouse to the collection of the Australasian Pioneers' Club.

The Carpenters' Union at Perth has rejected a proposal for a 44 hours' week.

The Premier laid the foundation stone of the grandstand of the new League football arena at Alexandria, on Saturday.

The new Salvation Army Temple in Goulburn-street was opened on Saturday. Commissioner Hay unveiled commemoration tablets.

The dense smoke from bush fires along the Victorian coast is causing delay to shipping.

Ten certainties have been chosen in the selection of the Australian cricket team for England.

They are: Hill, Trumper, Carter, Cotter, Ransford, Bardsley, Armstrong, Hordern, Minnett, and Carkeek.

The team for the fourth test match will be the same as that in the third test, except that M'Laren will be twelfth man.

The Blackham benefit match was continued on the Melbourne Cricket Ground on Saturday, in very hot weather.

The Englishmen concluded their innings for 497—Hearne 143, Douglas 140.

The Victorian batting collapsed before the bowling of Barnes, six wickets being down for 91 runs when stumps were drawn.

At a Christian Endeavour rally on Saturday it was stated that no Protestant denomination had yet fulfilled its work.

Several Australasian swimmers who are to compete in the Olympic games performed well on Saturday.

The coastal cargo and passenger rates in New Zealand have been increased, as the result of the advance in wages.

The Australian mail line steamer Croydon is 44 days out from San Francisco to Auckland.

An old pioneer named John Knight has died at Wee Waa at the age of 99 years and 10 months.

The State general elections in Tasmania have been fixed for April 30.

Some big scores were made in the rifle matches on Saturday.

Randwick No. 1 has the highest aggregate in the grade competitions to date.

The Enterprise Rowing Club held its first public regatta on Saturday. University won the invitation eights.

The Olympic crew was on the water in Iron Cove during the afternoon, and made a good impression.

In the eighth round of the grade cricket matches the batting was uneven, although the wickets were in favour of run-getting.

In their respective matches Waverley and Sydney scored heavily, S. E. Gregory getting 143 and Pite 100.

Yeulba has won the Lipton Cup outright in the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron's contest.

The New South Wales boat Golding won the 22-footer interstate sailing championship.

Kylee won the Canterbury Handicap, and Peronella the Flying Handicap.

The mining market was quiet on Saturday, but values were practically unaltered.

Weather Forecast.—Fine generally, except for isolated thunderstorms; becoming cooler, with southerly winds.

THE FASHION EPOCH OF THE AUTUMN SEASON,

FARMER'S ADVANCE STYLES.

IN MODEL COSTUMES.

Our Autumn and Winter Exposition of Fashions, which will begin on Wednesday next, will undoubtedly be the most authoritative pronouncement of correct Fashions for the coming Season.

And in addition to being the most elaborate display to be seen in His Majesty's Over-sea Dominions, Farmer's is always the Mentor by which leaders of Fashion are pleased to be guided.

SMART AND CHIC GOWNS.

The Gowns are selected by our expert Continental buyers from the Initiators and Controllers of Fashions in Paris and London, from whom all nations accept their styles.

FARMER'S GOWNS—imported from Paris, London, and Berlin, are renowned for that style, distinction, and refinement of effect which ladies delight to admire.

To-day and To-morrow we are exhibiting in our COSTUME SHOWROOM some Advance Styles in Model Costumes—Smart, Handsome, Chic.

WHAT THE EXHIBIT EMBRACES.

BEAUTIFUL EVENING GOWNS,

in new Conceptions of Style.

SMART PARIS AND LONDON MODELS,

RACE AND FETE GOWNS.

HANDSOME LONDON AND BERLIN

TAILOR-MADE COATS AND SKIRTS.

ARTISTIC PARIS OVERSKIRTS AND TUNICS.

AN EXQUISITE GOWN OF GREAT CHARM.

A Distinguished Model Gown, in Black and White, is designed with a Short Tunic of Ivory Figured Net, with wide Border at foot of Skirt, Studded Pearls, and finished at edge with a row of the new Vandyke pointed Macrame Lace, the points falling over a deep border or Flounce of rich Black Mirior Velvet. The upper part of Skirt is veiled with Tunic of Black Ninon de Soie, contrasting in charming effect with the ivory net in lower section. The Bodice is softly draped in Fichu Style, having V-shaped Front, of ivory net, studded pearls, and metallic net finish.

A Most Charming and Effective Race Model.

MANY OTHER CHARMING MODELS DISPLAYED IN OUR COSTUME SALON AND IN THE PITT-STREET WINDOWS.

COAT AND SKIRT COSTUMES.

A Plentiful Selection awaits Ladies who require exclusively-designed and perfectly-tailored London Cut and Made Garments.

NOTE.—An early selection guarantees wearers the choicest of exclusive styles.

PAGE 6 WILL INTEREST YOU. TURN TO IT.

The whole of page 6 is filled with bargains—as good this week as ever—for Men, Women, Children, and the Home. Look through this page well; there is sure to be something you need. And why not take advantage of our Sale, and secure it at a considerable price reduction? Everything is reduced in price throughout our House—everything, except a few proprietary lines—while surplus summer stock is marked at ridiculously low prices, for it must be cleared.

A feature of our Summer Sale this week is our special bargain offer to Distant Residents, further information of which is given on page 6.

Meanwhile, here are some good bargains which will interest one and all.

SOME EXCELLENT DRESS FABRIC BARGAINS.

Direction .... BEAUMONT SMITH.

MANAGERIAL NOTE.

The Management of Tiny Town desires to express its regret that so many people were unable to gain admission at the Saturday performances; also to apologise for the inconvenience to which many were put through the crush at the ticket boxes. However, arrangements have been made for the opening of additional ticket offices and entrances. Extra seating has been erected, making it possible for the Exhibition to accommodate 4300 people.

TINY TOWN.
TINY TOWN.
TINY TOWN.

Visited on Saturday by seven thousand people.

Without hesitation the Management confidently declares Tiny Town to be the greatest success and most unique entertainment ever shown in this city.
ASK ANY OF THE HUGE AUDIENCES THAT CROWDED THE ENORMOUS EXHIBITION ON SATURDAY WHAT THEY THOUGHT OF THE SMALLEST PEOPLE ON EARTH,
BOTH ON THE STAGE AND IN THE VILLAGE.

READ WHAT THE "SUNDAY SUN" SAYS:—
"AN EXTRAORDINARY SHOW . . . this wonder-town at the Exhibition. If there was any prevailing idea that Tiny Town's inhabitants were deformed or dwarfed, it was quickly dispelled. Their twice-a-day show compels admiration, not only for its novelty, but for the sheer ability, the talents, and remarkable personality of the amazing little men and women."

A BRIGHT AND BREEZY COMEDY.

THE AEROPLANE
IN MOVING PICTURES.

If a man can only get his girl in an aeroplane and rise high enough there will likely be less competition in romance making. That is what "The Yorkshire Kid" did. It worked. He and a girl were engaged when the third man caught up with them.
The Kid had been a prize-fighter, and had seen the girl and fallen hopelessly in love with her. He learned that he was heir to a fortune and a title. After that he met her in society, and he and the third man took her to an aviation meet. When this third man catches up with him after the flight the "Kid" knocks him down, much to the delight of the girl. The rest may be imagined.

WHAT THEY THINK IN GERMANY ABOUT BEALE HIGH-GRADE PIANOS.

The London "Musical Opinion and Music Trade Review," an important trade journal published in Great Britain, says (July, 1911):—

"A Hamburg trade journalist, who has just returned from the Antipodes, states that the pianos manufactured by the Beale Company in Sydney greatly resemble in touch and tone those turned out at the best German factories. The Beale is sold at forty-five pounds and upwards, and enjoys a good reputation, not only in Australia, but in India, Java, South Sea Islands, and other colonial countries with hot climates. The 'Hamburger' fears that if these British colonials extend their piano manufacturing operations there will be little room left for Continental makers in the musical instrument line."

CARNEGIE'S PIANOS.

The test of time has been applied to our FAHR Piano, which, during the past 25 years, has shown wearable qualities, which will fully justify our claim for the durability made concerning it.

There is a charm of tone about the FAHR Piano which appeals to those who desire pure tonal quality, and its interior beauty of case at once pleases the eye.

The Xmas Models of the FAHR Pianos, just opened, are not only new and extremely attractive in design, but they possess a tone of wonderful quality and volume.

Over 41,000 in use and giving genuine satisfaction. TERMS FROM 20s MONTHLY.

THE GREAT "KOHLER" BOOM.

KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER KOHLER	Our opponents in the piano trade are simply paralysed at the ease and rapidity with which we dispose of frequent large shipments of Kohler Pianos, but the reason is simplicity itself. THERE IS NO PIANO SOLD IN SYDNEY TO COMPARE WITH THE KOHLER at anything like its price, £30. Its sweet sonority of tone, luxuriousness of case design, durability, and many other sterling qualities make it universally admired. 12 years' guarantee. Cash or Bank Rate, Easy Terms.

12 DAYS
SALE
2nd to 16th FEB.

GRACE BROS.'
12 DAYS' SALE

The Sale that is well-known to Housewives.

WE are leaving no stone unturned to give the Shopping Public the most perfect service of any Retail House in Australia. This Sale—we give our customers better service in the following manner:—1st.—The Furniture Department is now located in the New Furniture Palace, Bay-street; and Household Ironmongery Department and Electroplate Section have taken up the position formerly occupied by the Furniture Department, viz., second floor, Broadway Building. The household Linen Department has been removed to a position on the Showroom Floor, second floor, Bay-street Building. This gives additional space to the Dress Department, which now occupies the whole of the ground floor in our new seven-storey Francis-street Building. We hope to render a more efficient Delivery Service. All sections have almost doubled their staff, and no effort will be spared to make your visit a pleasure. Here is a list of the bargains which will be available during the next few days. Have you seen our New Furniture Palace in Bay-street? Nearly 60,000 feet of floor space is devoted to the showing of Furniture and Bedsteads.

GRACE BROS. ARE SOLE AGENTS FOR "THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL" PAPER PATTERNS, AND CAN SUPPLY ALMOST ANY PATTERN REQUIRED FOR HOME USE.

PAPER PATTERNS OF NEW AUTUMN COSTUMES, SKIRTS, BLOUSES, PYJAMAS, ETC, ETC. COME IN AND SEE OUR STOCK.

The Book with the Ninepenny Coupon.

REDUCED TO 1/3
POSTAGE 2d EXTRA.

This splendid magazine of fashions we are reducing from 1/9 (its original price) to 1/3 per copy. At this price the free coupon is attached in the usual way, and can be exchanged for its full value, viz., any ninepenny pattern shown in its pages.

As these patterns alone cost (ninepence) 9d each, and the Style Book itself is worth considerably more than the whole cost, you will understand the bargain you are getting in buying the Book for 1/3.

The Illustrations in this Book, numbering quite 1000 designs, include Costumes, Blouses, Skirts, Underwear, Children's, Babies', and Young Ladies' Wear. From cover to cover this Book is crowded with suggestions of New Autumn Styles.

The SPECIAL SALE PRICE of this splendid Fashion Journal is 1/3 PER COPY.

"I know. You young people think us old ones be deaf and blind, but I know all about it. Haven't I stood behind the stall at your elbow a score of times, and seen the man help you to put away the trestles, and all the rest of it? And haven't I marked the way he treats me—an ugly old woman? You think you love that giant, Benjamin Gun; and he thinks you love him; and I ban't going to quarrel with either of you about it—too wise for that. But don't you build no castles in the air, Cherry. And remember that a sailor's a sailor. They be very well used to change in all things, and come the poor fellow gets his liberty and a passage home in one of they cartel ships, he'll take it quick enough, and think no more of your red checks than he will of your red apples."

"Don't say that," the girl answered. "Bide a bit till you see him closer and look in his honest eyes. He's a hero among 'em, I tell you, and that mighty man, Master Burgoyne, thinks great things of him. Benjamin was born to farming, mother, though he went for a sailor when Mr. Burgoyne fitted his privateer. But a farmer he is for choice, and from Vermont State he comes, and he be the only man amongst 'em that can look at Dartymoor without bating it—because of me. And he don't want particular to take me home along with him. All his folk be dead, and he'd just as soon bide along wi' us to Bair Down."

Mrs. Caunter laughed.

"No doubt; and he father's right hand! A likely story, my dear. Such things don't happen. Do 'e forget what the master said last night. This be parlous news you tell me, and I hope, for all our sakes, that you and him will change your minds, for a madder notion never got in the heads of a silly maid and man."

"You're on our side all the same, mother," answered the girl. "I know right well you are."

So the matter was left, and Cherry went on her way without much self-consciousness, but in the large hope and trust of youth. She had waded deep in love and reached that depth where absorbing passion made her oblivious to the outer world and all in it. Her life's future centred in the American. He was sole guiding-star in her sky; and now that star proved much in the ascendant, as she soon learned.

Benjamin Gun shouldered lesser men away from the Caunters' stall presently, when he and his mates returned from their business of stonemason outside the prison, and a moment came when the lovers were able to get a few words together. He gave her a letter—in a quid of tobacco which was supposed to be a present for her mother!—and she handed him two apples, each of which contained a precious core. One was for himself, the other had the letter "B" scraped on the red rind, and his sweetheart made it clear that it was sent for Ben's master. Thus their billets doux passed between them, and none suspected. Mr. Gun unblushingly assured the turnkeys that he could not write, but he wronged himself. The sailor's caligraphy was better than his spelling; though he had a mariner's plainness of speech, and Charity was never in doubt as to his meaning. To-day, much matter filled his note, and under his breath he warned her to be unusually careful and read the missive in secret.

Anon others began to crowd about the stall, and Gun, as usual, was the butt for his friends' humour.

"When his majesty here shuts one eye and lets in a noggin of brandy to No. 4 we'll drink to the health of the lovers," said Andy Midge. He pointed to a turnkey, who answered with a wink. Plenty of spirits and other interdicted materials were smuggled to the prisoners; for not a few of the Americans possessed wealth and enjoyed the receipt of pretty regular supplies of money. They had, however, to pay dearly for their luxuries. Charity brought a sucking-pig for sale to-day, and it fetched three shillings.

The conversation was of a small man who had escaped to Dartmouth, and so got to sea and reached France.

"'Tis said a girl helped him with a gown," declared Charley Miller. "Now surely, Miss Caunter, you might do the like for long Ben here. He'd look quite the gentlewoman, I'm sure."

"Only don't let him whistle 'Yankee Doodle,' like the fool Burnham," said Seapach. "If he'd only kept quiet, he'd hev gotten clear off in the sentry's coat and hat he stole; but just to show how derned cool he was, he must needs whistle, and a guard challenged, and the silly chap was done sor. He's cooling his tail in the cachot of No. 5 now."

"A clever chap, too," asserted Andy. "'Twas him made that dummy we lowered out of window t'other night. It looked for all the world like a man trying to escape, and the lobsters let fly at it, and, when we dropped the rope, rushed in on it as valiant as lions. How we laughed up aloft when they found it was a man of straw! And it got up their dander proper. The Commandant was just mad!"

"They're a cowardly lot at heart—the soldiers," said Thomas Midge. "If No. 4 could only act in concert with t'other prisoners, we'd hev every blessed doodle of us out, and the place in our hands easy as falling off a log."

But Benjamin Gun shook his head.

"A foolish thought, Tom. You heard what the boss said last night—Cap'n Burgoyne, I mean. We shall all be free men inside three months—and then——"

"Very easy for you to preach, Ben," cried the boy, Johnny Wood. Then he sank his voice. "You'll be free in three nights, wi' luck!"

"'Tis true what Ben says all the same," declared Seapach. "The sloop of war Favourite is half-way to the States wi' the Treaty of Peace by now."

"And these cussed rogues won't even let us rejoice at that," grumbled Andy Midge. "When they hung out that flag over the 'Commodore,' with 'Free Trade and Sailors' Rights' on it, didn't Commandant Short and his dirty troops go and force 'em to pull it down again? And the bombs we fired made all the countryside shake its shoes!"

"They ain't got the pluck of powder-monkeys," said Johnny.

"'Tis idle to fly in the face of the powers any more now, however," urged Gun, "and I don't say it because I may be a free man afore long. I say it because I believe it. The last chance of a general escape were lost when 'Judas' Bagley split and gave away the underground passage."

The others cursed.

"And may he split again, like t'other Judas, and his bowels fall out!" prayed Charles Miller.

Elsewhere Mrs. Caunter spoke with the man called Petersen.

"And how be poor Mr. Eben Taylor faring?" she asked.

"Well, I hope; he's dead. A good chap caught up into the war, and he never could exactly tell how he came to be fighting. He escaped with the rest of us by the skin of his teeth, and did wonders and played the hero. Then his fate overtakes him in this den. However, 'tis no odds any more. He's free—and we go on hoping. There's talk of more exchanges in the air. 'Tis time; look at our shoes. I blush for your country when I look at 'em—and our jackets likewise."

"Was Doctor Magrath along with Mr. Taylor when he died?" asked Mr. Caunter, and Petersen said that he was.

"An angel in human shape that man. Derned if I can understand where he hides his wings. A true friend to the prisoners—a heart he hath to feel for us, and his voice is better than his physic. God will reward him."

The market ended ere long, and a great bell clanged the folk away. The boards and trestles were put up; the gates were opened, and the people with light baskets trailed off to their distant homes.

Miss Caunter and her mother walked together, but the girl's impatience could not long be restrained. Half a mile away from the prison confines, she dropped her baskets, sat upon a stone, and read Benjamin's letter. It made her heart beat indeed, and soon she ran after Mary Caunter with the great news. Her war-worn sailor had drawn the lot, and was to escape; and to her fell the task of helping him. Much indeed depended upon her; he looked to her to aid him; he trusted her pluck and her power to do so.

"Mother, Mother," cried Cherry. "List to this. Ben have drawn the lot—'twas my letter torn up in spills brought the luck to him. And 'tis all set out in his precious letter—what I'm to do and how I'm to help. Liberty be the very breath in Ben's nostrils, you must know, mother, dear, and 'tis my proud work to help. On Monday 'twill be."

Her face flamed with pride, as she thought that her lover had come to her at this great crisis in his fortunes. She could talk of nought else. She lived in the romance and adventure of the moment; nor would she listen when her grave-eyed mother spoke of the future.

"We'll hide him away snug when he be fetched safely off," said Cherry. "'Twill be my fine part, to feed him and tend him in secret. And come presently, when the war be ended and Ben's a free man again, he'll have to face father and fight it out for me—and trust him to win."

"Lord, the hopefulness of the young," sighed Mrs. Caunter. "Their hope and their power o' faith in to-morrow. If you'd seen so many to-morrows as what I have, child, you wouldn't be so ready to believe in 'em. And in the case of you and this great madman—there, 'tis more'n I can think of and keep my thought in bounds. 'Tis a black come-along-of-it, whichever way you look."

"'Tis a glorious come-along-of-it," cried Cherry. "He'll conquer father like he conquers the soldiers and turnkeys. He's all men's friend."

Her thoughts turned back to her letter and its strange directions. In her mind grew and grew a symbol, a figure, a vital design whereupon literally the fate of Benjamin Gun might be expected to turn.

It was represented thus—

"A star between two stripes," breathed Charity to herself. "The star to guide me to my Ben."

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR.

"CHURCH CONSCIOUSNESS."

THE FRAUDS OF COMMERCIAL LIFE.

"When you consider all the frauds of our commercial life, when you think of all the impurity and intemperance that are so manifest in our social life, you will see how necessary it is that something should be brought to bear upon the consciences of our young men and young women." This was the keynote of a speech delivered by the Rev. R. B. Reynolds, M.A., at a rally day, held at Watson's Bay on Saturday. Something was wanted, he said, that would educate the young people to a higher standard of life and responsibility. He believed that the Christian Endeavour movement would give to young men and young women a broader conception of life and a higher ideal of living. The movement also taught them to be interested in the welfare of every nation, and of every class of man and woman. Persons who had a sense of their obligations and responsibilities as members of the State would record their votes at the polling booths as an eager duty, and regard it as a sacred duty to put into power, as our legislators, men of upright character, whatever their denomination might be.

The day had not come for organic unity, in the sense in which some persons took those words. He was of the opinion that there was not one Protestant denomination that had yet fulfilled its work. One of the possibilities of the movement was to inculcate into men and women such a spirit of loyalty in regard to the attendance at their own church as was not found at the present time. The keynote of the movement was personal relationship and personal responsibility to the Lord Jesus Christ.

Rev. H. C. J. Foreman, B.A., gave an address on "the limitations of the movement." Amongst the limitations was the lack of church consciousness. Many young persons felt that it was quite sufficient to belong to an Endeavour Society, which to them represented the church, but there was a peril in this thought.

Rev. S. Varcoe-Cock said that the society was not responsible for any lack of church consciousness. If ministers of various churches only fathered the Christian Endeavour movement as they did some of their pet societies then the church consciousness would be stronger in the Christian Endeavour movement than it was to-day.

Mr. J. B. Spencer addressed the meeting on "the man of the movement."

The rally day was held to commemorate the founding of the society by the Rev. F. E. Clark, D.D., on February 2, 1887. Many persons were present, and they enjoyed themselves in the afternoon at a social reunion. Later an open-air service was held.

TINY TOWN.

Never before have Sydneyites had an entire midget township such as Tiny Town for their delectation. It should be stated that the denizens of this modern Lilliput are not freaks, but dainty little men and women, whose ages run from 20 to 58, and whose height is anything down to 30 inches. And they are most delightful company. Miss Hansi Audre, besides possessing a charming manner, is a quaint and accomplished soubrette, a brilliant equestrienne, a daring wire-walker, and a graceful dancer. Mr. Haysti Hassid, Mayor of Tiny Town, can keep silent in eight languages; also he sings comic songs. Miss Ilouka, the bride-to-be, pilots a revolving globe over see saws, rides a trick pony no larger than a big dog, and dances exquisitely. Mr. Morello, the midget contortionist, is an acrobat of india-rubber tendencies. All the members of the troupe have something besides their diminutiveness to commend them.

The village boasts its mayor, the Tiny Turk, who though 56 years old, winks and whispers that he feels 26. Then there is Tiddlewinks, the Barber, and a microscopic, brass-helmeted fireman, who drives his baby engine round on the lookout for lighted matches and other conflagrations. When the crowd round the fair Hansi Audre's stall gets too dense a helmeted policeman with drawn truncheon moves them on. The policeman is a Melbournian, 36 inches high. Also the village boasts its newspaper, the "Tiny Town Times," edited by Tom Thumb. A special bulletin issued on Saturday night announced on behalf of the Combined Trades-unions of Tiny Town, that there was no likelihood of the Brisbane strike extending to the fair city of Tiny Town.

It is so peaceful in the township, but this is a superficial calm. Beneath the surface there is strife and fued. The cause is the forthcoming mayoral election, the veteran Hassid being opposed by the gallant young Arthur Huhle. The latter's advertisement rather casts reflection on the present occupant of the office. On the front page of the "Tiny Town Times" is the exhortation, "Vote for Huhle, and get a younger mayor."

Mr. Beaumont Smith toured the whole of Europe before he could collect all the villagers. Most of them were trained by Mr. Andreas Zeynard, and their circus and vaudeville performance is remarkable. On Saturday evening the Exhibition Building was crowded with interested patrons. The star performer was Miss Hansi Audre, who captivated the crowd with a quaint serio-comic item. Her other numbers were an acrobatic equestrienne act and a high wire act. The midget Sandow, Alfonso, threw heavy weights about with ease, and in conjunction with Pompeo, performed a really clever clown act. Then there were lively national dances, Hungarian and Tyrolean, by companies of the midgets, and they entered with spirit into the affair. Comic songs and juggling exhibitions, and a revolving globe act, were followed by a thrilling bareback act with a pair of ponies, by Pompeo and the tiny Miss Poula. An equestrienne exhibition by the fair Ilouka, a high-wire performance by little Isobel, and a trained pony act by Arthur Huhle, concluded the programme.

The post-office, stores, and church of Tiny Town are all of diminutive dimensions. The foundation-stone of the church was laid by an ex-Mayor, Alderman Whipper Snapper. Tiny Town boasts no navy, but it has a Corsican Sailor, Flumm by name, who saunters round humming "A Life on the Ocean Wave." The giant of the village is Mr. Fred, who at 43 inches, stands head and shoulders over his fellow-townsmen. The adventures of the villagers before their formation into this ideal Commonwealth would fill a volume. They hail from Hungary, Austria, Germany, Italy, Corsica, Broken Hill, Turkey, Melbourne, and America. What a polyglot community! No wonder the mayoral administration of the Terrible Turk is no sinecure. But he is a tactful cosmopolite, and has no intention of being ousted by the ambitious young Huhle. Time flies in Tiny Town, and when the curfew tolled the knell of parting day, the fair Hansi held out her tiny hand with the plaintive invitation, "Wont you come back—soon?"

EAST LYNNE.

The Marlow Dramatic Company on Saturday produced a revised version of East Lynne at the Adelphi Theatre. The story, which is too well known to need repetition, is full of incident, and gives the players plenty of opportunity in fine dramatic situations. The production differs somewhat from the original and includes a realistic stage picture of a railway smash, and the murder of Hallijohn. Miss Louise Hampton as Lady Isabel filled the role satisfactorily, and Miss Harrie Ireland, as Barbara Hare, filled the role well, her acting being distinctly good. Mr. Cecil Mannering, as Archibald Carlyle, a country solicitor, was effective, while Richard Hare was well played by Mr. J. Bannister Howard. Mr. Godfrey Cass made a dignified Lord Mount Severn; and Vera Huggett, a winning child actress, filled the part of Willie Carlyle. Most of the humor fell to Mr. Geo. Stanley as T.C. XXIV.; while Miss Alice Doerwyn, as Cornelia Carlyle, also amused the audience. Mr. Vivian Edwards, as Sir Francis Levison, Mr. R. Stewart Garner, as Justice Hare, Mr. P. Vincent Scully, as Mr. Hallijohn, Miss Maud Anwin, as Suzanne, and Miss Laura Roberts, as Afy Hallijohn, filled minor characters suitably. The scenic settings were from the brush of Mr. Alfred Clint, jun., and Mr. Clint. Judging from the enthusiasm on Saturday night, East Lynne should have a successful run.

IRRITATING PRICKLY-HEAT BANISHED.

ZAM-BUK IS SOOTHING AND HEALING.

"ALWAYS KEEP A POT HANDY."

Mrs. Julia A. Richardson, of First-avenue, St. Peters, Adelaide, says:—"Zam-Buk is a splendid remedy for skin complaints. A rash broke out all over me, which I think was prickly-heat, and lumps came out which were very irritable. While this lasted I could get very little rest, but on using Zam-Buk I was very quickly eased of all irritability, and in a short time by keeping Zam-Buk well applied, had the pleasure of seeing new skin forming. Zam-Buk completely cured me, and now there is no evidence to show where the rash was. We always keep Zam-Buk handy, and use it for cuts, bruises, and abrasions.

"I have also found Zam-Buk to be splendid for neuralgia. I had a severe attack across the forehead and temples, and by rubbing Zam-Buk well into the affected parts obtained great ease. Perseverance with Zam-Buk caused the pain to cease and brought about a complete cure."

Zam-Buk is unequalled for eczema, piles, bad legs, ulcers, ringworm, festering wounds, cuts, burns, bruises, insect bites, prickly-heat, and all skin injuries and disease. Sold by all chemists and stores at 1s 6d and 3s 6d per pot.—Advt.

"A FOOL THERE WAS."

Mr. George Willoughby's English company, which deservedly achieved a considerable reputation throughout Australasia last year with "A Woman in the Case," returned to the Criterion Theatre on Saturday night for a season of lurid domestic melodrama. "A Fool There Was" is a three-act play by Porter Emerson Brown founded upon the vampire verses concerning "a rag, and a bone, and a hank of hair" by Rudyard Kipling, an inspiration sufficient apparently for one or two strong scenes only, and these of an unpleasant character. However, in America "the great vampire play," as it has been called, was undoubtedly successful with Miss Kaelred starring as the wicked woman. This artist supported Julius Knight here five years ago as Maud Marian in "Robin Hood" under the name of "Elbert Orton," and, though very handsome, betrayed no very special dramatic aptitude. For that reason it may be supposed that Sydney audiences are more fortunate in seeing Miss Mabel Trevor in the role; yet it cannot be considered a strong acting part, being too uniformly in the same key. The honours of Saturday's production accordingly fell to Mr. Hugh Buckler, whose vivid suggestion of delirium tremens reminded old playgoers in a more refined manner of Charles Warner's great scene as Coupeau, the tipsy plumber, in Zola's "Drink." At this point the curtain fell upon a note of enthusiasm due to the talent of the artists, who were warmly recalled and presented with flowers—an achievement all the more to their credit because they had had to survive a first act the crudities and disjointed loquacity of which had mightily depressed the audience. Further than this was the general feeling that the sex-problem had not been handled with the reticence due to playgoers in search of an evening's harmless recreation.

The people in the play are identified on the programme, as in a morality drama, by the offices they fill in social life, the Husband, the Wife, the Child, the Sister, the Secretary; but the first of these may be known as John, and the second as Kate, whilst one third, in one of the few smart things of the piece, is playfully referred to as "dupli-Kate." John, who enters his breakfast-room in New York to a burst of pompous music, and leaves it upon his voyage to London as U.S. ambassador "in thunder, lightning, and in rain," like the witness in "Macbeth," is represented as a prosperous politician embosomed in the love of a happy home, and so fortunate that "good things have come his way like a torchlight procession." The second scene shows him taking leave of wife and child on board an ocean liner at the wharf, before which a ghastly tragedy shows the suicide of young Parmalee (Mr. Martyn Keith), who has pursued the Vampire to her cabin-door, and there blows out his brains after hearing once more her contemptuous "Kiss me, my fool!" Realism is added to the horrible episode by the blood upon the deck, which a steward mops up with a bucket and cloth. Thereupon the Vampire, in a fashionable striped silk gown and an alarming hat, and bearing red roses as a badge of vice in place of the camellias introduced in Paris by Marie Duplessi (Marguerite Gautier) nearly a century earlier, reclines upon a lounge-chair covering the stains of her young lover's blood.

The abrupt developments of the action next show John in thrall to the Vampire, wife, child, friends, office, and honour, all gone, and his soul overwhelmed by the despairful misery of his insatiable desire for the woman who has ruined him. This wretchedness was shown with intensity by Mr. Buckler, and there was a strong scene in which Miss Mabel Trevor, as the Vampire, stretched forth her arms in the classic pose made familiar by Mackennal's statue of Circe. In this way the woman lured him to her side with the nauseous words, "Kiss me, my fool!" and compared the white rose as an emblem of pallid, weak, and wistful love, with their own red rose, "the rich, rare, glowing, glorious, pulsing, throbbing love that rushes on the heart like a storm at sea." The appeals of a faithful old friend and the arrival of his child are equally ineffectual in reclaiming the infatuated John, who, in the last act, is shown as a haggard, dejected dipsomaniac. This scene, in which the drink-victim was unable to separate the delusions of his awful dreams from the actualities of life, was pourtrayed with touching realism by Mr. Buckler, whose alternate bursts of feverish energy and utter prostration were true to Nature, whilst throughout he maintained the refinement which belonged to the social status of the sufferer. The painfully morbid story ends with the death of the Vampire—"the man recovered from the bite, the dog it was that died!"—who accidentally drains a poisoned glass with the words "To my fool!"

Mr. Gerald K. Souper played with much spirit the part of the wealthy friend with "a motor-car to smell, a yacht to make his friends sea-sick on, and a club-window to decorate." The actor was happy in his fairy stories to the child (prettily taken by Little Alice Jerrems), and in his forcible remonstrances with the husband; whilst in a long cast Miss Violet Paget was sympathetic as the wife; Miss Jennie Pollock was frank and breezy as the Sister with pronounced views upon Man's inequitable codes of morals; Mr. Harry Halley was excellent as the Butler; and Mr. Arthur Cornell (stage manager), was well in place as the Secretary.

There will be a matinee of "A Fool There Was" on Wednesday next.

"A VILLAGE PRIEST."

"A Village Priest" is a play that in the years that have passed since it was last produced in Sydney has not faded away into obscurity, and its revival at the Palace Theatre on Saturday night, with Mrs. Brough and Mr. Titheradge, in their old parts, vested it with an interest above the ordinary. The Plimmer-Denniston presentation was, so to speak, "A Village Priest" brought up to date. The dresses of the ladies were of the latest. Nothing in skirts could be tighter than that of Mrs. Brough in the third act, and Miss Lizette Parkes' soft-toned costume was of the kind seen every day in Sydney. Consequently it was a little difficult, perhaps, to get Madeline, the elderly housekeeper (Miss Tempe Pigott) altogether in the picture in a kind of compromise on the fashions of long ago. The Abbe, in shovel hat and ecclesiastical black, seemed even a little more apart. These are but hypercritical objections, however; the moral of the play—if there be one—was driven home just as effectively. The tortured brain of the priest, writhing under the seal of the confessional, called for sympathy all the same with the representation in the hands of a masterly exponent; while the sufferings of the countess with Nemesis pressing hard upon her were possibly felt all the more keenly by the feminine mind when that distracted lady was garbed in something exquisite in the prevailing mode. Mr. Titheradge's quiet magnetic strength, his incisive, effortless style, lend themselves beyond compare to the character with which he became so permanently identified in Australia, and even though there was plenty of restraint among the other members of the company, the tendency to staginess of elocution was occasionally apparent by reason of the contrast. Miss Beatrice Day, for instance, seemed held down by the weight of her part as Madame D'Arcay, and gave it in a manner that spoke of another age in stagecraft. The countess and the other ladies were of the present, and there is no reason why the blind woman should not have been of the modern type also; blind people in these times are not so easily detected nowadays by immobility of features and a fixity of attitude throughout varied emotional occurrences. The part is an extremely difficult one, it must be observed, and as a character study it would require the benefit of deep observation to be placed on the stage satisfactorily. Mrs. Brough acted in the trying scenes with Marguerite and Armand in her usual able manner, and all through retained the naturalness that comes of careful practice—that is, as far as it is possible to be natural with such a task. The "Village Priest" is essentially a play that has mental worry in superabundance for nearly all concerned, and the Comtesse de Tremeillan has an extra share. Miss Lizette Parkes, as the daughter, did excellently with what little falls to her lot, and had the benefit of an appearance suited to it. Miss Beatrice Usher, as Marguerite de Tremeillan, was also well suited, and drew the admiration of the audience by her clear and pleasant enunciation. In the scene with the Abbe in his study she avoided the pitfalls of exaggeration that were all around for an unwary performer. Mr. Plimmer was Armand D'Arcay, and, though a little tame at the beginning of the evening, rose to the necessities when the more strenuous scenes came on. Jean Torquenie was allotted to Mr. A. E. Greenaway, who gave the character plenty of force as well as pathos. Mr. Harry Sweeney was the gendarme captain; Mr. Cyril Bell, Francois; and Miss Eva Collins, Nanette. The staging of the piece was thorough, and Mr. Harry Whaite supplied the Abbe with a reposeful setting in which to water his flowers, the effect of the sunlight being well managed.

IT IS CRIMINAL TO NEGLECT THE SKIN AND HAIR.

Think of the suffering entailed by neglected skin troubles—mental because of disfiguration, physical because of pain. Think of the pleasure of a clear skin, soft, white hands, and good hair. These blessings, so essential to happiness and even success in life, are often only a matter of a little thoughtful care in the selection of effective remedial agents. Cuticura Soap and Ointment do so much for poor complexions, red, rough hands, and dry thin and falling hair, and cost so little, that it is almost criminal not to use them. Although Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold throughout the world, a sample of Cuticura Ointment, with 32-page book, will be mailed free on application to R. Towns and Co., Dept. 30 K, Sydney, N.S.W.—Advt.

What is "Golcryst?" The perfect aperient. A combination of Epsom Salts, Senna, Sarsaparilla, Dandelion, Liquorice, and Ginger. 3d, 6d, and 1/ girls.—Advt.

AMUSEMENTS.

HER MAJESTY'S THEATRE.

Crowded houses have followed the introduction by the Royal Comic Opera Company of "The Quaker Girl" at Her Majesty's Theatre, and on Saturday night the picturesquely-staged musical comedy, with its popular "Danse de Champagne" and tuneful songs, was again welcomed with enthusiasm. There will be a matinee on Wednesday.

THEATRE ROYAL.

"The Cingalee" moved brightly at the Theatre Royal on Saturday to the plaudits of a packed house. The love-story of Ceylon and its tea plantations, with the Misses Florence Young, Dorothy Brunton, and Sibyl Arundale, Messrs. W. S. Percy, Talleur Andrews, and Jack Cannot, in the leading characters, provided an abundance of interest and amusement, and encores were frequent. There will be a matinee on Wednesday.

"EVERY WOMAN."

On Saturday week the J. C. Williamson management will stage, for the first time in Sydney, "Every Woman," a modern society play by Walter Browne. This play scored a remarkable New York success, by reason of its symbolism to the dramatic treatment of the pilgrimage of "Every Woman" in quest of love. The play is unusual in every particular, and while it conveys a powerful moral lesson, it is primarily an entertainment having attractive musical numbers—solos, trios, and choruses. The playwright has introduced such characters as Beauty, Youth, Modesty, Conscience, Wealth, Vice, and other influences upon life, all of them having a definite dramatic purpose. The title part will be taken by Miss Hilda Spong, who was specially engaged in America for the role.

TIVOLI THEATRE.

Those who visited the Tivoli on Saturday to see the "Athletas" must have been pleasantly astonished at beholding three such graceful feminine athletes. Their performance is both skilfully and tastefully arranged. The stage setting is of ancient "architecture," and the entire movements of the Athletas are marked by beauty and grace, even when handling the large weighted dumbbell. An extraordinary display of strength was given when one of the trio, with a set of wooden yoke resting across her shoulders, formed a pivot for the circular whirl of four medium-sized men. Two distinguishing features marked the Athletas' turn—one the absence of speech, the other a series of beautiful tableaux poses between each act.

Terry and Lambert continue to amuse their audiences in their brilliant sketches. Other members of the present combination are also appearing with acceptance.

NATIONAL AMPHITHEATRE.

Saturday's programme at the National was characterised by the appearance of several new imported turns. Perhaps the most novel of them was the Haarlem Trio, three Dutch musicians, who exercise their remarkable talents in ensemble on flat-surfaced, three-legged instruments, called xylophones, and also on banjos. The elder of the two youths showed distinguished ability, and perhaps an individual item by him would enhance the interest of this excellent turn. Another success was scored by the Raleighs, the younger of whom at one phase of the act rides a bicycle backwards and forwards upon a pendant wire. The Warne and Octavia pair contribute some uncommon sketches, which culminate in a shrewdly-selected song, entitled "In the smoke, smoke, smoke." May Edythe Taylor presented herself here for the first time in some racy American "talkalogues." Harry Sims, a London comic singer, "showed" himself, and the juggling Kelso Boys and Miss Edith Harmer made reappearances. The rest of the contributors received due appreciation at the hands of the audience.

GRAND THEATRE.

At the Grand Theatre, in Pitt-street, city, the continuous photo. play pictures drew large audiences on Saturday. The star item was an extended film entitled "The Adventures of Cyrano de Bergerac," created by Edmond Rostand, the French playwright. The stirring tale of love and adventure was well screened, and proved an excellent attraction. "Lone Bill's Last Ride," a film abounding in dramatic incidents, was also given.

SPENCER'S PICTURES.

The programme at the Lyceum on Saturday night included "Before Yorktown," an exclusive picture drama portraying the last days of the 1776 revolution, and a splendid topical film illustrating the presentation of medals to the Coronation cadets by the Governor-General. Other pictures were "By Way of Mrs. Browning," "Up and Down," or the humours of an extravagant wife, "The Fishermaid of Ballydavid," a pretty love-story, and "How They Stopped the Run on the Bank."

BRISBANE STRIKE PICTURES.

Moving pictures of the strike will be shown by Spencer's at the Lyceum to-night. The manager is in receipt of a telegram to the effect that the firm's Brisbane cinematographer secured a comprehensive series illustrating the rioting scenes, the police charges, the processions, and the mass meetings.

WEST'S PICTURES.

The excellent programme put before the public at the Glaciarium on Saturday attracted large audiences, both afternoon and evening. At the matinee the children were specially catered for, and they showed their delight with the subjects depicted on the screen by vociferous applause. At the evening session the star film was one entitled "Woman Wins," and in this an entrancing love-story was featured with much graphic and interesting detail. The picture proved to be a popular one, as it made a strong appeal to the sentimental proclivities of the audience. The other films, which included comic, scenic, and dramatic subjects, were all well received.

At the Olympic in Oxford-street, Paddington, a first-rate programme was presented to large audiences at both afternoon and evening sessions on Saturday, and was greatly appreciated.

LYRIC THEATRE.

At the Lyric Theatre on Saturday, an interesting programme of moving pictures was presented, including topical scenes of the world from "Pathe's European Gazette," "Taming a Flirt," and "Australia's Flag in America," depicting the tour of the Australian cadets across the American Continent. The new programme, which commences to-day, includes "An Indian Hero" and "Moonshiner." The first film presents a powerful story of prairie life, and the second concerns the conflict between the keepers of an illicit still and the revenue officers.

COLONIAL NO. 1.

The Colonial Theatre No. 1 presented an attractive picture programme on Saturday, including "The Confessional," an intensely interesting religious story; "The Armourer's Daughter," "Pals," and "The Bread of the Poor," a pathetic drama. The new programme, which will be submitted to-day, includes "The Cabin Boy," in which the audience is carried through a misunderstanding extending over many years.

COLONIAL NO. 2.

The attractions at the Colonial Theatre No. 2 on Saturday night kept a large audience intensely interested throughout a long programme. The chief features of the bill were "St. Francis of Assisi," the life-story of the famous founder of the powerful Franciscan Order; "A Day's Outing at Manly," "Tyrolese Maiden," and "Bill Shoots the Moon," a comic. The new programme, which will commence to-day, has for its star film "Sunshine Through the Dark," telling the story of a poor little house-maid, whose life is that of one driven like a beast of burden.

CITY ORGANIST'S RECITAL.

Mr. Truman gave two very interesting recitals at the Town Hall on Saturday night and yesterday afternoon. On Saturday he was favoured with his usual attentive and appreciative audience, and his artistic treatment of an artistically-arranged programme resulted almost invariably in profound applause. Weber's overture to "Oberon" began the recital, which concluded in grand style with Vorspiel of Wagner's "Parsifal." The rest of the programme was made up of Rubinstein's "Melody in F," the "entry of girls" and "flower" scenes from Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," "Home, Sweet Home" (Thalberg), Sullivan's "Iolanthe" (March of the Peers), Delibes' Valse Lente of L'Escarpolette, and the "Mignon" Romance and Gavotte (Thomas).

VICTORIA THEATRE.

"The Strangler's Grip" is the title of an exclusive photo-play to be screened at the Victoria Theatre to-day. Among other subjects are "Husbands Wanted," a comedy; "A Little Stocking," a story of East and West; and "A Victim of Circumstances." Good incidental music is played during the day.

AMERICAN PICTURE PALACE.

The popularity of the continuous pictures at the show house was evidenced on Saturday night, when many persons were waiting their turn for entrance. "La Jacquerie" was the star film. It was a story of the rising of peasants as far back as 1320. A dramatical subject, "After 50 years," dealing with the Austrian-Italian war, will be screened to-day. The programme includes, amongst many other interesting features, a western cowboy story, entitled "The Outlaw Deputy."

PRINCESS THEATRE.

At the Princess Theatre, opposite the railway station, in George-street, J. C. Bain's advanced vaudeville entertainers gave two performances before packed audiences on Saturday. A strong programme was submitted, and met with hearty approval. A number of new artists made their appearance, and their turns did much to enhance the reputation of the entertainers. These included Jack Kearns, comedian, Vera Kearns, singer and dancer, George Sorlie, specialty comedian, Mabelle, lady dancer, and Thelma, described as "The girl with the educated feet." The other members of the company also maintained the most agreeable relations with their audience.

CORONATION THEATRE.

At the Coronation Theatre, corner of Crown and Cleveland streets, Redfern, two pictorial sessions were held on Saturday, and at each there was a crowded attendance. The principal film, "Under the British Flag," roused the patriotic enthusiasm of the audience, and a love story entitled, "Love in Japan," caused much amusement. A variety of other subjects were also screened with excellent effect.

ALHAMBRA THEATRE.

The popularity of the Alhambra Theatre, Haymarket, was again attested by the crowds which visited it on Saturday, to sample the well-chosen programme of moving picture events submitted by the management. The contest between Fred. Walsh and Jim Driscoll for the lightweight championship of England was amongst the subjects shown, and was watched with interest by a large section of the house. During the present week several new and attractive pictures will be put on the canvas.

MISS FRANCES ROSS.

Miss Frances Ross, who for many years was leading lady in Bland Holt's Company, arrived from Melbourne yesterday to begin a season at the Palace on February 17 under William Anderson's management. It is five years since Miss Ross last appeared in Sydney.

David Jones' Sale

EVERY FRESH WEEK OF OUR SALE MEANS ADDITIONAL ATTRACTIONS ARE OFFERED. FROM THE FIRST IT HAS BEEN OUR DETERMINATION TO CLEAR SURPLUS SUMMER STOCK, AND EACH DAY FINDS THE GOODS LESS IN QUANTITY, WHICH WE MUST CLEAR AT A SACRIFICE, RATHER THAN CARRY INTO STOCK. DISTANT RESIDENTS MAY SHARE IN THE BARGAINS, TOO, AND SHOULD REMEMBER THAT THEY BUY AT CITY PRICES, FOR WE PAY CARRIAGE.——

ON THE LAND.

FARM AND STATION.

SOME ATTRIBUTES OF GOOD MILKING.

Some four years ago, when the "Herald" and "Mail" farm competitions were held, interesting comparisons were afforded in visiting different farms. On one dairy farm down on the South Coast it was noticeable that the farmer had but to walk a little into the paddock, give a call, when in response the herd with one accord started slowly and contentedly moving towards the milking yards. In a sense it was an ideal sight, and spoke volumes as to the methods of the farmer. On another property visited about the same time one could not but feel admiration for the general neatness and complete nature of all equipment, and the abundant signs of good management. But as the afternoon drew on it was time "to bring the cows up," and in a few minutes previous admiration was replaced by disappointment. A couple of boys and three or four dogs raced across the creek to where the cattle were grazing on the side of a hill, and shortly the herd were on the run, jumping and stumbling through bracken and tussocks, dodging or half-falling over fallen timber—for, to make matters worse, the paddock had not been cleaned up. It was hard to understand how an otherwise progressive farmer, who beyond question took a pride in his work (the farmer that does not should get out of the business as quick as he can)—could permit such a wasteful and foolish proceeding. Strange to say, he appeared to see some humour in the process, unconscious perhaps that the fun was costing him money.

One of the first principles of successful dairying consists in handling the cows gently. This applies right through, and it is one of the biggest difficulties in regard to obtaining efficient farm labour. Incidentally, it is one of the reasons why it is profitable to pay the best wages when a good man is obtained, that is, a man with an interest and liking in his work. Men who detest milking never get the best results, which is one of the factors that have a most important bearing on the employment of families with a direct interest in the work, and who gain by the best results being secured. Leaving that aspect for the moment and taking the instance quoted above, it is important that cows in milk should be driven at all times in a kindly, careful manner. They should not be travelled at a faster pace than that which they would voluntarily assume. Let them dawdle and pick if need be in preference to hustling them along—whips and dogs have no place in this business; it is not cattle droving. Haste and excitement acts against full milk yields, while there is the risk of physical injury to the animals in the distortion of udders, etc. If such an understanding can be created as that the cows come when called or follow like sheep, it is certain that the monthly cheque would be more satisfying.

Bringing the cows in properly is the first stage in good milking, and the next is to have sympathetic milkers. Frightened cows will not let down their milk properly, and the rough hand that knocks cattle about is a costly individual to have on a dairy farm. It is for this reason that women are unquestionably the most valuable milkers, and, despite jibes and sneers, the farmer with a family of girls must be regarded as fortunate. There is no necessity for the work to be made too arduous; under proper conditions it is attractive, and certainly healthy. Where there is undue toil laid on young shoulders it is generally necessary to look for economic causes, and is not reason enough to condemn the practice of girls and women milking. Best results being obtained when there is a happy relation between the cow and the milker, a change of milkers is to be avoided it possible. While not the case with all cows, nor to the same extent with all milkers, such change often means a decrease in the quantity of milk obtained. Milking should be done regularly, for it cannot be hoped to secure the highest milk production unless the herd is milked at the same hour every day. Farmers who happen to have the milking done later on Sunday, or any day for some reason, soon notice, if they are keeping records, that not only was the amount given that day lower than before, but there was also a lower yield on the day following. The cow is a highly developed, nervous machine, and requires understanding and attention.

With cows properly handled, and sympathetic milkers beside them, the work should be done cleanly and quickly. Another reason why the unwilling hand is a mistake. No dairy farmer has any excuse for ignorance as to the methods to be followed to ensure cleanliness, thanks to the regulations and the excellent advice furnished by most butter factories, and what is wanted is general recognition that cleanliness is to the direct gain of the farmer. It is no fad. Milk should be drawn with clean hands from clean udders into clean buckets in clean surroundings, and if any of these conditions are lacking, the farmer is injuring himself and the factory he is supplying. Milk should be drawn quickly, as it has an influence on the cow in the manner it yields. Some let down their milk more quickly than others, and this habit may be influenced by the manner in which the milking is done. Everything right through points to the value of having good milkers to deal with the cows, and emphasises the necessity of paying them well. The establishment of a good rate of wages will be the only means of attracting good, reliable men to follow the work, and that is to the material advantage of the farmer. When good wages, compared with other callings, are paid, the farmer can fix a high standard for his hands—to-day, very often, he has to take what he can get, and good milkers are harder and harder to obtain.

The solution of the business may perhaps be found in the general utilisation of milking machines. They have now reached the stage at which it can be claimed that the work is economical and satisfactory, providing a responsible man is in charge of the machines. Where this is the case a revolution is worked in the dairying business, and one that must be appreciated by anyone with a familiar acquaintance with the difficulties connected with it.

TREATMENT OF FRUIT CASES.

Many of the fruitgrowers are complaining of the rough treatment that their returned empty fruit cases are subjected to on the railways. Only a few days ago it is stated that about a thousand returned cases were pitched out at Seven Hills, with the result that quite a tenth of them were smashed. As each case costs the grower from 6d to 1s, and as in some instances the return for the fruit is little more than this, the growers seem to have just cause for complaint if their cases are not properly handled.

TESTING GRAPES.

Some of the more progressive vine-growers in the county of Cumberland nave taken advantage of the fact that they can get their musts examined at the Department of Agriculture free of charge. This privilege is open to all bona-fide vignerons who desire to ascertain the sugar content and acidity of their grapes. A 2lb sample of grapes should be sent to the chemist of the department at George-street North. The grapes will be crushed in the chemist's presses, and the result of the examination sent to the applicant at the earliest possible date.

SHIPMENT OF POTATOES TO QUEENSLAND.

The Department of Agriculture is in receipt of a communication from Queensland intimating that the existence of Irish blight has been much lessened in that State. In fact, the last crop with but two exceptions was entirely free from blight, and in order to clear the State of the disease the inspection is severe, and will be maintained. Consignors who persist in shipping potatoes in old bags run the risk of having their produce returned from New South Wales, even if the potatoes themselves be free from disease.

THE SEASON.

COOMA.—The weather remains warm and dry. Rain is much needed in the district. Grass and water are showing the results of the hot weather. Rabbits are more plentiful than for a long time. It is believed that the drought has driven them from the dry country to that better favoured.

JAMBEROO.—Residents of Fountain Dale Creek complain of shortage of water. Some of the landholders below the dam head have been deprived of water for their dairy herds, and consequently are suffering great loss and inconvenience. The water supply of the district generally is far below the average for some years past.

LISMORE.—The weather continues dry. There are no signs of rain. On some farms stock are dying, and others are very weak.

SINGLETON.—The district generally is feeling the effect of the continued dry weather, and dams and waterholes are beginning to run low. Feed, though dry, is still fairly plentiful, and stock are in good condition. The dry spell is affecting the milk supply, and the quantity of cream is beginning to show a falling-off. This is not very serious so far, but if there should be a continuance of dry conditions the falling off will be very marked. On the other hand, if a considerable fall of rain should occur soon there is likely to be a good autumn season. The local rainfall for last month was only 111 points, as against 511 points for the corresponding month of 1911.

WEST MAITLAND.—At present pastures are rather dry, and the water supply is becoming low in some localities.

WINDSOR.—The orchardists down the river have had a record season. There was never so much fruit before, and the prices obtained have been good. The dry spell has suited those upon the river banks. Some idea may be had of the quantity of fruit marketed when it is stated that eleven boats go down the river weekly, each taking from 2000 to 6000 cases of fruit. As the bulk of this fruit is grown between Wiseman's Ferry and Windsor, a railway from Windsor to Sackville would have had a busy time this season. When it takes eleven boats a week to carry away the fruit, amounting to about 50,000 cases, the claim for railway communication is a strong one.

F. AND S. ASSOCIATION.

MANILLA.—At the annual meeting of the F. and S. Association Mr. H. Stoddart was appointed president, Mr. J. Heywood vice-president, Mr. Wilshire secretary, and Mr. C. Vincent treasurer. Messrs. D. M'Donald and E. Bowman, sen., were appointed delegates to the District Council.

TASMANIAN FRUIT TRADE.

HOBART.—Owing to the difficulty of securing tonnage arrangements for the export of Tasmanian apples to markets abroad have not yet been completed, but indications point to all previous records being broken. Last season the exports to places beyond Australia and New Zealand amounted to 837,467 bushel cases, which was an increase of 200,000 cases on the shipments of 1910. This season's exports are not likely to be less than one million bushels. So far 25 of the largest steamers trading to the Commonwealth have been engaged to load at Hobart. In nineteen of these vessels space has been booked for 655,587 cases. With the exception of 18,000 cases to Germany this quantity goes to the United Kingdom. The quantity that will be shipped in the other six steamers is not definitely known, but will probably be in the neighbourhood of 150,000 cases. In addition another steamer is being negotiated for to carry one hundred thousand cases. Apart from these shipments about half a dozen steamers will carry over 100,000 cases to South America. The steamers engaged include Orient and P. and O. line, Clan Line, White Star, Aberdeen, Blue Funnel, and O. branch line, Federal Houlder Shire, Shaw Savill, and N.Z. Shipping Company, and the German-Australian line. The first shipment will leave Hobart on February 16, and the last on May 13. The steamer Argyleshire will take the biggest shipment, namely 130,000 cases.

DAIRYING.

DENILIQUIN.—At the eleventh half-yearly meeting of the Deniliquin Butter Factory the balance-sheet showed a profit of £378, including a balance of £71 brought forward after deducting £100 for depreciation of plant, £40 for doubtful or bad debts, and £20 honorarium to the first secretary of the company. The average output of butter has been about five tons weekly, and the prices realised 130/ in London, was within 2/ of the top price. Mr. W. Matthews, returning thanks on behalf of suppliers, stated his receipts from the factory for the past 12 months from 20 cows, including three young heifers, was £216. Another supplier, Mr. Walker, said he received £237 for the cream from 25 ungraded cows, neither lot having been artificially fed.

SINGLETON.—At the half-yearly meeting of the Singleton and District Co-operative Society, Ltd., the report showed that the sales amounted during the term to £6120 18s 6d. The total share capital subscribed was £2098 10s, representing 381 shareholders. After providing for interest, at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, on 2016 fully paid-up shares, amounting to £42 5s 1d, 5 per cent. on the profit, £551 14s 3d to reserve fund, a balance of £543 1s 9d remained, out of which the directors recommended that in No. 1 account a bonus of 6d in the £ on grocery, and 1s 6d in the £ on drapery be paid to shareholders, and one-third of above to non-shareholders, absorbing approximately £211, and the balance carried forward. After allowing interest on shares and profits in No. 2 account, a balance of £23 0s 6d remained, out of which it was advised that shareholders be paid 10 per cent. bonus. Messrs. D. Faulkner, J. L. Dimmock, A. Simmons, and J. T. Dunn were re-elected directors for the ensuing six months.

WOLLONGONG.—There has been a decided falling-off in the milk supply during the last few weeks, and, though trade is very brisk, it has been necessary to call in all night's milk that it is possible to get. The local factory has had a falling-off of about 1500 gallons per day in the morning milk, and the milk company is trying hard to get suppliers to send all their night's milk. Messrs. H. Fryer and H. Wilson are moving among the suppliers to supply and send every drop that can be spared, so as not to lose any trade. A good fall of much-needed rain would save the situation.

MEETINGS OF FARMERS.

BOURKE.—At the annual meeting of the Central Australian Pastoral and Agricultural Association the hon. treasurer's report showed a credit balance of £13 3s 4d on the year's operation. The Government subsidy, £45, has not yet been received. It was decided to hold a show next May. The election of officers resulted:—President, Dr. Robert Dey; hon. treasurer, Mr. A. N. Stacy; auditors, Mr. A. Furness.

COOLAMON.—At the annual meeting of the P. and A. Association the reports showed a credit balance of £174 16s 11. Mr. Evan Owen was appointed secretary.

DELEGATE.—At a meeting of the committee of the Delegate P. and A. Society, it was decided, in view of the unfavourable season, for fruit and vegetables, to introduce a number of additional classes in the cattle section. It is expected that the stock sections will be well filled.

WINGHAM.—At the adjourned annual meeting of the Wingham branch of the Farmers and Settlers' Association, the election of officers resulted:—President, Mr. George Andrews; treasurer, Mr. H. L. G. Moore; secretary, Mr. A. Cameron. Collectors were appointed to canvas various centres of the district for subscriptions. It was also resolved to ask Mr. L. O. Martin to deliver an address at Kimbriki. The question of running two candidates for the stock board at the next election was discussed, and it was decided that preliminary steps be taken in that direction. The department informed the association that the matter of establishing an experimental farm at Wingham could not now be gone into, as no funds were available.

YIELD OF WOOL.

COROWA.—From returns furnished to the Corowa Stock Inspector by local flock owners it is shown that the average return of wool from 155,479 sheep and 50,607 lambs was:—Sheep, 9lb 4oz; lambs, 2lb 14oz. This is higher than for many years past.

EGG RECORD.

BATHURST.—Mr. C. Armstrong, of Raglan, has ten Indian runner ducks, from which he has gathered 1600 eggs this season. The best week for the season gave a total of 69 eggs, just one egg short of establishing a record of an egg per day for each duck for that week.

PROPOSED EXPERIMENT FARM.

COOMA.—A meeting of members of the Monaro Race Club has agreed to offer the site of the present racecourse to the Department of Agriculture for the purposes of an experiment farm. Another site has been selected for a racecourse. The meeting decided to give up the present course provided an area of 533 acres be vested in the trustees, the area securely fenced, the track placed in good order for racing, and all improvements removed from the present racecourse and re-erected where directed on the suggested site, and that the work be completed without any expense to the race club.

FRUIT EXPORT SPACES.

HOBART, Saturday.

A deputation waited on the Minister of Customs to support the request for a Royal Commission to inquire into the fruit export trade. Major Topman, fruitgrower, said he tried to get space in the Orient steamers last October, and was referred to a certain firm. As a free born Englishman, he could not understand why he could not get what he wanted by paying for it. Monopoly was against the Australian law.

The Minister: You have quoted absolutely the weakest case. The Orient Company refused to make an agreement with the firm, and held space open for growers. The fact was advertised, and not a single grower came forward to take the place.

Several speakers urged the usual arguments in favour of a commission.

The Minister said if it were appointed it would by no means be confined to the question of fruit export spaces, which were really minor matters. Fruitgrowers could surely deal with these themselves by co-operating. The Premier's conference had asked for a general inquiry, and the Cabinet would consider the matter very seriously.

WOLLONGONG SHOW.

MINERS' DAY.

FINANCIAL SUCCESS.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

WOLLONGONG, Saturday.

The Wollongong show concluded on Saturday. The weather for the three days was all that could be desired, and as a result the attendance and takings were a long way ahead of those of last year. To-day the gate receipts amounted to £137 17s 6d, as compared with £74 for the concluding day of the show of 1910. The first and second days' takings were also ahead. The third day at Wollongong is recognised as miners' day, and as there is always a record gathering a capital ring programme is provided. The big attraction was the £15 handicap steeplechase, on the Wollongong racecourse, and ending in the showground. The distance was about two miles, those in the event being Miss English's Middlesex, Mr. R. Spinks' Herne Boy, and Ball Bros.' Blue King. At the first jump Blue King fell, unseating his rider. A very fine contest then took place between the remaining two horses, but a couple of hundred yards from the winning post Herne Boy looked a sure winner. He was leading by about 10 lengths, and in galloping through the crowd to finish in the ring the clapping caused the animal to swerve off, with the result that, amidst intense excitement, Middlesex rushed in, and won the prize by one of the narrowest margins possible. The Wollongong Hunters' Plate was another exciting event, after a splendid tussle, Miss English's Willeroo coming out victorious, with 177 points, the same owner's Middlesex being second, with 176, and Mr. J. Chittick's Aide-de-Camp third, with 163.

In the competition for pit horses, Mr. J. Phillips, of Mount Keira, was the chief competitor, horses in his team winning all the prizes. The judges, Messrs. Sowden (Bathurst) and Murray (Conjola), remarked that in Mr. Phillips' string of 14 they found some of the finest class of working horses it had been their pleasure to adjudicate upon. The prize-winning cattle in the ring parade were greatly admired. Mr. J. B. Thomson's Rufus, the champion Jersey bull and grand champion dairy bull of the show, stood out prominently. The judges of Jerseys acclaimed one of the animals of this breed as the best dairy bull on the ground.

The Illawarra Commonwealth Electorate Hunter's Plate was won by Miss English's Middlesex, with Mr. J. Chittick's Aide-de-Camp filling second place. Miss Ethel Carr, of Unanderra, had the unique record of winning the three musical stalls events. Mr. J. M. Madden's Tasman, driven by L. Mitchell, won the open trotting handicap in fine style from Chesterwood, Valour, and some of the best local horses. In the £15 open trot Tasman also ran second to F. Jones' Black Forest, after a most exciting finish. Results were as follows:—

Pony gelding or mare, in harness: Jolliffe Bros., 1; A. Grace, 2. Pair horses in harness: Amerra Box. Pony, 12½ hands: Jolliffe Bros., 1; A. Grace, 2. Gent.'s hackney: L. Miner, 1; J. P. Phillips, 2. Equestrienne: Mrs. R. Elliott, 1; Mrs. J. Phillips, 2. Grocer's turnout: M. Connaghan, 1; T. Marks, 2. Baker's turnout: C. Towle and Co., 1; T. Chapman, 2. Butcher's turnout: A. Lang, 1; W. M'Kenzie, 2. Milk vendor's turnout: A. Taylor. Pair buggy horses: R. Osborne. Musical stalls: Ethel Carr, 1; Mrs. Elliott, 2. Single buggy horse: L. Miner, 1; Ball Bros., 2. Lady driver: Mrs. Elliott, 1; Mrs. Broer, 2. Melon race: J. Chittick, 1; A. Cook, 2. Lady rider over hurdles: Mrs. Elliott. Open handicap trot: A. L. Mitchell's Tasman, 1; Ball Bros.' Charlie B, 2. Musical stalls for girls under 16 years: Ethel Carr, 1; M. Davies, 2. Illawarra Commonwealth electorate hunters' plate: Miss English's Middlesex, 1; J. Chittick's Aide-de-camp, 2. Lady's harnessing and unharnessing competition: Mrs. Broer. Gelding or mare between 14 and 14.2 hands, in harness: S. Parsons. Pony turnout under 14 hands: Jolliffe Bros. Tooth's trotting handicap: M. Creagan's Era, 1; J. Turner's Berry's Maid, 2. Mare or gelding driven in sulky: Ball Bros., 1; H. Woods, 2. Gent.'s 14st hackney: J. Phillips, 1; Miss M. English, 2. All-round horse or mare: L. P. Miner, 1; Miss English, 2. Pony jump, 14 hands and under: T. J. Musgrave, 1; Mrs. Broer, 2. Pony trot, under 14 hands, one mile: C. M'Glinchey, 1; J. Turner, 2. Pit horse or mare: J. Phillips' Dart, 1; J. Phillips' Rose, 2. Pit horse or mare, 14.2 or under: J. Phillips' Rose, 1; J. Phillips' Drabble, 2. Stock horse, to be ridden by stockman with aft whip: J. Phillips, 1; W. H. Cook, 2. Sporting sulky turnout, driven by owner: Ball Bros., 1; J. Townsend, 2. Lady driver between obstacles: Mrs. J. Phillips, 1; Mrs. Elliott, 2. Melon race: F. Cook, 1; J. Cook, 2. Open trot, 1½ mile: F. Jones' Black Forrest, 10s behind, 1; A. L. Mitchell's Tasman, 7s behind, 2. Miner's turnout: A. J. Grace. Musical stalls: Ethel Carr. Pony turnout: J. Townsend. Flat race for ponies 13.1 and under (non-prize winners): H. Allen, 1; W. H. Cook, 2. Equestrienne, under 17 years: Ethel Carr and Daphne Phillips divided first and second prizes. Equestrienne, under 12 years: Ilene Phillips, 1; Dorothy Phillips, 2. Light buggy horse (non-prize winner): Ball Bros., 1; F. Brownlee, 2. Hackney (non-prize winner): P. Buchanan, 1; P. Lindsay, 2. Miner's family turnout: L. Crofton, 1; T. O'Neil, 2. Musical stalls for gentlemen: A. Cook, 1; F. Ball, 2. Steeplechase: Miss English's Middlesex, 1; R. Spinks' Herne Boy, 2; Ball Bros.' Blue King, 3. Hunters' plate: Miss English's Willeroo, 1; Miss English's Middlesex, 2; J. Chittick's Aide-de-camp, 3.

In the milk test for cow having regard to quality and quantity of milk the contest, as shown by the results, was as near equal as could possibly be. The results were: Alexander Bros' Iva, 28.5lb milk, test 4.7, commercial butter 1.509, first; J. B. Thomson's Jersey, Pansy II., 29.0lb milk, test 4.6, commercial butter 1.502, second.

For the group of Illawarra cattle Alexander Bros. were awarded first prize, and J. W. Gorrell second. For best group of cattle, any breed, C. Lamond was first, and Alexander Bros. second. For bull and progeny, consisting of five head under 3 years, C. Lamond was awarded first and J. W. Gorrell second prizes.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

BLACKTOWN.—The price of fruit compares very favourably with that of last season, and Cumberland orchardists suffered less loss in waste, as the fruit fly has been extremely rare. But the crops generally of stone fruits are 30 per cent. less than last year's. Plums suffered most from sunburn, while the birds (parrots, crows, and starlings) accounted for the balance of unmarketable fruits.

FORBES.—Wheat carting to the local station and flour mills is now in full swing. During the week 6675 bags were delivered at the station. Mr. T. P. Clark has received 22,000 bags at his mill, and Messrs. J. B. Reymond and Sons 10,000 bags. The estimated average yield of 10 bushels to the acre throughout the district has been well maintained, notwithstanding that damaging rains fell just at harvest time. On some holdings at Bandon, particularly Mr. M. E. Newell's, the crop was cutting 22 bushels, and this on new ground, too. In not a single instance where fallowing was adopted, was there a failure in the crop. In fact, in each case a payable yield was gathered, notwithstanding the extremely dry winter and spring.

KANGAROO VALLEY.—Light showers fell a week ago, reviving the maize crops wonderfully. Steady, soaking rain is needed. The river was never known lower in the autumn. The winter prospects are serious.

MUDGEE.—The dry weather has considerably affected the corn crops. In some parts of the district the early corn is a failure, while the late corn needs rain badly. The potato crops so far are doing well, but if the present weather continues they also will be a failure.

OTFORD.—The continued absence of rain has caused a great change in the appearance of the country here. The paddocks are practically devoid of grass and water, and for domestic purposes is very scarce. The crops are beyond recovery, even if rain came now. Bush fires have been very prevalent. The Port Hacking River is simply a chain of water-holes.

WATER IN MILK.

NOT UP TO STANDARD.

At the Central Summons Court, Charles Hobson, proprietor of the Coogee Aquarium, was fined £20, with the alternative of three months' imprisonment, on an information by Inspector A. Kench, charging him with selling milk not up to the requisite standard. The deficiency of fat, as shown by the analyst's report, was 26.60 per cent., and added water amounted to 29.3 per cent. Defendant, against whom there was a previous conviction, expressed the opinion that he had been the victim of a joke. At the time the milk was sold he was absent from the State, and cans of milk were sometimes placed in the hall, when there was no room for them in the shop.

RIFLE SHOOTING.

GRADE COMPETITIONS.

BIG SCORES AT RANDWICK.

The M.D.R.A. grade competitions were advanced another stage at Randwick on Saturday, when the fourth round was fired. The weather conditions were good, and fine shooting was recorded at all the ranges, notably at 1000 yards, where the A grade work was effected.

A number of clubs also turned up for private matches, and in their case also good totals were put on. A double possible was obtained by Petty Officer Flukes, of the Commonwealth Naval Reserves, at the 800 and 900 yards; while Captain M. Purser and Private Baldwin (St. George's) returned with full scores at 200 and 300 yards. Details of the shooting are:—

GRADE COMPETITIONS.

A GRADE, 10 shots at 1000 yards.

Yorkshire defeat North Sydney.—Yorkshire: H. B. Johnson, 45; J. J. Hammond, 44; F. Tetley, 43; J. Garnett, 42, N. G. Stead, 41; E. Garnett, 41; J. L. Waddell, 37; E. B. Barber, 34. Total, 327. TRADES AND LABOUR.

THE ACTORS' UNION.

The Actors' Union held a meeting at the rooms of the Professional Musicians' Club, yesterday. It was decided to take action against a metropolitan manager under the provisions of the Federal Arbitration Act, respecting the dismissal of a member of the union. It was decided that the resignation of the members who had forwarded notice of resignation could not be accepted, as a case before the Arbitration Court was pending. It was decided that the entrance fee after March 1 be £5. It was decided that the union should be represented on a conference of the Musicians' Union, the Theatrical Employees' Union, and the Australian Vaudeville Artists' Union, with a view to bringing a council of these bodies into existence.

Mr. J. S. Ryan, the president of the union, writes that the fact that members of the union were unable to secure engagements, owing to the managers refusing to engage them unless they resigned from the union, was one of the matters complained of.

RAILWAY WORKERS.

The members of the wages board which is inquiring into the conditions of the railway workers and general labourers visited Moree last week, and inspected the railway line and the tunnel on the second section of the North Coast Railway. They have returned to Sydney, and have left for Yanco and Barren Jack. When the board returns the award will be made.

Whilst at Moree the secretary of the Railway Workers' Union, Mr. Dan O'Sullivan, who accompanied the wages board, had numerous complaints made in regard to the water supply, and found that the water was very bad, and was conveyed to the men in open troughs. Representations have been made in regard to the matter.

STRAW HATMAKING BOARD.

The sittings of the Hatmaking Board are drawing to a conclusion. The board has been sitting during the last three months, in which time 19 sittings have been held, and at the last sitting held at the Central Police Court, Mr. Lewis, on behalf of the employers, stated that he could assure the board that the employers' case would close in two sittings at the outside.

BOOT TRADE EMPLOYEES.

The Boot Trade Employees' Federation has prepared claims to be placed before the new wages board.

RAILWAY AND TRAMWAY ASSOCIATION.

At the forthcoming conference of the Amalgamated Railway and Tramway Association there is likely to be a keen discussion on various events of the past year.

In the nomination for general secretary of the association two nominations have been submitted—those of Mr. J. H. Catts (who now occupies the post) and Mr. T. S. Crawford, M.L.A. Mr. J. H. Catts is also a nominee for the position of president.

FIRE BRIGADES' UNION.

Captain Dakin, the secretary of the Fire Brigades' Union, says that the grievances of the Broken Hill brigade have not yet been adjusted, and the men are likely to take drastic action on the 9th instant. Captain Dakin complained about the offhand and dilatory manner in which the whole matter had been treated by the Government.

POSTAL ELECTRICIANS.

The formation in Sydney of the Postal Electricians' Union has caused consternation in the ranks of the Electrical Trades-union, a number of the members of which are employed in the postal service. A special meeting of the union is to be held to consider the position. The new union has secured a membership of 300.

DEATH OF MR. N. G. WATKINS.

Mr. Nathaniel G. Watkins, for years one of the best known figures in trades-union circles, died in Sydney Hospital on Friday night. He was a prominent member of the Typographical Association, and was for 20 years connected with the Eight-hours movement, and during the past ten years acted as treasurer to the Eight-hours Committee. He was also a trustee of the Labour Council, and an officer of the Trades Hall Association.

CATTLE DOG AND SHEEP DOG CLUB.

SUCCESSFUL PARADE.

The members of the Cattle Dog and Sheep Dog Club of New South Wales attracted an excellent collection of working dogs on Saturday afternoon, when over 50 kelpies and cattle dogs mustered at Mr. Oldham's grounds, Leichhardt, to compete for bits of blue, red, and yellow ribbon. The only cash prizes were two of half a guinea each for the best representatives of the two breeds.

About 200 visitors attended the parade. Among them were Mr. Henry Lord (president of the club), Miss A. Mackay (hon. secretary), Mrs. Lord, Mrs. Tovey, Mrs. Cunningham, Messrs. Walther, Oldham, Bryan, and Macnamara.

The judges were:—Mr. Kaleski (cattle dogs) and Mr. Tancred (sheep dogs), and their awards were well received.

During the intermission for afternoon tea (provided by Mrs. Lord), Mr. Lord proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. G. Oldham for giving the club the use of his grounds.

QUINN (nee Beahan).—In loving memory of our dear mother, Ellen Quinn, who departed this life February 5, 1910, aged 59 years.

The grief was bitter, the loss severe,
To part with her we loved so dear.
It was so sad; well, it should be so,
By His command we all must go.
We loved her; yes, no tongue can tell
How deep, how dearly, and how well.
So He loved her, too, and thought it best
To take her home with Him to rest.

THE BRISBANE STRIKE.

"I am delighted with the way in which the men are behaving in very trying circumstances, and long may they continue to do so." Such was the summing up of the position at Brisbane made by Mr. Fisher to our Melbourne correspondent. Now what is it that so delights the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth? Is it the fact that one of the State capitals has been virtually converted into a state of siege by these splendidly behaving men? Or does Mr. Fisher more particularly approve of a strike committee having for the moment wrested the reins of government from the hands of the properly-constituted authorities, and compelled ordinary law-abiding citizens, who are in no way concerned with the dispute, to crave its permission to carry on their ordinary avocations, and crave in vain? Or, perhaps, Mr. Fisher's delight has its main origin in the fact that the sick and dying in the Brisbane hospitals cannot be supplied with fresh meat, nor get ice this sultry weather, unless the permission, not of the Government, but of an usurping strike executive be first obtained. Thousands of women and children are crying out for sustenance in the midst of plenty, for hundreds of tons of meat is beginning to become corrupt in the refrigerated stores, and thousands of bags of potatoes are becoming heated and rotten in the ships' holds. A small section of the community in the northern capital has so hung up all enterprise that a much more numerous class is unable to earn a livelihood, and if they are not peculiarly favoured, will soon feel the pangs of hunger. The trains that should be carrying food to the city have been disorganised, the ferry services have virtually stopped, the market for the produce of the country has been cut off, and all this has resulted from the wanton action of men who have earned the thanks and approbation of the King's chief adviser in the Commonwealth. It is true that Mr. Fisher qualified his statement, saying that it was his personal and not his official opinion. But in matters such as this there can be no partition. While Mr. Fisher is Prime Minister he cannot dissociate himself from his position, and hold one opinion in his private, and another in his public, capacity. Mr. Fisher evidently sympathises with the view expressed early in the struggle by Labour leader Bowman, that the unions must show that it is they who rule the country and no one else.

The trouble at Brisbane has now ceased to be one affecting a few tramway men. It is one affecting the whole community. The question now is as to whether the Government is to rule or a tyrannical coterie, who, through the control they exert over some of the common services, have been enabled to temporarily arrogate to themselves a despotic and irresponsible authority. We do not believe that the present struggle will be of long duration, because we do not believe that the public at large will for long tolerate such a flagrant usurpation of authority, and one exercised in a way so calculated to imperil the general weal. If the idea of those responsible for this upheaval is to injure the capitalist class, then it is a silly idea, for the injury wrought on the wealthy is as nothing when compared to that inflicted on the working classes and small traders. The former can easily leave, as they are already leaving, the scenes of disorder, and quietly await the restoration of order and the rehabilitation of reason. The latter, on the other hand, must remain and listen to the cries of their starving children, or see their little possessions becoming encumbered with debt, if not absolutely lost. Hundreds of thousands sterling will be lost to the State, which has already to face one of those periodical dry times that no man can control. If securities depreciate as the result of the uncertainty and confusion, or through the panic-stricken fears of small holders, the rich men of the community will at a later date be able to purchase them at a discount, whereas they would at present have to pay a premium. Strikes like these may be injurious to all classes, but they are particularly detrimental to the very class that is responsible for bringing them about. It would be well that Mr. Fisher and his colleagues should more fully realise this, then they might be more prompt in their endeavours to maintain order at all hazards, even at the risk of incurring some little disfavour at the hands of the more rampant of trades-unionists and those who sympathise with them. In maintaining order the Government acts for no class, but for all. Without order we have anarchy and mob rule, which is subversive of constitutional government, whether it be one whose policy is a Labour one or otherwise.

THE MILITARY AND THE STRIKE.

The terms on which the control of the military forces was transferred from the several States to the Commonwealth are strictly defined by the Constitution. The Commonwealth has the sole power to make laws for the army or navy, and the Department of Naval and Military Defence is one of the departments which has to be taken over on a date proclaimed by the Governor-General. It is further enacted that a State shall not, without the consent of the Parliament of the Commonwealth, raise or maintain any military force. So far, then, the States are left without any means of protection other than those which they may be able to obtain from their own police. A further section, however, was passed which was intended to give them securities equal, or more than equal, to those which they enjoyed before federation, and would have done so had Mr. Fisher and his colleagues the courage and the loyalty to respect the law. Section 119 provides that "the Commonwealth shall protect every State against invasion, and on the application of the Executive Government of the State against domestic violence." It has been suggested that a section of the Defence Act of 1903 leaves some doubt as to which authority is to judge whether domestic violence exists or not. But the Defence Act merely prescribes the formalities with which, and the circumstances under which, the rules laid down by the Constitution are to be exercised. The Constitution, which is the ultimate authority, overriding or interpreting all Acts of Parliament, makes it clear what the law is, and that it is in accordance with the dictates of common-sense. Just as the Commonwealth Parliament is to judge whether at any time it is expedient for a State to raise independent permanent forces of its own, so the State Ministry is to judge whether in an emergency military assistance is necessary.

The wisdom of such a provision is as obvious now as it must have been to the men who founded the Constitution. It is absurd to suppose that a Government sitting in Melbourne can be expected to decide whether domestic violence exists in a city separated by a two days' journey. It is the executive holding office by the authority of the people of a State that are best able to come to a decision, having all the circumstances of the case before them. Because they are on the spot the Constitution has given them the power to apply, and has said that the Commonwealth "shall," not "may," come to their assistance. Mr. Fisher has apparently put his refusal on the ground that, in his opinion, there is either no disorder, or none with which the Queensland police are unable to cope. It may be pointed out that even if there had been no application or no open violence it would still have been the duty of the Commonwealth to intervene to provide for the safe carriage of the mails, as the United States Government was compelled to do in the time of President Cleveland. It is unquestionable that the mails are being delayed through the intimidation of the strikers. The trains cannot be run at night, and the trams, which are used to collect letters in Brisbane, cannot be run at all. But if it were relevant there should be ample evidence of violence to satisfy the Prime Minister of the necessity of Mr. Denham's application. It may be that the police, being under the command of a leader of courage and resource, are able to check any open riot. But clearly they are not able to preserve one of the first requisites of life in a civilised community, the right of men and women to go about their legitimate business in peace. They are not able to prevent the arbitrary assumption of power by a few men who are ready to defy the law, in the making of which every citizen has a share. We were recently informed of the order of the Hobart Conference, that the military forces should never be employed during the progress of a strike. We now see the disgraceful spectacle of a Prime Minister and a Privy Councillor setting this resolution above the fundamental law which he has sworn to obey.

THE PERSIAN SETTLEMENT.

The news to hand by cable of the approaching completion of an arrangement that will end the Persian difficulty is good news. For the Persian difficulty is eminently an international situation, involving grave danger. Mishandled, as Sir Edward Grey said recently, it would disappear as a Persian question and emerge as a matter concerned with far greater issues of policy. The arrangement now spoken of suggests that there is to be no mishandling, that a plan of operations acceptable to all parties has been hit upon, and that the regeneration of Persia, which recent events threatened to set back indefinitely, has once more its chance of becoming a fact accomplished. The basis of the new arrangement is the Anglo-Russian agreement of 1907, Persian recognition of which is mentioned as a preliminary to the constructive programme in view. The Anglo-Russian agreement has reference mainly to interests possessed in Persia by both countries. Those interests are largely concerned with frontier railways, and a vital part of the agreement is its guarantee of preservation of the frontier rights of both countries. The existing predominance of Russia in the north, and of Britain in the south, was also secured. At the same time Persia was assured that no attempt upon her independence was in the mind of either country, but that both desired to rescue a disorganised kingdom from the chaos into which it had fallen. The recent crisis probably had its origin in the establishment of Russian troops at Tabriz for the protection of trade interests. When the ex-Shah was expelled, friction arose between the two countries, and the disorder of the past few months was merely its logical outcome. There was, naturally, but one result possible from continued friction between Russia and Persia, if it should be left to develop into a conflict. The relations between Britain and Russia, however, have effectually prevented that.

Russia made three demands upon Persia as a result of the recent disturbance, and those demands were officially submitted to Great Britain, and have had the close consideration of the Foreign Office. The first was for the dismissal of Mr. Shuster, the Financial Adviser to the Persian Government. The second was that Britain and Russia should be consulted by Persia in any appointment of foreign advisers; and the third was that Persia should pay Russia an indemnity in respect of the recent trouble. Sir Edward Grey suggested a few weeks ago, in the House of Commons, that Britain had no objection to the first two demands, in regard to which, indeed, strong reasons existed for their acceptance. The third was more difficult, because in the first place Persia has no money, and therefore cannot pay an indemnity, and, in the second place, any pressure upon her would lead to trouble in Britain's sphere in the south, where it is imperative that the trade routes be safeguarded. Armed forces have to be maintained there by Persia, and the difficulty is that a sum of money raised for Russia would be raised at the expense of the southern roads. However, Russia was not expected to press the indemnity claim unduly. In point of fact, negotiations in hand two months ago suggested that the recommendations of the British Foreign Office would be accepted by Russia. This morning's cablegram confirms that suggestion, for the joint constructive policy therein mentioned, and the loan, and the emphasis upon the Anglo-Russian agreement, were all embodied in a British memorandum to the Russian Government. There can be no doubt that proposals will be accepted, for there can be no doubt that only by co-operation between Russia and Britain can the frontier interests of each be preserved. Only thus, moreover, is internal order likely to emerge from the Persian chaos, and only thus, when all is said and done, has Persia any chance of preserving its independence.

SOUTH AUSTRALIAN ELECTIONS

In a few days now the fate of Labour in South Australia will be decided, and very great interest is being taken in the struggle. Both sides are making a desperate fight, which becomes, in effect, an inter-state dispute when the prominent Labour leaders of the Commonwealth hearken to the cry from Macedonia to come to the help of the now hard-pressed Verran regime. The quarrel with the Council has not proved the popular "draw" it was expected to be; and it is quite as likely as not to turn out to have been a fatal mistake. For both Houses there are 89 candidates for 47 seats, and they seem to be pretty well divided as to their fighting weight. The moral advantage on the eve of battle, however, lies with the Liberals, who for the first time for years have come forward to contest every electorate. The Liberal election gatherings, too, are said by impartial critics to have been more solidly enthusiastic than those of the socialists, and from a few expressions dropped by Mr. Verran it seems that he is by no means confident of victory. Much, however, will depend upon what happens to the floating vote, which is particularly large in the Torrens district. None the less, the Liberal Union organisation has made wonderful progress in the country in the past year or two, and it is quite likely to reap its reward now. The real issue lies in the proved incompetence of the Verran Ministry to carry on in anything like a satisfactory fashion. It is at the mercy of its underlings, and of agitators, and its undertakings have been largely controlled from the bottom, and not from the top. The resulting demand for more expenditure and more taxation is what will send the Verran Government to its grave if anything can.

As to the quarrel with the Council, which is the pivotal point of the campaign, it is, of course, absolutely inexcusable. The Verran Ministry simply went to the Council and stood over it with a bludgeon while it passed each and all of the proposals presented to it. Very fortunately the Council refused to be intimidated. It has manfully done its duty, and in doing it it has aroused Liberal enthusiasm to fever heat throughout the country. Mr. Verran has, in fact, over-reached himself, and the result is likely to be a blow for Labour in more places than one. All the indications just now seem to be that we may soon expect a general reaction against Labour tyranny. Our own Parliament will meet in a few days after the South Australian elections, and that may provide a sufficiently unpleasant omen for Mr. M'Gowen. When the last echoes of the labour war in Brisbane have died away there is sure to be left behind a bitter legacy of hate for unionism, and all its works, so that for some years to come it is possible that Labour will not gain strength in the northern State. All this reacts upon Labour in the Commonwealth, and incidentally upon Mr. M'Gowen. The fact is that the gross incompetence of Labour cannot be concealed. Its sins are like a city set on a hill, they cannot be hid. As a consequence it is only by the most desperate devices that the Labour movement is kept going in politics; and that very desperation constitutes the greatest of the dangers that we now have to face.

The Americans' Show.—The Premier (Mr. M'Gowen) satisfied himself when he was away on the other side of the world recently that the Briton is "not so far behind the rest of the world" in the matter of push and energy. He put it that way on Saturday in a speech he made on the occasion of the laying of the foundation-stone of the New South Wales Football League's grand stand on the new ground at Alexandria. He believes that although the American makes more show, the Britisher "gets there" just as strongly, firmly, and surely. He told the audience a story to illustrate the energy of the former in making the "show," at all events. It was of an insurance manager from England who told an insurance manager in an office in New York that his company settled and paid claims within 24 hours after the death of the insured. The reply of the American insurance expert was: "There are 30 stories in this building; we're on the third. About six months ago a man fell from the top floor. He was insured with us. We handed him his cheque out of the window as he was passing on his way down."

The Burden of Pensions.—In the course of an interview with the Minister for Public Instruction (Mr. Flowers) on Saturday, while the matter of superannuation was being discussed by a deputation of school teachers, it was mentioned that the latter were in favour of a limit to pensions of £300 a year. This, of course, carries the contingency that the contributions should also be limited to what would provide that amount. The Minister was pleased to hear this view, and in reference thereto spoke of one high office in the State which has now no less than three pensioners attached to it, each drawing £1000 per annum.

Statistics of Generosity.—The charitableness of the public has now been reduced to an exact science. The community can no longer rest in the unctuous satisfaction that its charity is concomitant with its increase in population. Facts show it to be otherwise, at least so far as many of the metropolitan suburbs are concerned. One of the best, if not the best, indexes to public generosity is found in the balance-sheets of the local cottage hospitals, and this year, unfortunately, many of them show a lamentable decline. The opinion, expressed by Mr. H. B. Allard at the annual meeting of the Western Suburbs Cottage Hospital, that subscriptions were not keeping pace with the rapid growth of population, has been echoed at several other hospital meetings. Generosity seems to be one of those indefinable attributes of the human character, and possesses an uncertainty of expression which proves most disconcerting to the administration of the finances of voluntary-supported institutions. Like suicide, it visits a community in varying degrees of intensity, and, following the practice of the proverbial policeman, appears at unexpected times and places, but is seldom found when wanted. During the last two or three years money has been urgently required by many hospitals; new wings have had to be built to meet the growing needs of an increasing population, and the indoor and outdoor demands on the resources have in some cases almost doubled; but, according to a large number of the annual reports, the generosity of the public has shown peculiar adamantine properties, which prevent the numerical strength of the subscriptions keeping abreast of the augmentation in population.

Sailing Man's Record.—Few sailing men can equal the record of W. J. Duncan, jun., who, by his win on Botany Bay on Saturday in the 16ft skiff championship with Unique, completed eight wins out of ten starts within the past three months. Duncan, who is a Botany fisherman, has already made a name for himself in the 14ft Australasian champion (Rene), having won seven championships and handicaps (from scratch each time) in succession. Rene's win this season include two test races for Australasian representation for the St. George fleet, the Botany Bay championship and Stuart shield, the Australasian championship, the double for "fourteens" at the Anniversary Regatta, and a private match against Lavina on Sydney Harbour. Prior to the interstate championship Duncan had not sailed in Sydney Harbour over the lightship course, and his success is looked upon as remarkable. Hopes are entertained that he will at no distant date be found among the crack "eighteens" on Sydney Harbour.

A Police Union.—A union of policemen, to be conducted on modern trade-union lines, is said to be projected in Sydney, and suggests no end of extraordinary and absurd possibilities in the event of a strike occurring, as a result of which law and order might be threatened. A police union of the kind spoken of would necessarily be allied with the Trades Hall, and as faithful unionists they would be liable to be called out in sympathy with any industrial outbreak. It is claimed by those who are interesting themselves in the matter that policemen have as much right to combine as tramway employees or railway servants, the fact being lost sight of that these latter are engaged in industrial services merely, whereas the duties of the police force consist entirely in maintaining law and order. The matter of the proposed union of policemen has got to the stage of having been mentioned at the Political Labour League conference, a resolution being carried calling upon the Government to consent to the formation of such a union.

CAPITAL COMPETITION.

TWO JUDGES APPOINTED.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Minister for Home Affairs (Mr. O'Malley) announced to-day the names of two members of the Expert Board which is to adjudicate on the Federal Capital designs. The members selected to date are:—Mr. James Alexander Smith, president of the Institute of Civil Engineers, Victoria; and Mr. J. M. Coane, surveyor, of Melbourne.

The Minister stated that the surveyors and engineers nominated Lieut.-Col. P. T. Owen, Director-General of Federal Public Works, and Mr. C. S. Scrivener, principal surveyor in the department. As both gentlemen are in the department, it was decided not to appoint them, as the Government was resolved to keep the board above all suspicion of departmental influence. The Minister is now considering the appointment of an architectural member on the board. Up to to-day 164 designs have been received. The Vice-Consul for Sweden has informed the Minister that a large number of designs from architects of that country were due to arrive, and the Minister agreed to extend the time to receive them until after the parcel post had been delivered.

NAVAL CONSTRUCTION.

N.S.W. GOVERNMENT'S POSITION.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

Further reference was made to-day by the Minister for Defence (Senator Pearce) to the delay of the New South Wales Government in connection with naval construction. He said that the time was now approaching when the Commonwealth would have to demand a reply as to the intentions of the New South Wales Government to build ships or otherwise. At the same time, Federal Ministers had thought it was reasonable to give the State Government sufficient time for its decision. The action which had been taken by the Commonwealth Government had been largely guided by Admiral Henderson's recommendation that existing docks should be used for the first seven years of naval development.

GERMAN PIPES.

IMPORTED BY LABOUR GOVERNMENT.

PERTH, Saturday.

The Leederville Municipal Council has decided to enter an emphatic protest against the action of the Scaddan Labour Ministry in importing from Germany steel pipes for reticulation purposes.

CRICKET CLIMAX.

FIGHT AT A MEETING.

BLOOD FLOWS.

VIOLENT BLOWS.

HILL RESIGNS.

A crisis has arisen in connection with Australian cricket. The meeting of the selectors held on Saturday night was the noisiest and most quarrelsome ever held in connection with the national game. In the end it degenerated into an open rupture. Violent blows were exchanged, and blood flowed copiously, even an innocent peacemaker having his clothes besmirched, and at the conclusion Mr. Clem Hill, the South Australian selector, resigned.

Messrs. Iredale (N.S.W.), McAlister (Vic.), and Hill (S.A.), with Mr. Sydney Smith, jun., secretary of the board of control, met at 9 o'clock at night, at the rooms of the N.S.W. Cricket Association, to pick the team for England, and the Australian eleven to play in the fourth test match in Melbourne. Right at the outset there was dissention. Mr. Hill was angry with Mr. McAlister on account of the telegram sent to Adelaide, in which the Victorian selector said that Hill might leave himself out of the team for the third test match. Illfeeling was also engendered on account of the decision of Hill and five other players not to agree to the appointment of the board of control's representative.

The discussion waxed warm right at the outset on account of differences of opinion as to the capabilities of the various players. Mr. Hill's captaincy also came in for severe criticism, and Mr. M'Alister even said that Hill was the worst captain he had seen for many years. This provoked angry retorts, and it was with difficulty that Messrs. Smith and Iredale could keep the peace and induce them to confine their efforts to the selection of the team.

For some time peace was restored, but at length the Victorian and South Australian rivals lost their temper. The meeting degenerated into an angry dispute, in which Mr. Iredale and Mr. Sid. Smith took no part. In the midst of this Mr. Hill leant across the table and struck Mr. M'Alister a severe blow on the head, which dazed him. A scene of violent disorder then took place, lasting till the meeting broke up. Mr. M'Alister received a bad mauling.

Mr. Hill immediately resigned from the position of selector of the Australian team. It was now imperative that the team to play in the fourth test match should be picked, so Mr. Smith, secretary of the Board of Control, called what members he could muster together, and it was decided that Messrs. Iredale and M'Alister should pick the team, and, in the event of them not agreeing, a third selector from the board would arbitrate. This was done and the team for the fourth test match was selected, and the ten certainties for the English tour chosen.

It now remains to be seen what action the Board of Control will take. A report of the meeting will have to be submitted to the board by the secretary. The ten selected for England will have ten days to make up their minds whether they will accept the invitation or not. If they decide not to, the Australian team will be greatly weakened, but the board will stick to its guns, and send the best team available. Truly, Australian cricket has reached a crisis.

TEAM FOR ENGLAND.

TEN CERTAINTIES.

CARKEEK AND MINNETT INCLUDED.

The following ten players have been selected as members of the Australian Eleven, which will leave for England in March:—

C. Hill, captain (South Australia)
V. T. Trumper, vice-captain (N.S.W.)
W. Bardsley (N.S.W.)
H. Carter (N.S.W.)
A. Cotter (N.S.W.)
R. B. Minnett (N.S.W.)
Dr. H. V. Hordern (N.S.W.)
W. W. Armstrong (Vic.)
V. S. Ransford (Vic.)
W. Carkeek (Vic.).

Dr. Hordern has stated that he will not be available for the trip. The fact that he has been selected, however, will give him the opportunity of officially declining the invitation.

THE DISPUTE.

PLAYERS ABIDE DECISION OF TEAM.

MR. LAVER'S POSITION.

The chief topic in cricket circles since the meeting of the Board of Control, which was held on Friday, is what further steps those players who sent the letter to the board intend to take. Up to the present nothing has been done by the players, but developments may be expected when the team to visit England has been finally selected.

Though the Board of Control has appointed Mr. G. S. Crouch to act as its representative, this does not deprive the players of the right to select their own manager, but such appointment must be approved by the Board of Control. And this is where a deadlock may occur. Mr. H. Carter, one of the six players concerned, was asked to express his views.

Mr. Carter said:—"Now that the board has decided that Mr. Crouch shall act as its representative during the English tour, the players will have something definite to work on. For the present, however, nothing can be done—we will have to wait till the whole team has been selected."

"Then?"

"Well, a meeting of the whole of the players will be called, when the matter will be discussed. Now, so far from the six players wanting things their own way, they will be prepared to abide by the decision of the majority. If it should be considered unnecessary to appoint a manager to look after their interests. That would mean that the team would be prepared to let Mr. Crouch fill the dual position of board's representative and player's manager.

"But," continued Mr. Carter, "if the players decide to appoint a manager of their own, and that Mr. Laver be the one approved of, —and the six players are desirous that he should be—then, under no circumstances will any of those players who signed that letter which was sent to the Board of Control go to England with the team, unless Mr. Laver also goes."

Continuing, Mr. Carter said "that, on his form in England, he should be the first bowler selected. If selected, then matters should be so fixed between all concerned that an easy and definite means of arrangement could be agreed on as regards management. However, I may state that the 'six' are not going to stand by and see Mr. Laver persecuted, as we consider he is being. We are quite prepared to place Laver's name before any independent arbiter for him to judge whether there was anything wrong with his general conduct and management of the last tour. We will abide by the decision; and, vice versa, the board should do likewise.

"It is a matter for regret that these difficulties should be still in the air whilst the big matches are on, as test cricket is quite enough to think of in itself, more especially as Australia is 'up against' it now, having to win the next two matches in order to retain the ashes. The sooner we can arrive at a definite decision the better.

"However, the team may decide on taking another gentleman as manager, and if so the six players will abide by the decision of the majority."

The only difficulty now likely to arise is if Mr. Laver be appointed—that will be the stumbling block.

Thus the position has narrowed perceptibly, and there is only one contingency which will keep the six players from making the trip to England. Much, therefore, will depend on the result of the meeting of the players to decide the question.

THE AGREEMENT.

On Saturday the only matter dealt with by the Board of Control was to draw up the agreement to be signed by the members of the Australian team before they leave for England. In 1909 two of the players refused to sign the document, but the Board of Control, through no fault of its own, did not know this until the team returned from England. There will be no lapse this time.

STATEMENT BY DR. MAILER.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Dr. Ramsay Mailer, who acted as proxy for Mr. A. A. Aitken, one of the Victorian delegates, returned from Sydney on Saturday. He said, referring to the meeting of the board:—"I asked if I could make an appeal to the board. I urged that the players wanted their legal rights preserved; they were entitled to the right of appointing their own manager. I suggested that the board could so guard its own interests, by allowing the players to appoint their own manager, who, when appointed, could meet the board and be bound down by an agreement to carry out the board's wishes, with penalties if he failed to do so. This arrangement would, I thought, settle the whole thing, and would for ever redound to the board's credit. It would have retained the players' rights, and given the board full control. However, the majority turned down the proposal, and to mark our protest against what we considered an illegal action we refused in any way to take part in the selection of the board's representative, and asked to have the fact of our so doing recorded."

OUTSPOKEN PRIEST.

STRIKE CONDEMNED.

WANTON BLOW AT THE STATE.

WEST MAITLAND, Sunday.

The Rev. Father O'Gorman, preaching in St. Joseph's Church, East Maitland, to-day, on the gospel for the day, containing the words, "I do thee no wrong. Is it not lawful for me to do as I will with mine own?" said the Trades Hall people would answer him, "No; you must do as we direct." It required something like the Brisbane strike—the most wanton blow ever aimed at the country's prosperity—to make the people of Australia see what unionism really meant. The object of the Brisbane strikers was plain enough—to force the Government to seize the tramways, which would be nothing less than an act of highway robbery. It was coming to this, that no man could go about his ordinary business without a permit from the Trades Hall.

The only bright lining to the cloud was the number of young men—and labour men, all honour to them—who had volunteered to protect life and property from the dregs of unionism. This one fact alone ought to make it plain to the caucus that Australia would have none of the red rag.

SCHOLARSHIPS.

NEW SYSTEM.

A CAUSE OF DISSATISFACTION.

The examination recently held in connection with the primary schools has resulted in an exceptionally heavy pass list, which speaks eloquently for the high standard of education obtaining in the Public schools of New South Wales. Both in the metropolis and the country districts the average of attainment reached by the pupils will compare very favourably with any of the older nations, and it certainly indicates that the methods of instruction adopted by the Department of Education are bearing good fruit. A rough estimate shows that about 12,000 children in the primary schools entered the examination.

The object of the new system is to test the pupils at various stages of their scholastic career, with a view to issuing certificates indicative of the progress made, and on the completion of the primary course they are examined, certificates being issued to the successful candidates. They are then entitled to enter upon a higher course of instruction. Possession of the certificate has now been made a necessary condition for entering the higher classes in the Superior Public schools, or for admittance to a High school.

The examination for the qualifying certificate marks a new departure, being the first held under the new system. It is a matter of considerable importance to the ambitious scholar, because it also carries with it the possible award of district and of High school scholarships. The junior technical scholarships or bursaries are also determined by the examination. Considerable success was achieved by the pupils, both in junior technical and technical High school scholarships, ordinary High school scholarships, and agricultural High school scholarships. It is estimated that fully 500 pupils secured this special mark of distinction in the metropolitan area alone, which means that they gained at least a 75 per cent. pass. A satisfactory feature is that quite a large proportion reached a much higher standard than that fixed by the department as the qualifying minimum.

There were so many passes, both for scholarships and qualifying certificates, that the Department of Education is now faced with the difficulty of finding accommodation for the successful pupils. It was admitted yesterday that if all the successful pupils were to be given the benefits of a high school course fully double the accommodation now available would be required. To graduate all the students into the high schools, however, is not the intention of the officers in charge of the administration of the new system. All the Sydney candidates were examined on the same papers, but only those who took the higher percentage of marks are to be deemed qualified for the superior course of instruction.

This weeding-out process is regarded as unnecessarily drastic by many of the parents of the pupils who succeeded in gaining only a qualifying certificate, which is at least a 50 per cent. pass, because it practically places an embargo on all but those who have graduated in the scholarship class. But even in this case restrictions have been introduced which will again considerably lessen the number for admittance to the high schools. It is now required that the parents shall give a guarantee that the pupil seeking entrance is not more than 15 years of age, and that when admitted the child will take the full four years' course.

It is evident that a considerable amount of misunderstanding exists in the minds of parents with regard to the purpose of the examinations. The result of this is that much dissatisfaction and very keen disappointment are felt in many households. The complaint of one parent can be taken as common to that of many. "My two children," he says, "a boy and a girl, were successful in gaining qualifying certificates at the recent examination. Consequently, I presented them both at two of the Sydney high schools yesterday, and on each occasion was informed by the head master that as the schools were already overcrowded there would be no room for any pupil who had not won a scholarship. The fact that so many children are now debarred from attending the high schools is a great disappointment, not only in my case, but in hundreds of others. In previous years any boy or girl who passed the examination was allowed to go to the High school, but this apparently is altered under the new system. If the department institutes a qualifying examination for the graduation of pupils to the high schools, and then cannot find room for all who pass, it seems farcical to hold the examination at all. Another matter for consideration arises from the fact that in many instances the scholarships were won by sixth and seventh class pupils, when the examination was supposed to be for fifth-class children."

Parents maintain that it is the duty of the department to create either new high schools or to enlarge the existing ones, so that in the future many hundreds of children who set their hearts on attending one of the high schools for the full course of four years, and strive to attain the necessary standard of efficiency, will not be disappointed.

The only value that the qualifying certificate possesses is that it carries the guarantee that the pupil is eligible for advanced instruction in the high schools, or the district schools, but nothing very material would seem to be gained from this where the ambition is to finish the educational course in a high school, and no accommodation is available there.

FEDERAL BANK.

WHO WILL BE GOVERNOR?

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

It is stated in banking circles that Mr. O. M. Williams, of the London Bank of Australia, Ltd., is likely to be offered the post of governor of the Federal Commonwealth Bank. The Prime Minister, Mr. Fisher, said yesterday that no action had yet been taken towards the appointment of a governor, and it would be at least a week before anything was done.

SWIMMING RECORDS.

AT PERTH, SYDNEY, AND AUCKLAND.

OLYMPIC MEN DO WELL.

From a swimming view point, last Saturday might well be termed a "record" afternoon. Sydney enthusiasts had their attention focussed, firstly on the Australian Championship meeting at Perth (W.A.), secondly on the contests between the premier clubs of New South Wales and New Zealand at Auckland, and in a slightly less degree on the League Club's carnival at Bronte, and the ordinary handicaps of the amateur clubs in Sydney. At each competition named record swims were established.

In Western Australia E. G. Finlay won the 220 yards' breast stroke championship of Australia in 3 min. 12 secs., which is 3 secs. better than the previous best figures for the Commonwealth, and which have been standing since February 19, 1908.

At Auckland, in the Sydney v Waitemata Club contests, Malcolm Champion, the Dominion champion, beat his own New Zealand record for the mile by 25 secs., putting up the excellent time of 24 min. 39 4-5 secs. for the full distance.

Miss Fanny Durack, of Sydney, also at Auckland, established the best Australasian swim for a lady over a quarter-mile, by doing the distance in 6 min. 42 secs. This beats the previous best (6 min. 52 secs.), put up last season by the same competitor, and is better than any time known for the quarter-mile throughout the world, by a lady swimmer.

The professional 100 yards world's record was beaten by C. Laws, at Bronte, by the narrow margin of one-tenth of a second, that swimmer winning the league championship of the eastern district in 1 min. 2 2-5 secs. The previous best stood to the credit of J. Nuttall—61⅕ secs., put up on September 26, 1893—18½ years ago.

In the handicaps Harold Hardwick, in Sydney Club's 110 yards race, won the final in 64 3-5 secs., which is exactly 2-5 secs. under the existing record of 65 secs. established by W. Longworth.

As Finlay, Champion, and Hardwick will be representing Australasia in the Olympic Games, their excellent form is gratifying, and all three swims bear favourable comparison with performances in other parts of the world. It is doubtful if ever such a list of performances will be repeated in any one afternoon's sport comprising sprint, distance, breast stroke, and ladies' swimming, and the establishment of new times at such widely separated parts of Australasia as Perth, Sydney, and Auckland.

PERSONAL.

Judge Lukin is in Sydney on his way back to Brisbane from a holiday tour.

Mr. J. H. Schaerer has been appointed Acting Consul for Switzerland during the absence from New South Wales of the Consul, Mr. Marc Rutty.

Mr. J. Hesketh, the Chief Commonwealth Electrical Engineer, is to visit America and Europe, for the purpose of investigating the latest improvements in automatic telephony and also in telegraphy. Mr. Hesketh will leave Melbourne for America early next month.

Lieutenant J. M. Gardiner Shaw, R.N.R., has been appointed officer in charge of the maritime section of the New Zealand land forces, with the rank of captain.

Mr. H. Perkins, who has large planting interests in Papua, arrived in Sydney by the steamer Matunga on Saturday. He says that Papua is no white man's land, and that the restrictions and taxes imposed on settlers are simply outrageous.

Mr. William Tarr, Government Printer of Tonga, and his wife, a daughter of the Chief Justice of the island kingdom, are on a visit to Sydney.

During yesterday morning's service at Christ Church, Lavender Bay, a memorial window to the late Mr. and Mrs. Asher Day was unveiled. Mr. Asher Day was for 25 years one of the churchwardens. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Archdeacon Gunther; the sermon was preached by the Rev. Alfred Yarnold (the old rector of the church); and the service conducted by the rector, the Rev. J. H. Maclean.

Mr. Pickering, manager of one of the banks in Papua, is in Sydney on his way back to that dependency, after a holiday in New Zealand.

The board of directors of the Randwick Asylum for Destitute Children, at the close of the 80th annual meeting, paid a tribute to Mr. Joseph Coulter (superintendent), who has completed 40 years' association and official service with the institution.

Mr. Wallace F. Henderson has been reelected president of the mail branch of the Postal Employees' Association of New South Wales. For two terms each he held the position of assistant secretary and secretary, and has on three occasions been a delegate to the conferences of postal employees in the other States.

A copy of the will of Mr. George Davis, late of Darling Point, merchant, who died on August 23, was filed in the Victorian Probate Office on Friday for sealing. The testator left personal property in Victoria valued at £2625 and estate in New South Wales to his widow and children, subject to a bequest of £100 to be divided amongst such charities as his trustees may direct.

The Rev. Thomas Ebenezer Slater, who died at Moss Vale on Wednesday, had a notable career as a missionary. Born in 1840 at Chesham, Buckinghamshire, he studied for the ministry at Spring Hill College, Birmingham and at Highgate, and, being ordained for missionary service in 1866, was appointed to the London mission at Calcutta. On his arrival in India he entered on work at the Bhowanipur Institution, also undertaking the pastorate of Hastings Chapel, Calcutta. Later on he was for four years engaged in similar educational work in the institution at Madras; but in 1875 he gave this up to devote himself entirely to Christian work among the educated classes in Madras. It was, however, in Bangalore, to which he was appointed in 1882, that he found what was distinctly his own sphere. From Bangalore, as a centre, he visited other large towns, and won the confidence and friendship of very many non-Christian Hindus. He exercised a remarkable influence over them, many becoming open and declared Christians, whilst still a larger number accepted the Christian faith without fully avowing themselves Christians. Owing to advancing years and enfeebled health, Mr. Slater found it necessary to retire from active service in India, and returned to England, whence he came a few years ago to reside in Sydney.

STATE TRADE STATISTICS.

HOBART, Saturday.

A deputation, representing the Chamber of Commerce, waited on Mr. Tudor in regard to the collection of trade statistics. Mr. W. Burgess said that in the Commonwealth statistics for 1910 the total export of Tasmania was put down at £510,297, whereas in 1909 it was £1,724,284. As an instance of the absurdity of the Commonwealth figures he pointed out that under the item minerals and ores Tasmania in 1910 was credited with only £46,218 worth, whereas the previous amount was £1,175,862 worth. Then Tasmania did not get credit for any tin, but Victoria, which did not produce tin at all, was credited with £241,886 worth, while New South Wales returns were swollen to £428,018. He pointed out the difference between the State statistician and the Commonwealth statistician. At the other end of the world the Commonwealth statistics were taken as official information.

Mr. Tudor: Does it matter a snap of the fingers; why not be Australian instead of having these provincial ideas?

Mr. Burgess: I beg to differ with you. I don't think there is any pettiness in our contention at all.

Mr. Tudor: What does it matter if Victoria does get credit. We merely say it is an export, and Victoria is the place it went from.

Mr. Burgess: Yes, but why not draw attention to it. The figures for 1910 are so different from what they were for the preceding year.

Mr. Tudor promised to go into the matter and see if the apparent injustice to Tasmania could not be remedied.

NAVAL DISASTER.

SUBMARINE SUNK.

OFFICERS AND CREW DROWNED.

COLLISION OFF ISLE OF WIGHT.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

Preliminary to the assembling of the fleet to welcome King George and Queen Mary, six submarines accompanied by the Antelope and Hazard (depots for submarines), proceeded for torpedo firing practice east of the Isle of Wight.

Submarine A3 while partly submerged collided with the Hazard, and was badly holed.

She settled down immediately. An escape of air and gas indicated that the submarine had filled with water.

Four officers and a crew of 10 are on board.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

Warships and tugs, by means of sweeping operations, which were carried on despite squalls and snow, succeeded in locating the submarine A3, in seven fathoms of water, close to the spot where A1 was lost in 1904.

The Hazard was steaming at a speed of ten knots at the time of the disaster, and the submarine was attacking her. The officers on the Hazard observed the A3 dive 3000 yards away, but did not see her again. Then the collision was felt.

Probably the A3 had intended to cross the Hazard's course, and attack her from the other side. Instead, the conning tower struck the Hazard's side, and a blow from the propeller gave the coup-de-grace.

The A3 was a submarine of a class not furnished with the chemical respiration helmets, served to the newer submarines. In any case, the inrush of water overwhelmed the crew before they would have had time to put them on.

The manoeuvre was a common one. Four submarines carry out similar exercises five days weekly, often making as many as twenty attacks.

The number of officers on the submarine was due to the fact that they were going through a course of instruction.

Lieutenant Omand, who was married only two months ago, had replaced the commanding officer, who was on leave. Lieutenant Campbell, another of those on board, was a son of Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the actress.

The other officers on the submarine were Lieutenants Ernest Thornton and Leonard Richardson.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.

LONDON, Feb. 4.

The German Emperor and President Fallieres have telegraphed messages of sympathy in connection with the submarine disaster.

THE "STARVATION DOCTOR."

COUNSEL'S OPINION.

WORLD-WIDE ATTENTION.

SEATTLE, Feb. 2.

Addressing the jury in the case against Mrs. Hazzard, the "starvation doctor," who is charged with having caused the death of Claire Williamson, an Australian lady, counsel for the prosecution said that such crimes as those of the Hazzard woman were rampant over the United States.

The case, he added, had attracted attention all over the civilised world, and if Mrs. Hazzard were acquitted, faddists everywhere would consider themselves free to deal with unsuspecting folk as they pleased.

SEATTLE, Feb. 3.

The Hazzard case has gone to the jury.

ARABS REPULSED.

FIGHTING AT BENGHAZI.

ITALIANS HOLD THE FORT.

ROME, Feb. 3.

Four hundred Bedouins at night time attacked a small outer port at Benghazi, but were repulsed.

Twelve dead were found in the wire entanglements, and many others were also removed. Four Italians were killed.

The natives are short of food.

MILITARY BALLOONS.

BERLIN, Feb. 2.

Germany has 12 military dirigible balloons and 13 others. France possesses 15 military dirigibles and six others.

CHINA'S CRISIS.

EMPEROR'S ABDICATION.

PUBLICATION DELAYED.

CANTON'S PERIL.

PEKING, Feb. 4.

General Yuan Shih Kai is awaiting the concentration of 20,000 Chinese troops at Peking before the publication of the abdication of the Emperor is made.

Advices from Mukden state that the payment of officials there has been suspended.

Disorder among the people is feared, and there have been wholesale departures northwards from Mukden.

Mr. Maxwell, the correspondent of the London "Daily Mail," forecasts serious troubles in Canton. He says that the majority of the troops forming the garrison of the city are bandits, pirates, and mercenaries, and are likely to maintain discipline only so long as they are paid.

The city is described as at present under the rule of a military dictator. The merchants have removed their valuables and goods from the Shameen, and trade with Hongkong has ceased.

The portion of the Chinese troops whereon the most reliance had been placed are proceeding north.

The Europeans in Canton are preparing for emergencies. The Shameen, which is a joint British and French concession, has been mined and fortified, and the garrison of 300 troops is being supported by the German, American, and Japanese gunboats in the Chu-Kiang River.

[Canton is the principal city of South China, and one of the first cities of the Chinese Empire. It is built on the Chu-Kiang, or Pearl, River, and is the capital of the province of Kwang Tung. A very large trade is done between Hongkong and Canton by small steamers, which make the run between the two cities in five or six hours. The Shameen is an artificially-created island, which was built by the foreigners when they returned to Canton after the close of the war of 1857. The foreign community mostly reside on the Shameen, but there are a few foreigners settled across the water on the island of Honam.]

ASSASSINATION FEARED.

PEKING, Feb. 2.

General Yuan Shih Kai's soldiers have circulated thousands of leaflets alleging that a secret society in Peking is seeking to assassinate him, but if he is injured the soldiers state that they will exterminate a whole generation of those who are responsible.

FUNDS FOR REPUBLICANS.

PEKING, Feb. 2.

In view of shortness of funds the Republican Minister for War demanded from the China Merchants' Steam Navigation Company 10,000,000 taels, otherwise their ships would be commandeered and sold.

The company has now transferred their ships as security for a Republican loan on assurances that the company will be an object of special solicitude of the Republic.

SITUATION IN PERSIA.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN AGREEMENT.

A LOAN OF £400,000.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

Great Britain and Russia are nearing the completion of an arrangement for a joint constructive policy to strengthen the Persian Government by means of a £400,000 loan, enabling order to be restored.

The programme requires Persia's recognition of the Anglo-Russian agreement.

THOUSAND SINGLE MEN.

IMMIGRATION LEAGUE'S OFFER ACCEPTED.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The central unemployed body has accepted the offer of the British Immigration League of Australia to contribute £6 per head towards the passage of 1000 single men to New South Wales and Queensland, and will undertake to see that 30 per cent. of the immigrants are reservists.

AMERICA'S TROUBLES.

ROBBERS AND SOCIALISTS.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 3.

Sticking-up cases still continue, and the police are powerless to trace a single one.

An armed, but unmasked, man held up two hotels at midnight, and escaped with large sums, after binding the night clerk by ropes to the waterpipes.

Labour troubles are also growing, fomented by the action of socialists who demand the right to speak in the streets, contrary to special police regulations.

ALLEGED POISONING.

HUSBAND AND WIFE ON TRIAL.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

Frederick Seddon, district superintendent of the London and Manchester Assurance Company, has been committed for trial on a charge of poisoning Eliza Barrow with arsenic. Mrs. Seddon was also committed for trial on a charge of being an accessory. Witnesses testified that Mrs. Seddon negotiated some bank notes alleged to have belonged to Barrow, and that Seddon's daughter purchased some arsenical fly-papers.

Miss Barrow, who is said to have been a rather eccentric lady, was possessed of considerable means, and a little while before her death, in September last, she made over to Seddon some India stock and leasehold property, in consideration of an undertaking on his part to pay her an annuity of £150. Counsel at the preliminary proceedings made the point that it would have been impossible for Seddon to have continued this payment out of the interest return on the property. Subsequently Miss Barrow was said to have made a will, appointing Seddon her sole executor. She died three days later."

SOCIAL PROBLEMS.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE CHURCH.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

The Bishop of Oxford, the Right Rev. Dr. Gore, in an address before the Christian Social Union at Westminster, denounced the traditional indifference of churchmen to social obligations.

Church people, he said, ought not to do mere salvage work, when it was too late, but should insist on the abolition of slums, and giving the masses a chance to reach a higher level.

BRITISH BY-ELECTION.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The East Edinburgh by-election, consequent on the death of Sir James Gibson, has resulted in the return of Mr. Hogge (Liberal) with 5064 votes. Mr. Jameson, his opponent, received 4129 votes.

At the general election Sir James Gibson (Liberal) obtained 6436 votes to 3782 given to Mr. R. M. Cameron (Unionist).

EARTHQUAKE AND STORM.

CORDOVA (ALASKA), Feb. 2.

An earthquake which occurred led to a terrific storm, which swept the Alaskan coast.

Stores were wrecked, and the lighting plant here was destroyed.

SENTENCED AS A SPY.

THE STEWART CASE.

THREE AND A HALF YEARS.

BERLIN, Feb. 3.

The case against Bertrand Stewart, charged with espionage, was exclusively based on the evidence of a Belgian, who, according to the defence, while acting as interpreter and guide, thrust upon Stewart information for which he did not ask, and then denounced him.

After hearing some of Stewart's witnesses, showing that the Belgian was untrustworthy, and had been previously convicted in Belgium, the Court dispensed with the evidence of the rest.

BERLIN, Feb. 4.

Stewart has been sentenced to imprisonment for three and a half years in a fortress. He addressed the public, and said he wished everyone in England to know that he was innocent.

OFFICERS MUST REPORT.

NEW WAR OFFICE INSTRUCTIONS.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The War Office has issued fresh instructions to officers travelling in Germany.

In future the officers must report themselves in Alsace-Lorraine to the police and military, and also to the authorities in every town.

The reason for the new instructions is because it was revealed in the course of the trial of Bertrand Stewart that he was an officer who travelled in Germany without the knowledge of the War Office.

LABOUR UNREST.

COAL TRADE DISPUTE.

MINIMUM WAGE QUESTION.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The Miners' Federation has adopted a scheme of varying minimum wages rates according to districts as a basis for local negotiations with the coalowners, and finally at a national conference of both sides next week.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The resignation of Mr. Mabon of the leadership of the Welsh Miners' Federation is announced, ostensibly on the ground of health, but in reality because he was losing control.

TILBURY DOCK STRIKE.

NON-UNION QUESTION.

Five hundred Tilbury dockers have struck work against the employment of non-unionists.

The shipowners will consider the situation on Monday.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The Tilbury Docks are practically at a standstill, the Orient and P. and O. Companies being included in the general stoppage.

The dispute began with the employment of non-union tally clerks.

COTTON WEAVERS' WAGES.

GENERAL STRIKE FEARED.

The masters have refused the application of the cotton weavers for an increase of wages until peace is restored. The operatives decline the terms.

A general strike is anticipated, and extra police have been despatched to Nelson.

ROMAN CATHOLICS PERSECUTED.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

The persecution of Roman Catholics by the North-east Lancashire operatives continues.

The police at Nelson are escorting the Roman Catholic workers to their homes twice daily, and have been forced to charge the crowd.

The Weavers' Union is enrolling many new members.

HOME RULE.

"THE REAL DIFFICULTY."

COMPLETE FISCAL AUTONOMY.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

Mr. J. M. Robertson, member for Tyneside division of Northumberland, speaking in London, said that the real difficulty in regard to Home Rule was that Ireland would claim complete, absolute, and unchecked fiscal autonomy.

If this were granted, he said, it would imply the disintegration of the United Kingdom, and there could be no hope for a Home Rule bill embodying such a claim.

The Ulster Methodists are arranging a convention to protest against Home Rule.

Of 800 Presbyterian ministers in Ireland, 110 have refused to protest against the granting of Home Rule.

SUPPORT FROM MELBOURNE.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

Sir Edward Carson, M.P., has received a cable message promising the support of 6000 Melbourne loyalists in his anti-Home Rule campaign.

NATIONAL DEFENCE.

WHAT CANADA AIMS AT.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT'S VIEWS.

OTTAWA, Feb. 2.

The Duke of Connaught, replying to a deputation from the Canadian Defence League, approved of the aims of the league, including the awakening of the Canadian consciousness to the need for national defence on an adequate scale.

The Duke also expressed approval of the military training of all youths between the ages of 14 and 18.

LATE DUKE OF FIFE.

PORT SAID, Feb. 2.

H.M.S. Powerful is to convey the body of the late Duke of Fife to England.

ABUSE OF NON-UNIONISTS.

A BREACH OF THE PEACE.

PORTLAND (Oregon), Feb. 3.

Six men were adjudged guilty of a breach of the peace by using abusive language, including the word "scab," towards non-union workers in the city railway shops.

The Judge held that the use of the term "scab," as applied to a non-union man, was not a punishable offence, unless accompanied by abusive words.

FOOTBALL IN ENGLAND.

WALES BEATS SCOTLAND.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

In the international Rugby Union match between Wales and Scotland, the former won by 21 points to 6.

FROST PREVENTS PLAY.

The match between Leigh and the Australasian Rugby team (League) had to be abandoned owing to a severe frost.

BRITAIN PREPARED.

IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

APPEAL FOR BETTER UNDERSTANDING.

SPEECH BY MR. LLOYD GEORGE.

LONDON, Feb. 4.

Mr. Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, addressing the City Liberal Club, denied the statement that there had been a split in the Cabinet.

The Chancellor refuted Mr. Bonar Law's accusations as to the overcrowding of the Civil Service, and also the strictures of the Opposition leader concerning defence. The lowness of Consols, he said, was due to the South African war and the Irish Land Act widening the area of trustee investments, for which the Unionist Government was responsible.

Mr. Lloyd George declared that the country was better prepared for an emergency than ever before. They would never be able to arrest the growth of armaments, he added, until international evils, jealousies, and fears had been removed.

Further, he said, he believed the time was favourable for a better understanding between Germany, France, Russia, and Britain. Such a result was obtainable by candour, frankness, and boldness. The money now spent on armaments would be better employed in improving the people's condition.

PORTUGUESE THRONE.

THE DOVER INTERVIEW.

MANOEL AND DOM MIGUEL.

LONDON, Feb. 3.

In connection with the interview at Dover between ex-King Manoel of Portugal and Dom Miguel, it is authoritatively stated that after the failure of the Conceiros raid Dom Miguel offered to recognise Manoel as the legitimate King of Portugal if the latter would recognise him as belonging to a branch with collateral rights of succession. The offer was accepted.

The report of the interview has been confirmed.

A cable message published on Saturday stated that King Manoel, ex-King of Portugal, and Dom Miguel, in whose interest it was said the recent Monarchist rising was made in Portugal, met at Dover, and were reconciled. Dom Miguel offered to help in the restoration of the Throne to King Manoel. "Diplomatist," writing in the "Daily Express," denied that the meeting between Dom Miguel and King Manoel was connected with any claim to the Throne, but declared that it was merely a personal reconciliation.

Dom Miguel, who is a man of 58 years of age, is a son of the more famous Dom Miguel who, after usurping the throne of Portugal in 1832, was, after two years of civil war, forced to sign a convention which bound him to leave Portugal, and to interfere no more in Portuguese affairs. Shortly after leaving the country he repudiated the convention, whereupon Parliament passed a law excluding him and his descendants from the throne, and banishing them for ever, under pain of death. Dom Miguel lives in Austria, and in the event of the death of ex-King Manuel and the Duke of Oporto, he would, in default of other heirs, succeed by right to the Portuguese throne if the monarchy is ever re-established in that country.

BRITISH VISITORS IN RUSSIA.

REMARKABLE ENTHUSIASM.

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 2.

The members of the British Parliamentary delegation, who are visiting Russia, have arrived in Moscow.

Remarkable enthusiastic scenes were associated with the welcome which was accorded them.

CHINESE PIRATES.

TERRORISING CANTON.

APPOINTED TO POLICE THE TOWN.

Mr. R. F. Carter, a visitor from China, who is in Sydney on his way to England, says that piracy is rampant in Canton. He added that it was recognised that interference by the pirates with foreigners' property would bring trouble on the heads of the revolutionaries. So, acting on the old adage "Set a thief to catch a thief," they appointed the most notorious of the pirates, a really terrible old character, as chief of police, and he with his crew were now fairly terrorising the inhabitants. He had certainly done one good thing, and that was the keeping of the other pirates in check, but as police officers he and his crew had not been a success, and things had gone from bad to worse. Murder and robbery were of every-day occurrence, and it was strongly suspected that the pirate police themselves committed most of these crimes.

The pirate chief had found himself in so powerful a position that he was, when Mr. Carter left, practically dictating terms to the Government, and had an ambition to supersede the Governors, and would probably succeed. He had a following of 30,000 ruffians, and the big problem for the Government was how to get rid of them. They were hoping to pass them on to Pekin, with the promise of rich rewards when the Imperial city fell into their hands. But if their chief got absolute control in Canton they might not want to leave.

TRAIN ON FIRE.

TWO CARRIAGES BURNED.

NARROW ESCAPES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

While the train from Melbourne to Bairnsdale was speeding along between Fernbank and Lindenow yesterday afternoon two of its passenger cars caught fire, and were destroyed.

The incident was sensational, but had not prompt alarm been given, it would have been attended by injury, and, perhaps, loss of life.

Following the engine were second and first class 71 feet corridor cars, and the guard's van. Nothing unusual happened until about two miles from Fernbank, when a passenger observed that the canopy of canvas and tarpaulin which was placed between the first and second class cars was on fire. After vainly endeavouring to beat the flames out with his hat, the passenger pulled the alarm chain, and the train came to a stop almost immediately.

The passengers, surprised at the manner in which the train had been pulled up, looked out and noticed the dense smoke. An alarm of fire soon went through the train, and the passengers hurriedly left the cars, both of which had caught fire. The crackling sound of the burning timber put many in a state of panic, but the passengers, 35 in number, managed to escape without injury. So quickly did some of them seek safety that portmanteaux and parcels were left in the cars and allowed to be consumed in the flames.

Efforts were made by the train crew and some of the passengers to extinguish the fire. The guard's van was taken off the first-class carriage, and was pushed back out of danger. The engine proceeded to Lindenow, and later on returned with a carriage.

The damage is estimated at £3500. The cars were built only a few months ago. The cause of the outbreak is unknown.

NO HELP

FOR QUEENSLAND.

STATE'S APPEAL

REFUSED BY PRIME MINISTER.

STRIKE SPREADS.

NORTHERN UNIONS COME OUT.

RUSH ON FOODS.

SHORT SUPPLIES.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL REPORTER.)

BRISBANE, Sunday.

The police in Brisbane have the situation thoroughly in hand, but there is a dangerous undercurrent, due to the unchecked activity of the strike committee.

The Premier spoke vigorously yesterday about the impossibility of allowing the strike committee to usurp the functions of Parliament. But it is still being suffered to engage in its operations, with the result that the waterside workers of Rockhampton and Townsville have been persuaded to cease work on Monday.

The red-ribbon socialists are gloating over this, and don't hesitate to boast that the object is to withdraw police from Brisbane, and then weaken the local forces.

Another thing that has given them renewed hopes is the straight-out refusal of the Prime Minister (Mr. Fisher) to call out the military to back up the police. As soon as it became known that Mr. Denham had applied for military aid the strike committee got into touch with Mr. Fisher, and asked him to refuse the request. Mr. Fisher thought the best way out of his dilemma was to ignore the request of the responsible Government, and fall in with the views of the irresponsible strike committee. Whether Mr. Fisher replied first to the strike committee or Mr. Denham is not known. But it is known that after some hilarious shouting and cheering at the Trades Hall this morning a red-ribbon man ran across the road and announced to his fellows that "Fisher had turned Denham down, and he would get no soldiers."

Later Mr. Denham himself announced Mr. Fisher's refusal, and made some caustic comment.

Events have shown that Mr. Denham was a bit premature in asking for military assistance, as the police have amply demonstrated their capacity to maintain order. But the fact remains that Mr. Fisher preferred to follow the advice of the strike committee, clearly indicating the course he is likely to pursue in future cases of domestic violence.

FOLLOWING SYDNEY'S LEAD.

The whole strength of the present upheaval lies in the strike committee. It is following exactly the same tactics as those adopted by the strike committee in Sydney during the coal crisis, and is constituted on exactly the same lines. Profiting by the experience of Sydney, however, it has hidden away many copies of the records, and can fall back, so it is boasted, on numerous other committees conversant with the plan of campaign in case of the leaders being arrested.

It is believed by the strikers that the smash up of the strike committee, as in Sydney, would not mean the defeat of the men. And so far as can be gathered Ministers seem to share this view. It is no secret that the Government takes the view that Mr. Wade's Coercion Act was not the way to settle trouble of this sort, and that there is a better way. The better way so far has not been disclosed, and, had it not been for placing full powers in the hands of the Commissioner of Police, the one strong man in authority so far as can be judged at present, Brisbane would be in the hands of the mob. It is quite clear that so long as the strike committee is allowed to exist it will keep on working mischief through the efficiency of its organisation. Yesterday the mob was cowed and crestfallen. To-day the leaders have infused new life into it by pointing to the spread of the trouble to Ipswich, Rockhampton, and Townsville, and promising a far wider extension.

The latest thing talked of is a general strike throughout Australia. And it is being discussed behind closed doors by the strike committee.

ACTIVITY AT TRADES HALL.

About 3000 people were outside the Trades Hall this morning answering to the roll-call and loitering about to try to glean something of the secret business being transacted within. The strike committee no more takes the strikers into its confidence than it does the public. What is obvious, though, is that the men are following the strike committee blindly, and will continue to do so till it is dissolved. One discovers in mixing with the strikers that the majority are excellent fellows. Married men with children there are among them in plenty, and many whose little ones are beginning to feel the pinch of poverty would be glad to get back to work.

PLAN OF THE GOVERNMENT.

The plan of the Government apparently is to induce shopkeepers again to open their doors, promising efficient protection. The special constabulary was largely augmented to-day, and to these special bodies of men is to be principally entrusted the work of guarding butchers' and bakers' shops and the convoying of food supplies. Most of the suburbs have taken this initiative themselves by forming vigilance committees. The members of these committees as they are formed are sworn as special constables, and in this way an effective organisation is gradually being formed. Soon every outlying suburb will be in a position to take care of itself. The vigilance committees are attached to the local police stations, and take their instructions from the sergeants in charge. Volunteers are almost limitless, and numbers of those enrolled have had a military training. At the present rate of progress the police forces available will soon be very formidable.

FOOD DIFFICULTY.

Although there are instances of hardship there has been no food famine. Supplies all round have been maintained somehow or other. It has been impossible to get food delivered, but families have been able up to the present to obtain supplies by sending for them. The city hotels and boarding-houses have been able to maintain their usual standards, and in Queen-street to-day limitless iced soft drinks were obtainable. A vast all-round improvement is looked for on Monday, and on Tuesday it is expected that the trams will be running. Ample men are available. It is only a question of ample police protection. Policemen will ride on all the cars for the protection of the passengers, and the whole of the lines will be patrolled by troopers.

BUSINESS PROSPECTS.

STRIKERS' FUNDS GETTING LOW.

MEETING BROKEN UP.

All day yesterday thousands of people paraded the streets, red ribbon being prominent among men, women, and children. There were, however, excepting the block outside the Trades Hall in the morning, no attempts at a demonstration. Mounted and foot police, regulars, and specials, were ever present in large numbers. The rifle and bayonet men, however, have disappeared from the scene.

The office of the Commissioner of Police presented a scene of extraordinary activity. Volunteers were offering themselves by the hundreds, being sworn in and equipped with batons and badges. Although many of the recruits are weedy, some valuable additions to the police force have been made. Athletes and men who have had military training have been enrolled by the score. Numerous mounted specials are coming in from the country, and the Commissioner's organisation, as far as can be judged by appearances, is perfect. A striking feature of the defence preparations is the confidence men and officers have in their chief. They are ready to follow him anywhere, and in conversation cannot refrain from sounding his praises.

A picturesque incident occurred yesterday. While the Commissioner was patrolling the outskirts of the city he met a volunteer body of horse coming in. They were all raw, with the exception of Lieut. Stodart, who saw service in South Africa, and was riding at their head. Major Cahill pulled the men up for inspection. They did not know what to do in the presence of the Commissioner, so they did what seemed to them the most respectful thing—raised their hats.

The crowds continued to parade the streets up to a late hour last night, and then went peaceably away to their homes. The banks have been open throughout the crisis, and yesterday several establishments shyly opened one door. Fruit and soft drinks were sold without let or hindrance, among the customers being red ribbon people. Ice also seemed to be plentiful.

The picketing of shops is gradually being broken up by the special constabulary, and none are benefiting more thereby than the families of the red ribbon men themselves. But the resources of many are nearly at an end, and they are looking to the strike committee for coupons. It rests with the strike committee so long as it is permitted to last to say how long these people shall suffer.

It is generally believed that a number of shops will reopen to-morrow, but the larger establishments await the decision of the council of the Federated Employers' organisations, which is to meet to-morrow morning. The main bar to the resumption of normal conditions lies at the wharfs. So long as the strike committee can influence the waterside workers the trade of the city will be more or less paralysed.

Strikers attempted to hold an organised meeting in Stanley-street, South Brisbane. The police, however, were soon upon them, and dispersed the gathering.

RUSH FOR BREAD.

EXTRAORDINARY SCENES.

PICKETS NON-PLUSSED.

The gradual shortening of food supplies, which has been in progress since Tuesday, and the necessity for making extra provision for the week-end, brought a general slackening of the Trades Hall vigilance in regard to the picketing of shops.

The strike promoters had gone the length of naming some firms to whom they had given permission to resume the business of selling bread and meat, and in plenty of other cases French leave was taken. Practically every day since the strike began bread has been available, and it has not been difficult to find fruit shops open in the less-frequented streets, but few people have managed to get hold of fresh meat. This morning, however, several butchers in the suburbs were open. In one case the meat was carted from the slaughter-house to the shop under police escort. At an early hour and before ten o'clock the whole supply had been retailed to an eager crowd.

Meat was obtainable in almost every district.

RAID ON BAKERS.

With regard to the bakers, they are still without assistance, and the masters have been struggling through the task of baking with only the help of an occasional friend. Most of them had a baking on Thursday night, and the raid which followed on Friday morning was something to be remembered. Long before daylight the bakeries were besieged by hundreds of men, women, and children, with all sorts of receptacles, waiting patiently for the loaves to be taken from the ovens. At a West End bakery there was a struggle to get served, and when the first baking was exhausted, the people who remained unsupplied readily bought up the uncooked bread rather than risk possible disappointment. At Paddington, one baker began selling at 4.30 a.m., and within two hours had got rid of 2000 loaves. This baker was about exhausted by his exertions, and resolved to give himself a spell till Monday night, but such urgent demands were poured in upon him that he could not further harden himself to resist, and there will be another baking to-night.

TRADES HALL WARNINGS.

Even single-handed master bakers have been carrying on their business under intimidation from the Trades Hall. One baker received warning of an intended raid by pickets, and his neighbours only too gladly rallied round and stood guard over his premises throughout the night, prepared to defend him from attack. Presumably this preparedness reached the ears of the red-ribboners. The raid was not made.

There was a good deal of open trading this morning in foodstuffs, and one particularly significant incident may be noted. As late as Friday, the fruit exchange in Turbot-street was jealously picketed by red-ribbon enthusiasts. Not a pennyworth of fruit was allowed to be taken away except to the hospitals and kindred institutions. Nothing could have been more thorough than their zeal in making sure that every possible case of fruit should go to waste. But this morning the pinch was beginning to be felt, and those red-ribboners were the most clamorous of crowds who flocked into the fruit exchange and bought up bananas by the bunch. When the exchange stock was exhausted, they visited the shops outside, and bought them out. This change of tactics was, however, confined to bananas, and the beautiful fruits which have been brought over the railway from the Stanthorpe district are being allowed to rot.

This is the height of the Stanthorpe season, when the fruit-growers always look to reap a harvest, with their peaches, plums, and apples, and the strike has turned their time of profit to one of disastrous loss. It is a hardship which they will nourish in their memories when the time of political appeal comes again. The Nundah and Nudgee pineapple farmers are sharing this costly disappointment, as the fruit cannot even be exported, let alone consumed in Queensland.

The executive are issuing coupons of varying value to unionists, who have not the cash with which to buy food, and a notice in the Trades Hall asks those with money to refrain from obtaining coupons, as the strike funds are needed for unionists not so fortunately placed. The strikers are also informed that flour may be obtained on application from the local authorities and divisional boards on payment.

UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLIES.

A PROCLAMATION.

At last the Government has taken action which may or may not be directed against the strike committee.

His Excellency the Governor, over the signature of the Premier, has issued a proclamation calling on all persons engaged in unlawful assemblies to desist.

REFUSAL OF MILITARY.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S TELEGRAM.

INTERVIEW WITH MR. FISHER.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

On the report of the press interview with the Prime Minister with regard to the application by the Government of Queensland for the assistance of the military being brought under the notice of the Premier, Mr. Denham on Saturday morning said:

"Judging by the press message from Melbourne this morning, Mr. Fisher places the strike executive on a footing of equality, if not of superiority, to the State Government, and will not utilise the military on the application of the latter because the former objects. He has not so much violated the Constitution as amended it without waiting for the necessary formalities prescribed for such an amendment. Section 119 of the Commonwealth Constitution says the Commonwealth shall protect every State against invasion, and, on the application of the Executive Government of the State, against domestic violence. To that Mr. Fisher now adds: 'Unless a strike executive objects,' and apparently such objection exists. Certainly they have endeavoured to usurp the State functions. They have by their acts, overt and otherwise, endeavoured to supersede the law of the land by their mandates. They could only attain their object by rendering the Government helpless, and they are more likely to achieve that object when the military is not allowed to second the efforts of the police in maintaining order. Probably Australia is the only civilised country in the world to-day where the military is not ready at a moment's notice to back up the civil power in such a state of things as has obtained, and still obtains to a less degree to-day, in Brisbane. It is not so much deeds of violence as the holding up of food supplies that constitutes a very serious menace."

Just prior to this Mr. Denham had received from the Governor a telegram which had just arrived from the Governor-General in reply to the application for military assistance. Sir William M'Gregor gave his permission for the communication to be published, and it was as follows:—"In continuation of my telegram of to-day my Ministers state that, whilst the Commonwealth Government is quite prepared to fulfil its obligations to the States if ever occasion should arise, they do not admit the right of any State to call for their assistance under circumstances which are proper to be dealt with by the police forces of the States. The condition of affairs existing in Queensland does not, in their opinion, warrant the request of the Executive Government of Queensland contained in your Excellency's message being complied with."

On the receipt of the communication Mr. Denham had a long interview with the Home Secretary and the Commissioner of Police, and he said: "I can assure the citizens ample protection is afforded by the enrolment of special constables, foot and horse, and see no reason why early in the week normal conditions of trade should not obtain in the metropolitan area."

In response to the announcement yesterday morning, urgent requests have been received from country districts for the supply of flour, and each of those requests has been promptly and duly honoured.

MR. FISHER STILL RETICENT.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Prime Minister (Mr. Fisher) stated on Saturday morning that he had nothing further to add to what he had said on Friday with regard to the Queensland strike.

When asked to say definitely if the Queensland Government had asked for military assistance, and had been refused, he said: "All I can say is that if the Queensland Government likes to make any statement upon the matter it is welcome to do so."

STATE'S REQUEST.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Prime Minister to-day made available the text of the messages which passed between the Governor of Queensland and the Governor-General in connection with the Queensland Government's request to the Commonwealth for military aid. On Thursday evening the Governor-General received the following message from Sir William Macgregor:—"In consequence of general strike, riot and bloodshed are imminent in Brisbane. The State police are not able to preserve order. Firearms have been used to prevent arrest of many guilty of riotous conduct. Executive Government of State requests that you direct steps to be taken immediately to protect the State against domestic violence in terms of section 119 of Commonwealth of Australia Constitution Act."

Owing to the absence of the Governor-General from Government House, for a few hours on Thursday evening the message was not received by him until late at night, when he sent for Mr. Fisher. On the following day, after the Federal Cabinet had considered the matter, the Prime Minister caused the reply of the Federal Ministry to be sent to the Governor-General.

MR. FISHER'S APPEAL.

TO BRISBANE TRADES.

CASE FOR ARBITRATION COURT.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

In the course of a statement made to the press to-night the Prime Minister, Mr. Fisher, expressed the opinion that if the strike were not settled it would soon extend beyond the boundaries of the State of Queensland.

He said: "The question now seems to be one of reaching the Arbitration Court. I will quote the Constitution as to that Court's powers:—'The Constitution Act, part 5. Powers of the Parliament, section 51, subsection 35, conciliation and arbitration, for the prevention and settlement of industrial disputes extending beyond the limits of any one State.'

"With its limited powers under the Constitution, the Federal Arbitration Court has done excellent work. It often happens, however, that industrial disputes occur which it is best able to deal with, but they do not come within its jurisdiction. The Brisbane tramway dispute is a case in point. While the trouble is confined to Queensland the Court cannot act. It may extend a thousand miles north of Brisbane, and the Court would have no power, but if it extended a hundred miles south of Brisbane the Court could act, as the dispute would then be within New South Wales territory. The people of the Commonwealth only by their own vote can alter that law. Feeling sure that the Arbitration Court will sit as soon as the President is of the opinion that he has authority to act, I earnestly appeal to the parties immediately concerned and to the people of the Commonwealth to declare in favour of the matter in dispute being submitted to the Court by mutual arrangement, each party agreeing to accept the award. As an industrial dispute it ought to be brought before the Court. The one Court likely to deal with it satisfactorily would be the Federal Court. It would be a pity if it had to wait until the dispute extended to another State.

"In all probability if the case cannot be brought before the Federal Court at an early date it will become an interstate dispute. I think every effort should be made by all parties to avoid that calamity."

DEFYING THE LAW.

UNION VIGILANCE OFFICERS.

POLICE COMMISSIONER'S SHARP WARNING.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

Official strike bulletin No. 4 contained what is stated to be an official text of the correspondence which had taken place between the Commissioner for Police and the strike committee's president with regard to the vigilance officers whom the committee took it upon themselves to appoint. In the first letter to the committee Major Cahill stated he had been notified that a number of persons in groups, with bands on their arms bearing the letters "V. O.," were stationed about the streets at the instance of some person or persons in the Trades Hall, and that they purported to be there in the interests of public order. "I have to inform you," the letter continued, "that preservation of the public order is entrusted to me by the Government of this State, and I will not allow any interloping or interference with my functions. I have now to direct you to withdraw the above referred to persons from the streets, otherwise the police will be ordered to treat them as street loiterers."

The reply of the combined unions' committee to this communication by Mr. Coyne, M.L.A., as president of the combined unions' committee, sarcastically said the committee had presumed the police were interested in the maintenance of law and order.

The Commissioner, in reply, simply referred his correspondent to his previous communication.

The extent of the committee's desire to regard the laws of the land may be gauged by the steps which it took to deal with the above correspondence. Immediately upon the receipt of Major Cahill's first letter instructions were issued to all vigilance officers to report to headquarters. This was done, and Mr. Coyne addressed them. He read all the correspondence, and advised them to go on with the splendid work they were doing, work for which not only the strike committee and the unions, but all the citizens were grateful. He urged them to keep to their work, to give the police no technical excuse to arrest them, and, above all, if arrested, to offer no resistance whatever. More than 500 V.O. men were present, and all agreed to go on duty at once and obey instructions.

ORPHANS WITHOUT BREAD.

UNIONISTS HAVE PLENTY.

BRISBANE, Sunday.

Questioned to-day about future supplies, Mr. M'Lachlan, M.L.A., one of the Labour leaders, remarked there would be plenty of bread and meat for the unionists to-day.

The position of boarded-out State children is one which is causing grave anxiety to the orphanage authorities. Inquiries have been made by officers of the department, and a large number of cases of distress have already been found. Some foster mothers had made absolutely no provision for a complete stoppage of all food supplies. In one case it could be said that practically immediate starvation confronted the family, while in others the position was certain to quickly become as keenly acute. The department was doing its utmost to make provision for the little ones.

As an instance of how some families have been pushed for supplies of bread, it is stated a quantity was brought in from Tenterfield by a traveller on the southern mail yesterday.

INTEMPERATE SPEECH.

"IF BOWMAN WERE ARRESTED."

At the Centennial Hall on Saturday night speeches were delivered by Mr. Finlayson, M.P., Mr. Mullan, Mrs. Miller, and others.

Mr. Finlayson criticised the conduct of the police, expressing sympathy with the views of a visitor who had spoken of a brutal assault by the police. Mr. Finlayson declared the police had deliberately tried to incite the crowd to conduct which would justify the authorities in arresting Mr. Bowman. He went on—"We know what we would do if they did arrest him"—(great cheering)—"but what we want you to do is to refrain from any action which could give the authorities power to arrest him." He declared Mr. Badger would not only oppose the badge clause in the arbitration plaint, but would fight the whole claim from beginning to end.

Another 3000 or 4000 persons listened to speeches in the Valley by Labour members.

The police report that there were no disturbances on either Saturday night or this morning.

THE NORTH PREPARED.

It was definitely stated by the Police Department that developments at Townsville, Rockhampton, and Cairns had all been foreseen and provided for.

UNIONISTS DEPART.

A considerable exodus of men carrying swags took place on Saturday and Sunday. Many of them still wore their red ribbons, but they expressed themselves as not wishing to be further embroiled in the trouble, and declared their intentions of stopping away from Brisbane until normal conditions were resumed.

HELPING THE POLICE.

Members of the Automobile Club in a body have placed themselves and their vehicles at the disposal of the Commissioner for Police, and they did most valuable patrol work. The Motor Boat Club took similar action.

Citizen guards have been formed in almost every suburb to enable local people to carry on their business.

A number of mounted bushmen have arrived in the city, and to-morrow will join the mounted police force. They have come from many quarters of Southern Queensland. On Saturday night a contingent arrived from the Beaudesert district, and was duly sworn in. This afternoon Lockyer sent its quota. To-morrow Toogoolawah and Esk will add their quota. All are men trained to saddle, and most of them have had military experience. They have come in their civilian capacity and of their own initiative. The men are camped in the Domain.

RETURNING TO WORK.

TRAMWAY MEN.

It is known that there has been a considerable revulsion of feeling during the last few days amongst the more sensible section of the tramway men who left their employment over the badge business, and this has been brought about very largely by the disclosure of the facts in the press. It is safe to say that not one man amongst those who were cajoled into leaving work was aware of the fact that the claim before the Federal Arbitration Court actually contained a clause referring to badges. The men had been out over a fortnight before Mr. Brennan, M.P., and Mr. Finlayson, M.P., confessed that they had made a mistake. Several men whose eyes were thus opened have indicated a desire for reinstatement in the tramway service within the last day or two.

COMPULSORY CONFERENCE WANTED.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

An application was made to the President of the Federal Arbitration Court on Saturday by Mr. Rundle, of Messrs. Brennan and Rundle, solicitors, on behalf of the Australian Tramway Employees' Association, with a view

National Library of Australia
http://nla.gov.au/nla.news-page1292600

to a compulsory conference in regard to the Brisbane strike. The secretary of the association was also present.

The President refused the application, on the ground that there was no evidence to show that the dispute extended, or was likely to extend, beyond Queensland.

Mr. Rundle intimated that he would make an application on receipt of further evidence as to the dispute.

THE WARREGO'S CREW.

The president, Mr. W. T. Appleton, and the secretary, Mr. A. C. M'Donald, of the Commonwealth Steamship Owners' Association, appeared before the President of the Federal Arbitration Court and made a statement regarding the position as to the steamer Warrego, a vessel trading on the coast of Queensland. The men gave notice to quit, which it was contended they were entitled to do under the award, and left the ship.

Mr. Justice Higgins held that the men had acted in conformity with the award.

Mr. Prendergast, secretary of the Federated Tramway Employees' Association, received a letter yesterday from Mr. Stewart, Registrar of the Commonwealth Court of Conciliation and Arbitration, asking that further evidence be supplied with regard to the necessity for a compulsory conference.

The requisite evidence is now being prepared by Mr. Prendergast, and a further application will be made for a compulsory conference to-morrow or Tuesday.

MELBOURNE MEN UNEASY.

DESIRE TO STRIKE.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

A general meeting of the Australian Tramways Employees' Association will be held on Thursday, when consideration will be given to the Brisbane strike. It is stated that considerable unrest exists among the men, and that difficulty is being experienced in holding them back. The object, it is stated, is to create an interstate dispute for Arbitration Court purposes.

NO INTERVENTION.

MR. FISHER FIRM.

PARLIAMENT HAS NO POWER.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

It was rumoured to-day that a request had been made to the Prime Minister that the Federal Parliament should be summoned with a view of the Commonwealth intervening in the matter and settling the dispute.

The view was held by some trades unionists that the Parliament could take control in some way, possibly by assuming the charge of Brisbane tramways, in the interests of good government, relying apparently upon those words in the Constitution which have often been used to support a claim for the application of the American doctrine of eminent domain in the Commonwealth.

When Mr. Fisher was interviewed on the subject to-day, and asked whether he had been requested to summon the Federal Parliament, he replied "What to do?" To further questions he added that a union had made the request to him, but he did not appear to think that the idea was practical.

"The trouble all along," he said, "has been that Federal powers have not been full enough. Nobody has admitted the right of the Commonwealth to intervene in what is a State dispute. The press have been strongest in declaring that the Commonwealth has no right to interfere. The whole thing has been a struggle to get the matter before the Arbitration Court to enlarge the dispute into a Federal matter. Why should we call Parliament together? To enable the Opposition to direct that troops should be sent to the aid of the Queensland Government? If troops were sent out in Brisbane there would surely be bloodshed."

THE UNION'S VERSION.

FIGHT FOR PRINCIPLE.

PROHIBITION OF BADGES UNLAWFUL.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Mr. O'Connor, the president of the Australian Tramway Employees' Association, who has just returned from Brisbane, made the following statement to-day. He said:—

"Mr. Badger was misled into the trouble by members of the Free Workers' Union inducing him to believe that that organisation had the majority of the employees. I attended the meeting at which it was resolved to wear the union badges. It was not the desire of our members to cause friction between themselves and the company. Their sole desire was to retain their rights as citizens. In other parts of the Commonwealth there has been no objection raised to the wearing of the badges. We have obtained the best legal advice on the question, and have been informed that so long as the medal is worn on a watchchain, which is part of the employee's personal property, it is illegal to victimise him for doing so.

"Mr. Badger has stated that under the agreement the men have signed they are not permitted to wear medals. Clause 4 of the agreement, which is the only one that could possibly refer to the wearing of badges, is as follows:—'The employee will faithfully fulfil all his duties on any route on which the manager from time to time directs him to perform his services, and faithfully account for and pay over to the company daily, and as much oftener as may be required, all moneys and tickets which he received during the period of his employment for and on behalf of the company, and especially will observe and be bound by all the clauses of the rules and regulations which relate to employees now in force or published from time to time.'

"It was pointed out that this agreement could not be construed into prohibition against wearing badges," Mr. O'Connor continued, "but he replied that it was near enough, and that the men knew what was meant. I have carefully looked through the rule-book, and there is nothing in it referring to the wearing of medals or badges. The only way that the difficulty can be settled is for Mr. Badger to allow the wearing of medals for the eight days remaining before the matter comes before the Arbitration Court. Mr. Justice Higgins could then be allowed to settle the question of whether the men were entitled to wear badges or not. Unless this is done there can be no settlement, as the Brisbane unionists are determined to fight this question of union principle to the end."

MR. WADE'S VIEW.

A WARNING.

"NO EXCUSE FOR THE STRIKE."

TUMUT, Saturday.

Mr. C. G. Wade, M.L.A., leader of the State Opposition, addressed a large crowd of electors, including many ladies, from the verandah of the Woolpack Hotel. The temperature was too severe for a hall to be engaged. The Mayor, Alderman Madigan, presided.

Mr. Wade denounced class prejudices, and objected to the policy of the Government as favouring their own section only. The Liberals endeavoured to do justice to three classes—the workers, the employers, and the consumers. Wages boards, arbitration courts, and other tribunals were adopted to afford redress to the various classes and trades. The employers were called upon to submit, and the obligation was the same with the employee.

The action of the Liberal Government was referred to in connection with the late coal strike. The Liberals were penalised in the last campaign, losing votes and office. They had tried to do justice to all parties, and paid the penalty. The events in Queensland were a warning and an object lesson, showing the danger of the irresponsible people. Another 48 hours and starvation would confront half a million people, and the trouble might spread through the State, bringing incalculable loss through a minor squabble with the tramway directors over a badge. There was no excuse for the strike affecting the people as it did, because there was machinery in the law to deal with it, and the workers could keep to their duties. Either the laws should be loyally observed or wiped out. The Labour party's principle was to help and encourage those who were within the sacred circle of the union. Unless men belonged to unions they were not allowed to work. Trade improvement was put on one side. Stipulations were made that men would have to join the union and afterwards support the Labour platform, or be chucked out. The proper course would be to make the platform attractive.

The State Parliament last June decreed that farm and dairy hands must join unions, or they would not be allowed to work. But the Liberal party got the gross injustice done away with, although unable to succeed similarly as to other trades. There were over half a million workers, but only 128,000 belonged to unions. The people would eventually realise the iniquity and un-British condition of affairs.

NEWS IN SYDNEY.

UNION HELP.

UNANIMITY OF STRIKERS.

According to communications received by the secretaries of various unions in Sydney from similar bodies in Brisbane, the members of the Brisbane unions appear to have obeyed the call to strike with unanimity. The secretary of the Saddle and Harness Makers' Union has been notified by wire that every member of the Brisbane union is on strike, and has signed the roll-call twice daily. Mr. J. B. Crombie has received a similar message. Steps are being taken by the various Sydney unions to support their Brisbane comrades affected by the strike.

In addition to the amount, close upon £300, previously forwarded, a sum of £80, collected by the New South Wales Tramway Employees for the members of the Brisbane union, was forwarded on Saturday.

HELP FOR STRIKERS.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

The South Australian Tramway Employees' Association wired £135 to the Brisbane branch on Saturday.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN UNION.

PERTH, Sunday.

The metropolitan council of the Australian Labour Federation has despatched circulars to all affiliated unions recommending them to take action for the provision of financial support for the Brisbane strikers. The Perth and Fremantle Tramway Employees' Unions have struck 5s levies in aid of the Brisbane strikers.

The Perth union resolved that it would be inadvisable to come out in sympathy with the Brisbane men, as by continuing at work they would be able to provide financial assistance for the men's dependents.

SHIPPING.

MALLINA DELAYED AT SYDNEY

CREW MIGHT BE PAID OFF.

In accordance with the eleventh-hour arrangement made by the Orient Steam Navigation Company, the R.M.S. Orsova was despatched from Sydney for Brisbane on Saturday afternoon, clearing the Heads at 4.45. She carried a large number of passengers. The Howard Smith liner Peregrine also took passengers for Brisbane, but no cargo for that port. The same applied to the Marloo, of the Adelaide Steamship Company's line. The A.U.S.N. Company's Mallina, which was to have left on Saturday, with cargo only, for Rockhampton direct, was ordered to remain at the wharf, owing to the strike in Brisbane having extended, or threatening to extend, to Rockhampton. It was reported last night that there was every possibility of the crew of this vessel being paid off to-day. The Federal Houlder-shire liner Cornwall sailed for Brisbane on Saturday, in accordance with the original programme. The Howard Smith steamer Burwah arrived at Sydney yesterday from Rockhampton a day ahead of time, this being the result of only a brief call being made at Moreton Bay. The A.U.S.N. Company's steamer Wyreema is advertised to leave for Brisbane and northern ports tomorrow. She took in no cargo for Brisbane at Melbourne, and if the strike should be continued, none will be received in Sydney.

IT WILL EXTEND.

NOT A WHEEL TO GO ROUND.

MR. O'CONNOR'S THREAT.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

"I do not wish to indulge in tall talk, but my opinion is that if this dispute is not settled by the end of next week there will be one of the most serious strikes that has ever occurred throughout Australia," said Mr. O'Connor, president of the Australian Tramway Employees' Association.

"Not a single wheel will go round in any tramway service in any of the States, and, besides, the trouble will extend to the Stevedores, Waterside, and Federated Workers' associations, while the railway employees of New South Wales, by virtue of being affiliated with the Tramway Association, will have to come out.

"The secretary of our association, Mr. G. L. Prendergast, left last night for South Australia, where a mass meeting of tramway men will be held to-morrow, to place before them the position of affairs, and to obtain evidence to submit to Mr. Justice Higgins to prove that an interstate dispute does exist. The tramway men there as yet have not worn badges. I think it will be found that a resolution will be carried at Adelaide to-morrow showing that the dispute in connection with the wearing of medals extends to another State, and that State is Adelaide.

"We are holding a conference of transport workers of Australia on Tuesday; also the Enginedrivers' Association on the Wednesday, when it is further indicative of a big struggle throughout Australia failing an almost immediate settlement."

TROUBLE IN THE NORTH.

FURTHER STRIKES.

CHARTERS TOWERS, Sunday.

At a mass meeting to-day the following resolution was carried:—"As a protest against the methods of the Queensland Government in connection with the Brisbane strike, the workers of Charters Towers, as represented at this meeting, declare their intention of ceasing work at 8 a.m. on Tuesday next, and instructs the Charters Towers unions to make the necessary arrangements to that end."

CAIRNS, Sunday.

At a largely attended meeting of the A.W.A. Association to-night the following telegram was received from Mr. McCormack, at Townsville:—"Call out all members A.W.A. Monday, in protest Brisbane strike. Resolution passed endorsing foregoing, also action other unions coming out sympathy. Waterside Association and railway workers waiting advice from headquarters."

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Sir,—It is unnecessary to emphasise the fact that Brisbane is in a state of siege, and that there is domestic violence there. Under these circumstances the Premier applied to Mr. Fisher, the Prime Minister of the Commonwealth, to carry out the law as laid down in the Constitution Act, the same Act which gives us the position of Prime Minister, a position Mr. Fisher happens to hold. The Constitution Act leaves no discretion to the Commonwealth at all. It says that "The Commonwealth shall protect every State against invasion, and on the application of the Executive Government of the State against domestic violence."

Mr. Fisher's reply to the request of the Premier of Queensland for military aid is "No soldiers allowed by the Commonwealth. Police can cover." The Queensland Premier is on the spot at Brisbane, and must be taken to be a better judge of the gravity of the situation than Mr. Andrew Fisher in Melbourne, but Mr. Fisher throws his request aside.

Taken in conjunction with the resolution concerning the aid of the military in industrial matters, the reply passed by the Hobart conference, the reply of Mr. Fisher is ominous indeed. The question for sober-minded people in Australia to consider is how far we are off anarchy and revolution, when a Prime Minister can so far, shall I say, forget himself? No; shall I not rather say fail to comprehend what his duty is? A brave leader is admired even by his enemies, a timid partisan who is amenable to caucus revolutionary methods is despised even by his own side.

I am, etc.,
ORDER.

SOUTH AUSTRALIA'S CRISIS.

APPEAL TO THE IMPERIAL AUTHORITIES.

ANOTHER MEMORANDUM.

A DETERMINED GOVERNMENT.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

On Thursday morning the Governor was handed for transmission to the Secretary of State for the Colonies a communication signed by the Premier, dealing with the constitutional position.

The Attorney-General stated:—"The document is in the form of an addendum to the memorandum sent to the Secretary of State so far back as November 2 last. The latter document dealt with the general difficulty of the relations between the two Houses, and had, of course, no reference to the laying aside of the Appropriation Bill, which occurred on December 23, and the consequent decision of the Government to exhaust their constitutional remedies by means of a double dissolution. It became necessary, therefore, to place an official presentment of the subsequent data before the Secretary of State, so that the Imperial Government might be fully acquainted with the events that have transpired should it be deemed advisable to make further representations to the Imperial authorities."

The addendum to the memorandum and appeal reviews the history of the rejection of the Appropriation Bill, and quotes the constitutional position, including the arrangement made between the two Houses in 1857, which enabled the Legislative Council to suggest amendments to money bills. It continues:—"The Government have now definitely declined to be bound by an arrangement which is out of consonance with all modern ideas as to the relative rights of the two houses, which makes the Parliamentary machine quite unworkable, and which is, this Government claims, ultra vires and null so far as it gives the Legislative Council power to control the finances of the State. This Government has therefore intimated that it declines to be bound by the arrangement, and one of the first acts of the Government in the new Parliament will be the passing of a resolution rescinding the arrangement."

The memorandum goes on to state that, no matter what constitutional means they might take, there will be little hope that the Council will refrain from further frustrating the will of the people expressed by the votes of the popular House. It concludes:—"In these circumstances Ministers are of opinion that it is their duty to lay these additional facts before you now instead of waiting until the crisis has actually occurred, so that you may be fully seized of the grave constitutional issues involved."

THE LATEST TOWN.

TO BE CALLED LEETON.

PROJECTS FOR THE IRRIGATION AREA.

Leeton is to be the name of the latest town established in New South Wales. It is the one that has been planned on model lines by Mr. L. A. B. Wade, Chief Engineer for Irrigation, on the Murrumbidgee area. The title is a compliment to Mr. C. A. Lee, Minister for Works in the Wade Government, who, while in office, had the irrigation project referred to the Public Works Committee, and afterwards obtained Parliamentary sanction for it. A native name, Talangara, meaning "running water," was first hit upon, but discarded.

The Irrigation Trust has also decided to establish a general store on the construction works for the benefit of the workmen, and also, where the size of the camps will justify them, schools of arts.

At the cost of the department, books and periodicals will be provided free to the workmen. The institutions will be under canvas.

It was proposed some time ago to appoint lecturers on irrigation, and applications were called. The trust has now decided that there shall be no appointments until the relation of the number of applicants to the area of land available has been ascertained, and then only if there should not be a sufficiency of applicants for land.

HEAT WAVE.

WESTERN DISTRICTS SUFFER.

No rain so far this month has been reported. Sultry conditions ruled on the coast, while a heat wave covered our western districts. Some of the highest temperatures which have been reported for the present summer have been registered in the south-western districts. Wentworth reports 114, and Mogil, Menindie, Euston, and Balranald 110, and Cudgellico 116.

MELBOURNE SWELTERING.

RECORD HEAT WAVE.

MELBOURNE, Saturday.

All Friday Victoria lay sweltering in a mist of heat, and from the official forecast issued there appears to be no immediate prospect of relief. The week is coming near to rival the great heat wave of 1908, both in intensity and strength, the official maximum temperature to-day being 106.2. Further cases of sunstroke have been reported at the hospitals, but none fatal. At South Melbourne, where a temperature record was reported above those registered for some years past, men employed at the iron-rolling mills and foundries found it impossible to continue their work, on account of the extreme heat of the tools which they were called upon to handle. These shops, and many others and factories, were closed down, and work in foundries will not be resumed till Monday. A number of labourers employed at Grace Park, Hawthorn, reported to the foreman that their tools were growing too hot to hold, and work was ceased.

The country temperature figures for the last three or four days also indicate that in many instances the heat wave is fiercer and of longer duration than has been known for four years. Bush fires are reported from all parts of the country, but so far they have not proved serious.

CADET PARADES CANCELLED.

ADELAIDE, Saturday.

In view of the extreme heat, the Military Commandant has cancelled cadet parades until more favourable weather prevails.

School children are suffering considerably, and it has been suggested that lessons should cease until a change occurs.

KANGAROO VALLEY, Saturday.

The temperature on Friday reached 100 in the shade. Running fires around McGuires, also at Budgong, destroyed a great quantity of fencing and grass. The danger has not yet passed. Mr. Dick Nelson sustained a heavy loss through the destruction of his barn and contents by fire last night. Grass seed, grain, saddlery, farm implements and some machinery were burnt, the value being almost £100. The property was insured.

FEDERAL PARSIMONY.

POSTMISTRESS' SALARY.

DENILIQUIN, Saturday.

The Windorran Shire Council has decided to enter an emphatic protest against the recent reduction in the salary of the postmistress at Pretty Pine.

She formerly received £45 a year for a seven days' service of receiving and despatching mails, attending to the telephone, and supplying a suitable office.

This has been reduced by the Labour Government to a salary of £37 10s.

POSTAL MOTOR CYCLES.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

The Deputy Postmaster-General of Victoria is calling for tenders in the Government "Gazette" for the supply of motor cycles. These machines are to be used for the collection of mails from pillar-boxes where pedal cycles are now used, and also for the delivery of the parcels post. It is believed that motor cycles are the most speedy and most easily managed machines for this work.

AUSTRALIAN SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS.

PERTH, Sunday.

The Australian championship swimming carnival was opened yesterday in the Perth Baths, when E. Finlay, of Western Australia, won the 220 yards breast-stroke championship, and established a world's record in 3m 12s for the distance. Schryver (W.A.) was a poor second, and Blunt (Vic.) third.

The open handicap, of 100 yards, was won by Pike (Queensland) in 1m 11s, Stehn and McKinlay filling the minor places.

Longworth (N.S.W.) captured the 100 yards championship, winning comfortably from Stenberg (W.A.) and Springfield (Q.), in 58 4-5s.

The 880 yards handicap went to Springfield (Q.), Pike (Q.) being second. Time, 12m 21 2-5s.

NEW ZEALAND TRAM STRIKE.

POSSIBLE EXTENSION.

PEACE EFFORTS FAIL.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

It is not easy at the present moment to forecast whether a termination of the present strike will be reached at an early date, or whether it will spread to other unions. The points in dispute have been narrowed down to the language in which the decision to give Inspector Fuller employment shall be expressed.

The City Council met on Saturday morning to consider the position arising from the strikers' rejection of the terms of settlement, because they represented Fuller's transference as being "at his own request." Each of the four councillors who had represented the council at the conference with the strikers' representatives, made a statement.

Councillor Shirtcliffe said only one man was responsible for the hitch—Mr. W. T. Young, chairman of the strike committee. He urged the council not to move from its position, and to insist that Fuller's transference was at his own request.

The strike committee then waited on the council to announce the result of Friday night's meeting, and the council went into committee. Suddenly loud voices could be heard in the chamber. Shortly afterwards the councillors commenced to emerge from the chamber in ones and twos. Then Councillor Hindmarsh's voice could be heard in angry conversation with the acting Mayor. Councillor Hindmarsh was declaring the council had engineered Inspector Fuller's letter of resignation, but this Councillor Smith and other councillors denied. Warm words such as "lies" and "honest men," "exposure," and "contemptible act" were used. Councillor Hindmarsh stated he would not be ruled out of order by the acting Mayor.

The meeting broke up in complete disorder, and the councillors promptly left the building, chagrined at the unexpected turn of events.

Councillor Hindmarsh is a Labour M.P. for Wellington South. He stated he told the acting Mayor "to go to the devil."

After the meeting broke up the town clerk made the following statement:—"Delegates of the strike committee came over to furnish us with an official report of the result of last night's meeting of the union. They also asked to meet the delegates of the council. The delegates of both sides met, and representatives of the strike committee advanced a further proposal in the direction of a settlement. They asked that No. 1 clause should be deleted entirely from the previous basis of agreement, and that the council's own resolution of yesterday should be substituted and embodied in an agreement as follows:—'That it be an instruction to the electrical engineer on the settlement of the dispute to have Inspector Fuller placed in a position where he will not have any dealings with members of the Tramways Union.' The council was considering this proposal when an unfortunate incident occurred which led to its compulsory adjournment until Monday morning."

The strike committee met last night, several trade union representatives being present. It was decided to give the council till noon on Monday to agree to the amended demand mentioned in the foregoing. Failing this, members of various other unions will be asked to down tools in sympathy with the tramway employees. The Typographical Union holds a special meeting on Wednesday to consider the request to join the strike movement. It is said to be extremely doubtful if the request will be acceded to.

LONDON WOOL SALES.

LONDON, Feb. 2.

At the wool auctions this afternoon fine wools were well competed for. Average and faulty sorts were weak, and there were considerable withdrawals.

LONDON, Feb. 4.

During the wool sales, 90,000 bales were sold for the Home market, 66,000 for the Continent, and 12,000 for the United States, while 13,500 bales were held.

Compared with the December closing rates, best combing merino wool was fully maintained, and wasty and faulty generally showed a decline of 5 per cent. Crossbred declined during last week, and closed equal with the December rates. Best merino lambs' wool advanced 5 per cent., others being unchanged.

The following prices were obtained:—Yanko, highest price /12, average /10¼; Burenda, /13¼, /12¼; Welltown, /13¼, /13½; Womnamintu, /21½, /20½; Elleralie, /12¼, /12½; Jerilderie, /11, /9¼; Howlong, /11, /10¼; Jemalong, /10, /9¼; Abundance, /14, /12¾; Gordon Downs, /12¼, /12; Iris Downs, /12¼, /11¼.

SNAKES IN TOWN

ROCKLEY, Saturday.

The dry weather is causing serious trouble. Many householders have to cart water, in some instances considerable distances, the supply in tanks, etc., having run out. Snakes are making their appearance in the township, evidently coming down from the bush in search of water. Mr. Toole, manager of the Bank of Commerce here, while reading in his dining-room on Wednesday evening, was startled to see a tiger snake, 4ft long close beside him on the floor, it having entered through the open doorway. He hit it with a bagatelle cue, but it made its escape into the garden, where it was ultimately despatched. Only a few days before a snake of the same species was killed in broad daylight entering Miss Keating's store, in the main street here.

ENGLAND SCORES.

VICTORIA OUTPLAYED.

HEARNE 143, DOUGLAS 140.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Despite the intense heat, nearly 5000 people were present at the Melbourne Cricket Ground yesterday to witness the Blackman benefit match, England v Victoria. Hearne and Douglas succeeded in making 213 for the sixth wicket. Douglas was nearly 5½ hours in scoring 140 runs. Hearne further emphasised the fact that he stands right in the first rank of English batsmen by playing an admirable innings for 143 runs, made in 3 hours 48 minutes.

The Victorian fielding was excellent, but their batting was disappointing.

Douglas's attack on Brown was so out of keeping with his previous play that Scott took the ball from the Northcote boy after one over. Douglas cut him for four and two, which brought him to 70. He had added a dozen in five minutes. He glanced McDonald cleanly to the fence, and had made 17 of the 20 which had then been added. He cut one over Spencer's head at third man. Hearne came to 140 by back-cutting Scott.

Spencer took the place of Scott when the score was 336, while Matthews relieved McDonald at 338, and with his third ball bowled Hearne, who had hit 20 fours. He was three hours forty-eight minutes at the wickets. The partnership added 213 runs in three hours eleven minutes. Smith, who followed, glanced the first ball for four, and scored 14 out of the first 20 added. Douglas was making short runs, and off one Matthews took a flying shot, which produced four—for an overthrow. Then Spencer, after bowling six overs for five runs, gave way to Brown. Douglas gained his 100, after being 219 minutes at the wickets. At lunch the score was 386, Smith being 25 and Douglas 103.

After lunch the attendance increased considerably. The partnership was continued, both batsmen scoring freely. When Smith had made 22 Armstrong missed a sharp one-handed chance off McDonald. It was the first catch missed in the innings. The score was brought up to 400 after six hours batting. At 3 p.m., when the score was 427, Smith was out l.b.w. to Brown. He scored 47 runs in 72 minutes, including six fours. Iremonger filled the vacancy. Douglas played steadily, taking no risks, but occasionally hitting. Iremonger, who, so far, has failed to produce English form, seemed over anxious, and was batting very streakily.

After the innings had lasted six hours 54 minutes 450 was posted. The crowd occasionally jeered Douglas for his slow play, but it had no effect. When Iremonger had made 9 in 40 minutes he was caught in the slips by Armstrong off Scott, and the eighth wicket fell for 456. Barnes followed. After an interval of slow scoring Douglas jumped out and drove Scott to long-off, where Seitz on the fence took a catch. He had been batting five hours and 27 minutes, and had hit 14 fours and one five while scoring his 140. The ninth wicket fell for 465. Hitch had only made one when he skied Matthews to cover-point, and was brilliantly caught by Brown. The innings closed for 467, Barnes not out 4.

The Victorian innings opened after the tea adjournment, Seitz and Baring facing the bowling of Hitch and Barnes. After Baring had scored 3 off Barnes, Seitz put his leg in front to the last ball of the over, and was out. Smith followed, and Baring greeted him with a leg-stroke to the chains off Hitch, but the next ball went to first slip, and Gunn held the catch. Spencer was next, but before scoring he cut Hitch into Woolley's hands; but the catch was lost. Spencer was 17 minutes at the wickets before he scored with a back cut off Barnes.

Smith was batting nicely, when he was trapped by Barnes, who caught and bowled him. McKenzie, who followed, cut Hitch to the fence; four byes came from a ball of Hitch's which flew over the wicket. McKenzie, after scoring 5, played Barnes on, and 4 wickets were down for 49, of which Barnes had taken three for 14 off 45 balls. When Hitch had bowled 8 overs for 25 runs he had to retire overcome by the heat. Vine took his place, and Woolley bowled. Scott was in 10 minutes before scoring, when he cut Woolley for 4. With the score at 56, Iremonger relieved Barnes. Shortly before 6 o'clock Scott was run out through Spencer failing to respond to his call; he scored 15, and batted well, and had just made two very nice cuts. Barnes bowled Spencer when he had made 18 with the last ball of the day.

Following are the scores:—

THE FOURTH TEST.

TWELVE PLAYERS SELECTED.

J. W. MACLAREN INCLUDED.

The Australian selectors have picked the team to represent Australia against England in the fourth test match, which is to begin at Melbourne on Friday next. The team, as communicated to us by Mr. Sydney Smith, jun., hon. secretary of the Board of Control, will be as follows:—

C. Hill (capt.) (S.A.)	W. Bardsley (N.S.W.)
V. T. Trumper (N.S.W.)	C. Kelleway (N.S.W.)
H. Carter (N.S.W.)	W. W. Armstrong (Vic.)
A. Cotter (N.S.W.)
R. B. Minnett (N.S.W.)	V. S. Ransford (Vic.)
Dr. H. V. Hordern (N.S.W.)	T. J. Matthews (Vic.)
	J. W. Maclaren (Q.)

The only alteration in the team is the inclusion of J. W. Maclaren, the Queensland fast bowler, in place of C. G. Macartney. The team will be finally chosen in Melbourne.

RAILWAY PERILS.

WAGGA, Saturday.

Bitter complaints have been made about the alleged careless driving of local trains. It is alleged that on Tuesday evening the mixed goods train which left Junee after passing Harefield gave a sudden lurch, and scattered the passengers about the compartments. One gentleman had a narrow escape from being injured by a portmanteau, which was sent flying from the rack.

The train came to a standstill at Bomen platform. Several passengers stood up preparatory to alighting, when the train was restarted with great violence, hurling the passengers and luggage about. Mr. G. W. Cummins, a well-known surveyor, was the least fortunate, being stunned through his head coming into violent contact with the opposite side of the car. First aid had to be rendered. In two cars lamp globes were smashed, and several passengers received shocks.

TWENTY YEARS' IMPRISONMENT.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

For assaulting a girl, 9 years of age, Albert Hughes, 26, was sentenced, at Wellington, to 20 years' imprisonment.

Judge Chapman said this was the cruellest and most brutal outrage he ever heard of. The public were not aware of the fact that these crimes were by no means infrequent. He felt the necessity of doing his best to stamp them out, as, in a few years, he had tried more than a hundred of these cases.

POLICE RAID.

ALLEGED TWO-UP SCHOOL.

At about 3.15 p.m. yesterday afternoon the police, under Sub-Inspector Kelly and Senior-sergeant Allen, made a raid on a supposed two-up school in Wentworth Park, Glebe, and made 11 arrests.

Nera, F.M.S., left Noumea on Friday. She should arrive here to-morrow morning.

Pacifique, F.M.S., from Sydney, was due at Noumea on Saturday.

Kasama, s (Bucknall line), arrived at Suez on Wednesday last, 31st ult., after a good passage from Melbourne.

Morea, R.M.S., from London via ports, arrived at Adelaide yesterday a day behind schedule time, due to delays by heavy gales.

Orsova, R.M.S., which left for Brisbane on Saturday afternoon, is due back on Friday.

Persic, s (White Star line) left Melbourne on Saturday, and is due at Sydney to-day.

MILTIADES, FROM LONDON.

The Aberdeen liner Miltiades includes in her passenger list a number of new settlers. On her prior trip to Australia she brought an exceptionally desirable lot of immigrants, whose appearance and conduct aroused favourable comment. In the opinion of Captain Schleman, those by the liner on her present visit are in every respect equal to their forerunners, and he has no doubt that they will prove their worth in the Commonwealth. Unfortunately, the voyage was marred by two deaths. A third-class passenger, named Mrs. Taylor, died shortly after leaving Capetown from meningitis, whilst a steward, named Ferrara, who sustained a fractured skull through a fall, also succumbed to his injuries. After leaving Capetown the vessel for five day encountered strong head winds and heavy seas, which greatly retarded her progress, but she subsequently made up a good deal of leeway, a speed of 15 knots at times being recorded. The night before arrival in Melbourne a highly successful dance was given on deck, whilst musical selections in the saloon contributed to one of the most harmonious functions ever held on the vessel. Captain Schleman has with him the following officers:—D. B. Piggie, chief officer; A. Ogilvy, second officer; T. V. Roberts, third officer; A. D. Young, fourth officer; S. A. Payne, fifth officer; J. T. Grearson, chief engineer; J. C. Russell, second engineer; N. Balchin, purser and chief steward; A. Sandison, surgeon; J. M. Pringle, Marconi operator.

A FAST PASSAGE.

The McArthur Shipping and Agency Company, Ltd., are in receipt of a cablegram, advising the arrival of the new steamer Clan Macgillivray at Calais on February 2. The steamer sailed from Fremantle on January 1, and has, therefore, performed the voyage in 31 days.

THE NEW MAUNGANUI.

The Union Company's new steamer Maunganui, whose specially fast trip from London to Melbourne was referred to on Saturday, should make her appearance in Port Jackson to-day. She was specially built for the company's Vancouver service by Govan, of Fairfield. She has been described as one of the finest and most artistically finished liners of her size in the world. Accommodation is provided for first, second, and third class passengers. In the first saloon a beautiful commodious apartment, extending the full width of the ship, 144 people, the full complement of this section, can be seated at the one time; whilst 110 in the second and 68 in the third class can be similarly provided for. White enamelled woodwork is the all-pervading feature of the first-class accommodation, the social hall or music-room being tastefully set off by "touchings" of gold. This is an especially attractive apartment, with big square bevelled-glass windows and glass doors, the furnishings being attractive and comfortable. A fine grand piano is installed. Adjoining this room is a commodious lounge, in which gentlemen may be seen smoking or indulging in cards with male or lady companions on voyage. These "mixed" lounges are a recent innovation, and have leapt into favour as affording unrestricted social relations between lady and gentlemen passengers. The Maunganui can carry in all about 300 voyagers. The cabins are all roomy and well ventilated, a fair number having two berths only. Upon arrival in Melbourne the vessel had 350 on board, all of whom spoke in unqualified praise. The Maunganui is fitted with "wireless," and all the latest conveniences for safe and comfortable ocean travel. A valuable adjunct of her equipment is a system of hot and cold air ventilation, by which the temperature of the whole ship can be regulated to the fraction of a degree. Her cargo capacity is equal to 5000 tons, provision being made for the carriage of a considerable quantity of frozen produce. The life-saving equipment consists of 14 lifeboats, a steam launch, a number of rafts, and the usual supply of life-buoys, life-belts, etc.

Captain L. C. H. Worrall, an old and esteemed servant of the Union line, is in command of the Maunganui, having been specially delegated by the company to proceed to England and bring her out to Australia. He expresses himself as more than satisfied with the liner, whose steadiness at sea he specially remarked upon. Mr. P. Mudie, chief engineer, is another well-known identity of the "Red Funnel" service. He, too, was sent home to superintend the construction of the vessel's engines, which, he proudly remarks, were not "eased" for a moment, excepting in bad weather, during the voyage.

FEATURES OF THE INDRAPURA.

The new "Indra" liner Indrapura, which arrived at Melbourne on Thursday, brought one of the largest cargoes of general merchandise that has ever come forward from London for Australian and New Zealand ports. While embodying all the most approved appliances and conveniences of the modern cargo-carrier, this steamer possesses several additional interesting features, which call for special mention. Of these probably the most important is the "Rich" fire detector and extinguisher, a similar equipment to that used on the giant "Cunarder" Mauretania. This ingenious invention periodically tests each of the holds in search of smoke. Should an outbreak of fire be discovered the work of extinguishing it is operated from the chart-house, an immense pressure of steam being projected on the fire by automatic means.

For handling cargo quickly she is fitted with an unusual number of the latest patent winches, with extra long derricks for roadstead work, as well as a heavyweight "lift" up to 20 tons. To further facilitate this work she is equipped, in addition to the usual electric lighting installation, with a complete system of acetylene flare lights to each hatch, giving an illumination equal to 17,500 candle-power. Another novelty is a patent hold-ladder, invented by Captain Horne. This is an ingenious contrivance, by means of which access may be had at all times to the ship's double bottom, tank lids, etc., although the vessel may at the time be full of cargo.

Propelled by twin-screws, the Indrapura is 508ft in length, and has a beam of 61ft; her sea speed under ordinary conditions being 14½ knots an hour. Her insulated space for the carriage of perishable produce is extensive, "Indra" liners doing a big trade in this connection between New Zealand ports and London.

The accommodation for officers and crew is in conformity with the high standard of the ship generally, among the conveniences for the crew being a continuous hot-water service day and night. A limited number of passengers are also provided for in excellent staterooms amidships.

The liner is under the command of Captain R. P. Craven, an old and popular identity of the "Indra" line. He has associated with him the following officers:—Chief, Mr. Elwell; second, Mr. J. Hatfield; third, Mr. J. Edwards; chief engineer, Mr. J. Pratt; second, Mr. Nelson. Generally regarded, the voyage of the Indrapura was productive of normal conditions.

AUSTRALIAN WEATHER.

THE "HERALD" MAP.

During the past 24 hours the high pressure has practically remained stationary and is, therefore, responsible for the heat wave which is at present operating over South Australia, Victoria, and our south-western districts.

Over the western half of the continent the weather there is being controlled by a monsoonal disturbance, which should result in some rain in our western districts. The high pressure over Western Australia has made very little advance.

Ocean Forecasts.—Heat wave conditions show a slight inclination to break over the southern States before Monday.

MAIL STEAMER OVERDUE.

CROYDON FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

AUCKLAND, Sunday.

The Australian mail line steamer Croydon is now 44 days out from San Francisco to Auckland.

The voyage from San Francisco to Auckland should ordinarily be accomplished within three or four weeks. It is possible the Croydon has encountered some of the terrific weather that has passed over the islands of the Pacific. The Matunga, which arrived on Saturday from Papua, was in one of a series of storms, and it took her (also a mail liner) four days to do that which is usually covered in 24 hours.

The Croydon is a steel-screw steamer, 3757 tons, built in 1898 by J. L. Thompson and Son, Ltd., Sunderland, for S.S. Homeric Company, Ltd. (A. Weir and Co. managers). She is registered at Glasgow, and is in command of Captain M'Lean.

AUSTRALIAN TEACHER.

AT PITCAIRN ISLAND.

NEWCASTLE, Sunday.

The barque Gwyder Castle arrived from Callao on Thursday, after a passage of 50 days. Captain Davies reported an uneventful voyage. The vessel visited Pitcairn Island, where an exchange of provisions and clothes was made for fruit and vegetables grown by the islanders. The population of the island now numbers 160, of whom no fewer than 40 boarded the vessel. The islanders were apparently in good health, and the children were receiving instruction from the teacher appointed by the Government. Strangely enough, this teacher is a native of Launceston, Tasmania.

NORTHERN TERRITORY TOUR.

TOO MANY APPLICANTS.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

Thirty-one members of the Federal Parliament have accepted the invitation to visit the Northern Territory.

Mr. Thomas, Minister for Home Affairs, has been able to reserve 20 berths on the steamer Eastern, which leaves for the Territory on April 10. The question of finding more berths confronts the Minister with difficulty. He has learned, however, that three of the members have already visited the Northern Territory, and has consequently been able to reduce the party to 28. It is possible that some of these may in the meantime have found that they cannot make the trip, and all are being asked to definitely state their intentions.

FINANCIAL.

COMPANY LAW.

While we are struggling manfully to get a new Companies Act on more up-to-date lines than the existing measure, reformers are also at work in Russia. It is interesting to learn what they propose. The following are the most important of the suggested changes:—The permit system of establishing share companies' undertakings will be exchanged for public notification. A company will be considered established when it is entered in the share register. The number of signatories to the memorandum of agreement must not be less than five, and each of them must take up at least one share, and the total number of shares to be taken up by these original founders must be not less than a fixed proportion (for example, one-tenth) of the total share capital. No increase of the original capital will be permitted till all the shares of the preceding issue have been fully paid. Shareholders shall have a preferential right to the acquisition of shares of new issues proportionate to the number of shares they may hold. The purchase or acceptance in security of personal shares is prohibited. The amortisation of shares is allowed only from net annual profits to the extent that such amortisation may be provided for in the statutes. The smallest capital permissible will be of 100,000 roubles (£10,625). But in cases of public utility or local importance, this limit may be reduced to 50,000 roubles (£5312). Bearer shares may not be of less than 100 roubles (£10/12/6) value each in companies of 100,000 roubles capital and upwards, and not less than of 50 roubles (£5/6/) value each in companies of less than 100,000 roubles capital. For injury done to the company or to individual shareholders by the action of founders of the company, these may be held civilly responsible. At the general meetings each shareholder must have at least one vote, and he may have as many votes as he has shares, always provided that he shall not dispose of more than a third of the votes represented at the meetings.

BANKRUPTCY REFORM.

A bill to amend the law relating to bankruptcy and deeds of arrangement has been introduced into the Imperial Parliament. The measure proposes to give effect, with some modifications and additions, to the recommendations of a Departmental Committee on Bankruptcy Law and its administration, which reported in 1908. Referring to commercial offences not now criminal—namely, (a) failure to keep trading accounts; (b) failure to explain disappearance of assets; and (c) insolvency brought about by gambling, where misconduct is at present punishable only by refusal or suspension of discharge—it is pointed out in memorandum that the committee thought these offences should, in the case of bankrupts engaged in trade or business, be made criminal; as regards (b) and (c) the bill follows their recommendation. In regard to (a) the bill makes failure to keep accounts criminally punishable only in the case of a trader who has on a previous occasion been insolvent.

At present all after-acquired property of an undischarged bankrupt is claimable by the trustee in bankruptcy. Under the bill (a) protection will be given to bona-fide purchasers of real (as is now the case with personal) property of this nature, and (b) if an undischarged bankrupt again becomes bankrupt, his assets acquired since the earlier bankruptcy will be distributed pro rata between the new and the old creditors. All married women engaged in trade are made amenable to bankruptcy proceedings upon a bankruptcy notice following judgment. With regard to marriage settlements, additional restrictions are imposed on the power to place property out of the reach of creditors, in case of bankruptcy, by means of covenants in such settlements. General assignments of book debts are to be void against a trustee in bankruptcy unless registered.

It is proposed to extend the control of bankruptcy courts over foreigners trading in Great Britain through agents or partners, and to take away the power of landlords to distrain after bankruptcy for rent payable in advance. Proposals are made to meet the devices sometimes adopted by moneylenders to evade the provision by which claims for interest in excess of 5 per cent. are to be postponed until all other claims against bankrupt estates have been paid in full.

BUSINESS APHORISMS.

Some company promoters come laden with gifts, some with gold bricks.

Every employee should have an understudy. These are good for both man and master. They enable the one to more rapidly climb higher, and the other to insure himself against awkward interregnums caused by ill-health or accident.

The nigger-driver never gets the best work out of his men. Kind words of appreciation are the most powerful stimulus to renewed effort.

Encourage ideas. A junior clerk at 30s a week recently suggested an economy that saved a Sydney company £40 a month. The rapidity of his well-merited promotion startled even his best friends.

The rising tide of prosperity should remind us of the ebb tide of adversity.

If c.i.f. were f.o.b. many a poor broker would be a rich merchant.

Business and politics like oil and water, do not readily blend.

WORLD'S PROSPECTIVE WOOL PRODUCTION.

Messrs. Charles Balme and Co.'s annual wool circular is to hand from London. Among other parts of interest it deals with the prospective supply of the staple. It says that supplies of merino wool during 1912 are not expected to be appreciably in excess of those for 1911. Climatic conditions in many parts of Australia have been unfavourable during the period of growth, notably in the south-west portion of Queensland and the northern districts of New South Wales, as well as of South and Western Australia. The season, however, has been more propitious in the other wool-growing centres of the continent, but the total production is not likely to show any material increase. Shipments from South Africa are also expected to remain stationary, as dry weather in Basutoland, as well as in the Orange Free State, has checked the natural increase in the flocks, and is likely to cause some diminution in the output of the former district. On the other hand, crossbred wools will be more plentiful than last year, owing to an anticipated increase in the Argentine production, which is estimated at some 30,000 bales, the equivalent of 70,000 to 80,000 colonial bales. But no augmentation in the New Zealand clip is looked for; indeed, according to the more recent returns, it would seem probable that this year's exports will be slightly less than those for the previous season.

PROSPECTS OF WOOL CONSUMPTION.

No less important than production is consumption. The same authority here considers that the prospects for 1912 appear on the whole favourable. It is true that the dry summer of 1911 has, to a certain extent, prejudicially affected trade in Europe, which has also been hampered by the ever-growing demands of labour; at the same time, with the increasing spending power of the masses in all civilised countries, the demand for woollen goods is continually expanding. In these circumstances, with a more or less stationary supply of merinos and the prevalence of a moderate scale of prices, there seems every probability of a full maintenance of quotations, as it has been proved during the past year that there is no surplus of the raw material to meet any further increase in consumption after the normal requirements of machinery have been satisfied. It has been shown that supplies of crossbreds are likely to be considerably larger than last year; under the conditions which obtained during the greater part of 1911 this augmentation of supplies would probably lead to some modification of values, but judged by the strength of American competition for crossbreds in the various wool markets of the world during the past two months, it appears reasonable to Messrs. Balme and Co. to expect that the increased demand from that quarter, where stocks of imported wool are unusually low, will at least be sufficiently vigorous to cause quotations to be maintained at their present level and possibly placed on a higher basis.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The vacancies on the board of the Mercantile Mutual Fire Insurance Company caused through the death of the late Mr. Walter Russell Hall and Mr. John Pope have been filled by the appointment of Mr. A. E. Jaques, of Messrs. Stephen, Jaques, and Stephen, and Mr. C. C. Gale, solicitor, Sydney.

The New South Wales Fresh Food and Ice Company points out that the "A" shares referred to in our issue of Thursday are created but become consolidated with the old shares, which were paid up to 10/ each, and that new scrip will be issued to shareholders upon their acceptance of "A" shares, thus making such consolidated shares paid up to 16/ each. The paid-up capital of the company will then be £146,768.

EXPORT TRADE.

AUSTRALIA'S RELATIONS WITH HULL.

Mr. Austin Wilson, a special trade commissioner for the port of Hull, had some interesting observations to make when interviewed recently in Melbourne with regard to the claims of that centre for a greater share of Australia's export trade to England.

"It is the cheapest port in the country," he says, "because the railway companies own the docks, and they consolidate the charges for handling and conveying produce. Besides this, we have a finer service in water navigation than any other port enjoys. The navigable rivers and canals radiating from Hull serve over one-sixth of the total area of England. An ancient Parliamentary privilege secures the right to all the barges in these waters to enter the docks free of charge, and the competition thus induced reduces the railway rates from Hull to a lower basis than obtains in any other part of the United Kingdom. We serve over one-quarter of the total population at a cheaper rate than any other port; and yet you have neglected us up till now.

"Only two countries in the world—Australia and New Zealand—consign the bulk of their produce direct to London, and London is the dearest port in the United Kingdom for handling goods. It is all very well to supply the population of London from London, but you cannot supply the provinces of England from that centre in competition with other countries which are sending similar produce through the cheapest channels. There is a market, constituting over 30,000,000 people, outside London for which you are not catering to any extent; and we serve close upon 12,000,000 from Hull more cheaply than they can be served from any other port.

"You are not getting a good show with your produce in London," the commissioner continued. "There is no doubt about that. You ship between 40,000 and 50,000 tons of butter to London per annum, but you can't buy any of it in the retail shops, not as Australian butter; it is sold as some other butter. I know of no shop in Bristol or Leeds where I can buy Australian produce."

Mr. Wilson also had something to say with regard to the policy of centralising our meat export trade in London. "The carcases," he said, "are placed in barges on arrival at London, and are then taken to the stores—from 20 to 27 miles away—where they are frozen up again. If the meat is sold to provincial towns, it has to be carted through the streets, and forwarded to its destination by train. On arrival at the provinces, it is frozen up again; so that it is handled six or seven times before it gets to the consumer. In Hull, on the other hand, we have accommodation for 200,000 carcases, and the stores are on the dock quays. Ships may come alongside them and sling the meat direct into the stores. They were built mainly for Argentine business; the Argentine people pressed us, and they have not taken up the accommodation there.

COMMERCIAL.

BUSINESS LAW STATISTICS.

The number of failures in the State last year, according to the statement compiled by Messrs. R. G. Dun and Co., amounted to 256, being 20 fewer than in the year 1910. It is noteworthy that with a smaller population the failures in Victoria were many more than in New South Wales in 1911, viz., 410. In that State, too, there was a diminution on the number of 1910.

The number of new bills of sale in this State, amounting to 2299, were slightly more than the previous year. The renewals, 1654, were fewer; and the bills officially satisfied were 353, being almost 80 more than during 1910. Liens on both wool and crops have diminished. Companies registered during the year numbered 418, compared with 338 in 1910. The statistics are as follows:—

	New South Wales, 1911.	1910.
Failures	256	276
Bills of sale	2299	2205
Bills of sale, renewed	1654	1663
Bills of sale, officially satisfied	353	271
Stock mortgages	3103	2962
Stock discharges registered	1167	1027
Wool liens	1386	1588
Crop liens	783	797
Companies registered	418	338

THE INCREASED MILDURA PRICES.

Additional reasons for the material advance in dried fruits announced by the Australian Dried Fruits Association for the new season are furnished by the "Argus." After pointing out that sultanas, even with an advance of /1½ in two gross, are /2 below importing prices, and the narrow margin in currants the journal referred to goes on to refer to the manner in which increased cost of labour and packing has influenced prices. Last year it was found that the cost of boxes had increased by nearly 50 per cent., as compared with earlier seasons. Since then the tariff has been revised, and the alteration in duty on box timber means a further addition to the cost. Last year the increased cost of labour and processing the fruit were factors. This year there has been a further advance in the charge for labour, both at the packing houses and directly with the growers. Last year the advance in the cost of boxes and in labour was estimated at more than /1 per lb, while this year the advance is reckoned at /1 per lb. These advances, however, cannot be spread equally over all fruits, the scope within which that is possible being different, as stated above. While, however, the association is able to furnish reasons for making an advance in prices, the actual advance in sultanas is more than traders anticipated. The difference between currants and sultanas may help to promote the consumption of currants.

At the Protestant Hall last evening the Sydney United Friendly Societies' Dispensary and Medical Institute held its 24th annual meeting. The board's report for 1911 disclosed a satisfactory financial position. A gratifying feature of the year's work had been the steady numerical progress made by the affiliated societies, a gain of 1209 members being the result.

Mr. Robert Atkins, Sydney diocesan registrar, writes with reference to the removal of part of St. Matthew's Church, Manly, and denies the statement attributed to him "that the council desires the land for nothing." The letter of the diocesan registrar to the town clerk, Manly, stated that by the widening of the Corso the council had encroached upon the church ground, and had already obtained a valuable portion of the same, without costs.

MINING.

MARKET STILL QUIET.

VALUES PRACTICALLY UNALTERED.

Very little business was transacted on Saturday morning. This was not significant. Saturday is generally a dull day. Operators are not disposed to enter into obligations on the closing day of the week.

But, irrespective of this fact, the market, like the preceding days of the week, was dull as regards the amount of business transacted. Values, however, held fairly steady all round. As a matter of fact, scripholders showed no disposition to mark down prices, and as buyers were not disposed to operate, except at a concession on late rates, this was the cause of the small amount of business recorded.

As a matter of fact, there was every reason why the market should sound a more cheerful note than that given out all through the earlier part of the week. The quotations for Australian silver stocks on the London Stock Exchange on Friday disclosed a more buoyant feeling for the leading Barrier stocks, whilst Zinc Corporation, ordinary, were in particularly good demand, as a broker's cable message announced that a dividend will probably be paid next March. Locally solid business in the stock was recorded, as well as in British (old) and B.H. Junctions, whilst four buyers failed to draw holders of B.H. Souths, B.H. Proprietary, and Sulphide Corporation.

Copper shares were again inanimate, except in the case of Mount Morgans, which were well supported, but Mount Elliotts and Hampdens did not show much life. A few sales were booked in gold shares, whilst in tin shares Tongkah Harbour were unobtainable at advanced rates.

The Tongkah Harbour Compound mine reported a yield of 26 tons 4cwt of tin oxide during January. This represented a run of 573 hours, during which 42,000 cubic yards of material were handled, the result being over 1½lb of tin per cubic yard. This may be regarded as a good yield, especially when it is borne in mind that the dredge started in the poorest portion of the Compound. The approximate value of the tin won is close on £3000, and as the labour employed is exceedingly cheap, this will leave a substantial profit.

MINING NOTES.

The Peter and Jack Company (C.T.) reports a crushing of 61 tons of ore for gold valued at £249.

Dredging concerns in New South Wales already represent a good deal of Victorian capital, and further areas are likely to receive attention at an early date. Properties in the Adelong district held by Kershaw and Davies have, it is understood, been placed under offer to a prominent Melbourne firm. Tests of the ground have been carried out, to ascertain whether the locality offered any encouragement for dredging. As the result of the investigations made to date, it is likely that the purchase will be carried through, and two modern bucket dredging plants of large capacity will be placed on the leases.

THE LONG TUNNEL BONANZA.

"Old Hill End Miner" writes:—"In your issue of Friday, 2nd inst., referring to the recent rich gold find at the Long Tunnel Mine, Gundagai, the following remark occurs: 'It is questionable whether the palmiest days of Beyers and Holtermann at Hill End could beat that record.' The article states that one of the shareholders remarked: 'We have very little expense, and in 18 months two picks have earned us a profit of £9000.'

"This would certainly compare with the find made at Hawkins' Hill some few years ago, by Emmett and Hughes, when for about a year's work four men won somewhere about £13,000 worth of the precious metal; but to compare the Long Tunnel find with Beyers and Holtermann's is simply out of the question, as the following extract from 'Sydney Morning Herald,' June 23, 1872, very clearly shows: 'Beyers and Holtermann—Weight of nugget is 630lb, height 4ft 9in, and width 2ft 2in, value £12,000, 2cwt of gold has been obtained from 10 tons quartz. Mint returns of the big crushing 415 tons, 16,280oz, value £63,235.' From this crushing a 75 per cent. dividend was paid on the £72,000 capital of the company.

"The adjoining claim, Krohmann's, in 1872, extract, 'S.M. Herald,' June 23, 'crushed 436 tons 8cwt for 24.479oz 9 dwt, value £93,616 11s 9d.' This enabled a dividend equal to the capital of the company—£80,000—to be paid.

"During the same year the 'S.M. Herald,' December 25, reported a crushing from Paxton's, 2 tons yielded 4200oz, also many other phenomenally rich returns from Hawkins' Hill mines, any of which would eclipse the Long Tunnel find."

MOUNT ELLIOTT COMPANY.

The Mount Elliott Company has issued the following report regarding its smelting operations since November last:—

	Ore Treated. Tons.	Copper. Tons.	Gold. Oz.	Silver. Oz.
Nov.	4452	607¼	1103	433
Dec. (15 days)	2216	293¼	577	408
Jan. (9 days)	1344	179¼	296	333

Assuming that the average price of electrolytic copper during the past three months to be worth £60 per ton, the 1080 tons of copper produced since last November would, with its gold and silver contents, be worth £64,800. Allowing for the cost of production on the mine, and realisation charges, say £33,000, the profit would approximately be £31,800.

MINING IN THE STATE.

GOULBURN, Saturday.

Except for the employment of two or three miners, the Tolwong mine is practically deserted, and the machinery has ceased running. This is the result of the ore body giving out, and the only hope of a revival rests on the picking up of the lode again. Experts are of opinion that the lode will be come upon when the settled country is reached. It is reported that another company is willing to take over the mine, and have it further developed.

From the Tolwong Block-up mine last week six tons of ore was sent away. It included a parcel of tin ore, which gave an assay of 75 per cent. Should the returns be satisfactory, it is proposed to open out where the lode is strong in carbonates.

The Manton mine is opening out on good gold-bearing stone at the 350 feet level. Another consignment is being prepared for despatch.

ASSAYER and ANALYST, Reasonable Fees. Scale on application. C. BRISTOWE, A.L.M.M., 93 Pitt-st.—Advt.

BROKEN HILL MINES.

BROKEN HILL, Saturday.

The managers of the mines on the southern end of the line of lode have entered into an agreement with the fire brigade, under which, in the event of a fire at South Broken Hill, the mines will cease taking water from the street mains, so as to allow of a greater pressure for fire-fighting purposes.

LIFE OF BROKEN HILL MINES.

NECESSITY FOR A RAILWAY.

BROKEN HILL, Saturday.

The Public Works Committee to-day finished taking evidence with regard to the proposed Broken Hill-Condobolin railway. Several business people gave evidence all favouring the line. Mr. Hoover, a director of the Zinc Corporation, was among the witnesses. The committee will leave Broken Hill on Sunday night, but will take further evidence in Adelaide and Melbourne en route to Sydney.

Mr. W. E. Wainwright, general manager of the B.H. South mine, in the course of his evidence, said that mine had 3,000,000 tons of ore as reserves, equal to eight years' life on the ore at present in sight. The tailings dump purchased by the Zinc Corporation still contained 1,052,900 tons. The De Bavay Co. had purchased the eight years' output of current tailings, and the slime dumps awaiting treatment contained 281,319 tons of material. There was, he said, not much room for improvement in lead smelting, but there was for zinc smelting. There was both a shortage of labour and of efficient labour. The more permanent occupation of miners would follow the proposed railway. If the railway reduced the cost of living, there was no likelihood of the mine managers seeking to reduce wages. The New South Wales Government had always treated Broken Hill shockingly.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN GOLD YIELD.

PERTH, Saturday.

The gold yield for January was 106,370oz, valued at £45,183. The returns showed a shrinkage of 13,128oz, compared with the figures for January of last year.

INTERSTATE EXCHANGES.

COUNTRY NEWS.

OLD PIONEER'S DEATH.

WEE WAA, Sunday.

Mr. John Knight, aged 99 years and 10 months, died at the residence of his son on Saturday. The deceased was a native of Kilbritain, Ireland, and was born on April 10, 1812. He came to Australia with his guardian, Captain Hungerford, in the sailing ship Alexandria Henry, landing in Sydney in May, 1828, the voyage occupying five months and three days. To celebrate their safe arrival they made a huge bonfire at the place now known as Circular Quay.

Mr. Knight's guardian took up land at Maitland, also in the Goulburn, Culgoa, and Nanan rivers, at which places he worked and met with many experiences, but with all he said that he never had any trouble with the blacks, and never carried firearms. In the fifties Mr. Knight took up land on his own account on the Nanan, which he sold later, as his family did not fancy going so far outback. In 1862 he took up land near Merriwa, but this he sold in 1880, and joined his sons at Pian Creek, near Wee Waa, where he has since resided. He was married at Maitland in 1843, and his wife predeceased him about five years ago. He reared a family of three sons—Thomas, Andrew, and John—all large graziers in and near Wee Waa; and two daughters, Mrs. C. Kelaher (recently deceased) and Mrs. W. Kelaher, of Merah North. Mr. Knight was a man who led a temperate life, and was a non-smoker.

FIRE ON RACECOURSE.

NARRABRI, Saturday.

Last night the grand stand at Dangar Park Racecourse, West Narrabri, was destroyed by fire. The alarm was given at 9 o'clock, and an immense crowd turned out from the two towns to witness the blaze. Nothing could be done to stop the progress of the fire, which started in the grand stand and spread to the stables, consuming on its way the judge's box and the galvanised iron enclosure used for a saddling paddock. It then burnt the picket fence. The origin of the fire is not known. It is known, however, that two tramps camped there just before dusk. The grand stand was insured for £250.

TONGA'S TRADE.

AMERICA CUTTING IN.

Tongatabu, the main island of the Tongan group, is of coral formation, and as flat as a pancake, with no rivers or even babbling brooks, and consequently, under such conditions, a drought is the greatest calamity that can happen.

Mr. L. B. Levin, a merchant of Nukualofa, who has just arived in Sydney, said that Tongatabu had been visited by a drought of four months' duration, which had only partially broken just before he left a little over a fortnight ago. The few showers that had fallen then would relieve the situation for a while, but a good hard downpour, lasting a couple of days, was needed to fill the tanks.

Concerning trade prospects, Mr. Levin said that the bulk of Tonga's supplies were being purchased from Australia, despite the fact that Auckland was only four days' steam from Nukualofa, as against an 18 days trip, via Fiji and Samoa, from Sydney. They did their marketing in Sydney because most lines were cheaper, and there was a greater variety of goods to choose from. New Zealand merchants did not display the same keenness about the trade of the islands as those in Sydney. Tongan merchants bought meat, butter, and other provisions from New Zealand because it was only a short run, but their hardware and softgoods nearly all came through Sydney houses, though they were beginning now to import direct from England and America, the latter country sending out large quantities of axes, lampware, glassware, perfumery, and buggies. Nine-tenths of the buggies used in Tonga were manufactured in the United States.

LA PEROUSE HONOURED.

PRESENTATION OF A PORTRAIT.

TO THE PIONEERS' CLUB COLLECTION.

The Australasian Pioneers' Clubrooms was the scene of a very interesting ceremony on Saturday, when the presentation to the club's pioneers' portrait collection of a portrait of La Perouse was made on behalf of a number of the leading members of the French community in Sydney.

The gathering was the outcome of a suggestion made by the founder and president of the club (Mr. D. Hope Johnston) to Mr. J. Currie Elles, a member of the club, who has a large number of friends among the French residents, that the memory of the great and unfortunate French navigator should be perpetuated and honoured by a place amongst the collection of pioneers' portraits. Mr. Currie Elles conferred with Mr. Playoust, who undertook with enthusiasm the formation of a committee to carry out the president's suggestion, with the result that a deputation, headed by Mr. Playoust, accompanied by Messrs. La Marand, Segur, Buissez, and Shard, attended at the club's rooms for the purpose of presenting the portrait of La Perouse. The deputation was introduced by Sir Matthew Harris and Mr. J. Currie Elles.

Mr. Playoust, in making the presentation, expressed the thanks of the French residents of Sydney for the honour the club had done them by including their great compatriot among the men who had done much to found this magnificent country. He thought that La Perouse was worthy of the honour they had paid him, for had fortune been less cruel and had he been better supported he might have achieved results not unworthy of England's great Captain Cook. Perhaps if La Perouse had had more of the spirit of men like Drake, Raleigh, and Cook, and less of the sentiments of a savant and courtier of the old French nobility, a larger portion of the lands of the southern seas might have been theirs to-day. He paid a compliment to the colonising genius of the British race, as evidenced by the splendid overseas dominions of India and Canada, for the possession of which his country had made a bold bid. He rejoiced that that day's ceremony was evidence that in this part of the Great British Empire there existed the same feelings of mutual goodwill and sympathy that animated the people of the old lands. Mr. Playoust then proposed the health of his Majesty King George V. and the President of the Republic.

The president, on behalf of the members of the club, thanked Mr. Playoust and the other gentlemen who had subscribed to the portrait for their gift. He felt strongly that La Perouse was justly entitled to a place among those great naval explorers of Australasia, Flinders and Bass, and by paying him this tribute they had honoured themselves. He could not help wondering what Sydney would be like to-day had it been laid out by a man of La Perouse's cultured and artistic temperament, and he regretted that we, with our beautiful natural surroundings and sunny climate, did not adopt more of the open-air cafe life that was, with an abundance of good music, so delightful a feature of the cities and villages of France.

The health of the visitors was heartily honoured.

The portrait, draped with the tricolour of France, and suitably inscribed, was much admired. Among others present were Messrs. J. Currie Elles, Leslie Bull, K. Bray, J. W. S. Lucas, Eric Lawson, H. R. Whittell, E. A. Hindmarsh Stephen, F. H. Blaxland, Dr. E. G. Blaxland, J. Lethbridge King, E. A. Garland, Leslie Johnston, M. J. Harris, E. E. Hassall, E. J. Lamb, Norman Murray, Arthur Bowman, R. O'Connell, Dr. J. C. Cox, and R. S. Suttor.

LABOUR TROUBLES.

WHEELERS GIVE NOTICE.

WEST MAITLAND, Sunday.

There is trouble at Broxburn colliery, with the wheelers. A special meeting was held, at which all the wheelers were present. It appears most of them are wheeling on tonnage rate, and earn from 6s to 12s a day. If a wheeler is off work for a day or more, and the manager brings a miner out to take a wheeler's place, the miner is paid 10s a day. This amount the manager claims the right to stop, and is at present stopping, out of that wheeler's pay. Some wheelers who were off sick after the miners were made up to 10s a day were paid off at 4s 4d per day. This is causing all the trouble.

The wheelers approached the manager in regard to it, but he says as it is the custom of the Newcastle district he intends to keep to it.

Before starting work yesterday morning all the wheelers handed in their notices. The manager, it was said, promised the wheelers 8s a day on condition they work eight and a half hours, instead of eight hours as at present. The meeting decided it had no power to deal with this, and the lodge delegate was instructed to bring the matter before the delegate board meeting.

A good deal of discussion took place over the alleged non-payment of money due to the Ebbw Main employees since 1910, and the federation was asked to take drastic action to recover the money.

COLLIERY DIFFICULTY.

WEST MAITLAND, Sunday.

Contrary to anticipations, the dispute at South Greta colliery regarding the enforcement of the dirt scale, which is objected to owing to bottoms coming up, remains unsettled. Mr. W. Brennan, district secretary, was in hopes of bringing about an amicable understanding between the management and men, but his negotiations, along with representatives of the lodge, did not bear the fruit expected. Only minor details required settling, but an unexpected turn of events rendered the interview abortive. The matter is now in the hands of the executive officers, and it is understood will be considered at the next meeting of the delegate board.

HOTEL EMPLOYEES.

NOTICE TO CEASE WORK.

BROKEN HILL, Saturday.

The trouble between the Hotel, Club, and Restaurant Employees' Union and the hotel and restaurant keepers yesterday reached an acute stage. After yesterday afternoon's meeting the employers had a brief conference with the union delegates, when they announced they could not see their way to grant the concessions asked for, but were willing the whole dispute should be referred to a wages board. The wages board was the suggestion of the union, but the union delegates said they wanted something more definite.

About 250 members of the union met subsequently, and after three hours' discussion carried a resolution,—"That the employees of the hotel, club, and restaurants feel their position so keenly that if something is not done by the employers within seven days serious action will eventuate." As a result of this resolution nearly the whole of the union employees to-day individually handed in a week's notice to their employers. In several cases when the notices were given in the employee was told he or she could go at once.

A meeting of employers is being called to thoroughly consider the situation. If the strike is persisted in several hotels and restaurants threaten to close down.

RAILWAY STRIKE.

TROUBLE IN THE WEST.

PERTH, Saturday.

The engineers, boilermakers, fitters, etc., at the Government locomotive workshops, who have been on strike for three weeks, met in conference last night, and discussed the basis of a reference to the conciliation board of the Arbitration Courts. They failed to come to an agreement. The men demand an increase of 2s a day all round, with a minimum of 13s a day. The commissioner refused to increase his offer of an advance of 6d a day all round, and the unions resolved to drop the conciliation proposal.

The Commissioner has made several amendments to the schedule submitted by the Amalgamated Society of Railway Employees, and the society will consider them at a mass meeting on Sunday night.

STRIKE AVERTED.

PERTH, Saturday.

The threatened strike of horse-drivers and carriers has been averted for the present by the metropolitan council of the Labour Federation, which last night induced the men to confer with the Labour Federation and the Labour Parliamentary party. As an outcome the employers' and drivers' representatives are to meet in conference on Monday.

The Shop Assistants' Union, which recently decided to approach the Arbitration Court, has resolved to stand aloof from the threatened strike of drivers.

THIRLMERE SANATORIUM.

WATER SUPPLY BY RAIL.

So as to put matters beyond any doubt, the Chief Secretary's Department has arranged with the railway authorities for water to be sent in tanks to Thirlmere for the Queen Victoria Sanatorium for Women every day until the Picton Council's supply is properly available.

EDUCATIONAL NEEDS.

GOVERNMENT POLICY.

DEPUTATION TO THE MINISTER.

The Minister for Education, Mr. Flowers, received a deputation on Saturday morning from the Council of the N.S.W. Public School Teachers' Association on questions that had been adopted by resolutions at the last conference of teachers.

The training of teachers was the first subject of a long list that was discussed. It was represented that better provision should be made by the immediate erection of a college, and the accommodation should be such as to exclude no candidate who passed the entrance examination, and should provide in all for 600 or 700 students. More liberal allowances to probationary students before entering college were also sought, as well as an increased payment within college, which, on a very careful basis, was £70 to £80 a year.

The amendment of the conditions of the bond for certain teachers in the service was represented.

The introduction of a measure to afford superannuation to Public servants formed a further request, and the Ministry was asked to make a scrutiny of the proposed bill possible to those interested before it was considered by the House. Teachers urged a maximum and minimum pension.

The Minister replied by saying that the requests were reasonable, and reasonably advanced. The claims for better allowances would be considered. He had to remind the deputation that recently largely increased expenditure had been incurred to pay teachers better salaries. He did not say that he would go as far as the deputation asked, but he hoped to be able to make some improvement. The proceedings for erecting a teachers' college were well begun, and the building would be commenced before a very great while. He approved entirely the establishing of superannuation, and the ideas of a maximum and minimum pension. He would do everything possible to have the bill brought forward this session.

Concerning appeals to a separate board, he said that was a part of his party's policy. On the amending of the compulsory attendance clauses of the Education Act, the Minister asked the deputation where the leakage lay. Did they not occur outside the Public schools as much as within? The Act certainly needed amendment to cover all schools and school attendance. He could not say whether the Government would be able to proceed with the bill already before Parliament this session, but he would consult the Cabinet. Of University reform much had been advanced. A bill was now being got ready to deal with the whole question of the University's advancement, and to assist in as full a way as possible in developing education on the side of the bread-and-butter professions as much as on the cultural. Many of the reforms asked for would be found in the bill, and all would be considered. A domestic college and the development of teaching domestic science was the most practically useful proposal made in the whole scheme of education. The training of women to manage their own household was far beyond the ability to play the piano or the fiddle. Daughters would be better in assisting their mothers in the things of the home than in any way he knew. And the extension of opportunities to make the home life better would have every assistance. The evening continuation schools for girls promised well, and the department would see that the day schools increased their facilities for teaching girls the practical home things of life. It seemed as if the education of women had been everything but what was useful, and that would soon all be altered. He gave a willing assent to the preference to Australians question, though he did not know that there had ever been any marked lapses from the policy. He sympathised with the playing areas request, and would see what the State could do to resume or retain areas, and also improve the occupation of parks. Provision would be made for a bureau of education in the new departmental buildings.

Concerning medical inspection of school children, he said that the work commenced would be extended, and every means taken to make the results more valuable. Parents must be awakened to the importance of these inspections. He could not say right off that women inspectors would be appointed. "No woman was a judge of another woman's work," he ventured, "but—well, perhaps, it was time men began to see that they did not know everything, and women inspectors would certainly appear to be desirable in special cases." On this matter he would consult the Director.

TEACHERS' SALARIES.

DISAFFECTED HEADMASTERS.

A meeting of teachers in charge of first-class schools not carrying special allowances paid in consideration of attendances in boys' departments of 400 and over, was held at the School of Arts, Pitt-street, city, on Saturday, to consider the recent regrading in connection with their salaries. Mr. Wm. Gray (Dulwich Hill Superior Public school) presided, and in opening the meeting gave a resume of the case of the school teachers since the retrenchment schemes of 1893 and 1896 were introduced into the service. He said there were 70 first-class schools in the State, and 58 of the headmasters of these were affected by the small increase in salary accorded them under the recent regrading. That amount was altogether disproportionate to what had been allotted to every other grade in the service, and could in no sense be regarded as a recognition of the just claims they had for a restoration of the salaries paid prior to the era of the reductions. Under the new scheme they got a paltry increase of £10, while the men in the second division, who had no higher qualification than they possessed, received an increase of £21; and men in the top division got an additional £28. He thought the men who had won their way to the front by their abilities, and by perseverance, were entitled to adequate consideration; and that under the regrading plan they should have been given a salary equal to what they received previous to the retrenchment of 19 years ago.

After discussion it was decided that an appeal be drawn up, and that a deputation from the meeting wait on the regrading board to present the appeal, and urge their claims for more liberal treatment.

SHIPPING RATES INCREASED.

RESULT OF HIGHER WAGES.

WELLINGTON (N.Z.), Sunday.

In view of the advance in wages recently granted the waterside workers and seamen, the directors of the Union Steamship Company have increased the coastal cargo rates from 3d to 1s per ton, and the intercolonial rates from 15d to 18d a ton. An addition of 5 per cent. will be made on all passage rates.

THE SHARK FATALITY.

MEDALS FOR THE HEROES.

At a theatrical and swimming carnival, which is to be held at Watson's Bay Baths on the 17th inst., a presentation of gold medals will be made to Messrs. M'Kay and Barlow, the heroes of the recent shark tragedy in the Lane Cove River, by Mr. Bertie Wright, on behalf of Mr. H. D. M'Intosh. The Constable brothers, who caught the shark, will also receive medals.

For Burns and Scalds use Rexona, The Rapid Healer; it gives instant relief. Price 1/6 and 3/.—Advt.

NEW TEMPLE.

SALVATION ARMY GROWTH.

MESSAGE FROM GENERAL BOOTH.

Goulburn-street was on Saturday afternoon blocked almost from George-street to Sussex-street. A seething but good-natured crowd congregated in front of the new Salvation Army Temple, singing and cheering, and shouting "Hallelujah." Flags waved, and the Army Band put zest into its work. Then the Commissioner unveiled the commemorative tablets, Mrs. Hay unfurled the "blood and fire" flag on the citadel tower, the band struck up the "Old Hundredth," the doors were thrown open, and the crowd surged into the new building.

"Fire a Volley," shouted the Commissioner, and the soldiers and lasses, at last in possession of their new temple, obeyed cheerily in their characteristic way. Soon the building was packed to the doors. The platform was crowded with soldiers of the Cross, who, headed by the band, struck up the Salvation Hymn. Commissioner Hay offered the dedication prayer, and declared the temple open. The interior presented a bright and attractive appearance. Texts and mottoes lined the walls, while over the platform was inscribed "Salvation Army Corps. Commenced 1882. Blood and Fire. Advance Australia." In the corner, like a regimental trophy, hung the old flag, faded and torn, with the inscription, "Under these colours we fought our battles and gained our victories, 1883-1912."

"I have received a cable message from the General," said Commissioner Hay. (Cheers.) "General Booth will be 83 years of age in a few days, and in spite of the recent operation to his eyes, my advices from home are very comforting. (Cheers.) I know something of the General's hopes for Australia. He thought he would be permitted to come out here, but now that looks very difficult. But the principles that made the Salvation Army will live even when the General is no more. We have inscribed his motto on the top of the platform, 'Every hour and every power for Christ and duty.' Here is the General's message:—

"Convey my sincerest congratulations on the occasion of the opening of the new Sydney Temple. It is an epoch-marking event. God has given us wonderful triumphs in the past, and He will help us to make the future still more glorious. I send you my blessing, and remain your affectionate General.'

"If it be your will, continued the Commissioner, I will send a reply voicing your love and good wishes to the General. (Applause.) I am sure that Colonel Cann and all the Sydney comrades are glad to take possession of the new temple." ("Hallelujah.")

Major Arnott referred to the financial side of the undertaking, and said that already over £6000 had been subscribed. £1700 was required to complete the campaign.

An energetic appeal by the Major now induced the audience to give and promise the odd £700, which left £1000 still required.

THE FIJI HURRICANE.

STEAMER FRANCE SAFE.

A notice posted up at the Exchange on Saturday morning read:—

"Messrs. R. Towns and Co. this morning received a cable from Noumea, advising that the steamer France, which last week was reported missing, is safe. The vessel was expected to arrive at Noumea to-night (Saturday). The St. Louis, which has been searching for the steamer France, will sail for Sydney, via Newcastle, on Sunday."

The France is a French steamer, of 257 tons, registered at Noumea. No information is yet to hand as to how the vessel fared in the hurricane which played such havoc in the Fijian islands on Sunday, the 28th ult.

FIRE IN A STABLE.

TWO HORSES BURNT TO DEATH.

ADELAIDE, Sunday.

During the progress of the Eudunda races on Saturday the stables in which nearly all the horses assisting at the meeting were sheltered caught fire. There was a very heavy covering of thatch over the building, which was destroyed inside of five minutes. The sport for the time being was abandoned, and the onlookers rushed to the scene of conflagration, and succeeded in releasing all but two horses. These were Sir Rupert and Sly Schimmel, and they were burnt to death. Sir Rupert had previously won the Hurdle Race. Fritz Cotz, who was helping, was overcome by smoke while in the stables, but, fortunately, was rescued.

PREACHERS' STRIKE.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES LAPSE.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

A strike of seven local preachers in the Methodist circuit, owing to a dispute with the superintendent minister, took place at Castlemaine to-day.

At Campbell's Creek, the largest centre in the disaffected area, the services lapsed.

BUSH FIRES.

DELAY SHIPPING.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

More or less dense smoke haze, extending from Wilson's Promontory on the eastward to Cape Banks, South Australia, and covering practically the whole of Bass Straits across to the Tasmanian coast, has occasioned serious delay and inconvenience to shipping.

In places the smoke was exceptionally dense, and caused a suffocating feeling among those in vessels.

Yesterday afternoon a grass fire occurred at the Cardinal's Palace, Manly, four acres being swept, and a small summer-house being destroyed.

SPORTING.

THE TURF.

Peronella, the winner of the Flying Handicap at Canterbury Park on Saturday, is a shapely brown filly, by Maltster from Patrona, and accordingly a full-sister to Malt King. She is owned by Mr. J. E. O'Brien, who bought her as a yearling for 575 guineas. Her performance in winning from end to end in 1m 12s was certainly an attractive one. Still, she cannot be said to have won out of her turn, as she has not won a race since February last year, when she occupied pride of place in a two-year-old event at Warwick Farm.

Orea moved rather short when doing her preliminary prior to taking part in the Jumpers' Flat Race at Canterbury Park on Saturday, but the fact did not deter the speculative public from sending her out a warm favourite for that event. On the barrier rise she soon hit the front, but could never get away from her opponents. She tired in the last furlong, and quite failed to pace it with O.D.V., who came with a wet sail from the distance, and won very easily. The winner, who has been running very consistently in similar events of late, is a six-year-old mare by the imported sire Dalmeny from Aqua Pura, and is owned and trained by R. Adcock.

Coming up the hill in the Jumpers' Flat Race at Canterburk Park on Saturday, The Dip appeared to have a good winning chance, but meeting with interference at the bend was knocked back, and lost a lot of ground. He, however, managed to run into fifth place, and should do even better in the near future.

Although Kilmeadon won the Stewards' Mile at Canterbury Park on Saturday, there was a certain element of luck in the win, as after being almost last for the first three furlongs, she got a lucky run on the rails, which landed her within striking distance of the leader. Kilmeadon evidently has a liking for the Canterbury course, as this is her second win on that track.

The biggest field of the day at Canterbury Park on Saturday was that for the Park Stakes. The start, however, was not a good one, and several horses lost whatever chance they may have possessed through being badly placed in the early stages of the race. Prince Araxis made most of the running, but Shoalhaven was always within striking distance, and as they entered the straight he slipped up on the rails, to win cleverly from Fleathe, who was blocked just as she commenced to make her run. Shoalhaven is a fine looking brown horse, by Newhaven from Voyou, and is trained by F. McGrath for Mr. S. Stapleton.

The best race of the day at the Canterbury Park races on Saturday was the Canterbury Park Handicap. After a great race over the final furlong Kyloe succeeded in downing the favourite, Cashmore, by a short head, while Crown Thistle, who came with a late run, was only a head away. The winner is an aged mare, by Lancaster from Angela, and is trained by N. Watterson for Mr. S. F. Anderson.

On account of his showing in the Flying Handicap, run earlier in the day, Sunburnt was made a short-priced favourite for the Welter Handicap, the final event at Canterbury Park. Outside the favourite, Ayreline, Humulus, and George Gunn were the only others whose chances were seriously considered by the speculative public. George Gunn led from barrier rise, and cantered home an easy winner from the favourite, who, however, was too badly served at the start to have any chance of winning. This was George Gunn's first win since he beat Psythyx in a special weights race at Moorefield, at the beginning of the season. She is by the brilliant Machine Gun from Georgina, and is trained by A. J. Foran.

The transit arrangements for the meeting of the Wollongong Jockey Club to-morrow include special trains starting from the Central Railway Station at 10.55 a.m. (horses and passengers) and 11.8 a.m. (passengers only), stopping en route at the principal stations.

The outside portion of the course proper was available at special fees at Randwick on Saturday morning, and on it Ciaco got over seven furlongs at a good strong pace. Jacamar and Cadonia were associated over nine furlongs, which they ran in 2m 3½s. Malt King and Golden Hop spurted freely over half a mile.

On the tan Woolerina traversed six furlongs at a good strong pace, and Souchong and Ceylon spurted a few furlongs, as did Primula. Malthusian ran a strong working gallop, while Grist put past a few furlongs smartly. Useful work was done by Barlow, Ladies' Man, Lady Medallist, and Woad. Flaxen ran six furlongs strongly, and Blairgour spurted a short course.

T. Payten left by boat on Saturday for Melbourne with his team for the Victorian Autumn campaign. It comprises Crown Grant, Popinjay, Cider, Mashtun, and Odist, and two-year-old Ubique. Saxonite, Milfoil, and Pasnopa also go south by the same boat, while Son of the Marsh and Rathlea, have already taken their departure for the southern capital.

MIDDLE PARK PLATE WON BY CANUTE.

WELLINGTON, Sunday.

At the Christchurch races on Saturday the Middle Park Plate of 500 sovs., weight for age, 6 furlongs, resulted as under:—Mr. G. D. Greenwood's Canute, 7st 2lb, 1; Stead Brothers' Bon Ton, 6st 11lb, 2; Sir George Clifford's Winning Way, 7st 9lb, 3. Time, 1m 14 3-5s.

CANTERBURY PARK RACES.

FEBRUARY MEETING.

PERONELLA WINS FLYING HANDICAP.

KYLOE CANTERBURY HANDICAP.

The February meeting of the Canterbury Park Racing Club was held on Saturday in sultry, oppressive weather, in the presence of a large gathering. Owing to the recent dry spell the course appeared dry and parched, but the going, nevertheless, was good, and the times recorded in the various races on the fast side. The fields were, for the most part, small. The Park Stakes was, however, an exception, as no fewer than 19 horses faced the starter in that event.

The meeting was run through without mishap or hitch, the only matter to engage the attention of the stewards being a protest lodged by J. Townsend, the rider of Fleathe, against W. Swanson, the rider of Shoalhaven in the Park Stakes, on the ground of interference. The officials, however, after duly considering the matter, decided to dismiss the protest. Results:—

FLYING HANDICAP of 100 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 2 sovs each added; second horse 10 sovs and third 5 sovs from prize. 6f.
Mr. J. E. O'Brien's b f Peronella, by Maltster—Patrona, 3yrs, 6st 10lb (G. Pinn) 1
Mr. J. Johnson's br g Irishman, 6yrs, 9st 5lb (F. Hickey) 2
Mr. R. W. Clancy's b h Sunburnt, 4yrs, 7st 10lb (R. Smith) 3
Other starters: Winsome, 8st 9lb (C. O. Davies); Malt Rose, 8st 9lb (D. Callinan).
Betting: 5 to 4 v Winsome, 4 to 1 v Malt Rose, 5 to 1 v Peronella, 7 to 1 v Sunburnt, 10 to 1 v Irishman.
After a slight delay, caused through Winsome refusing to face the barrier, the field was despatched on terms. When they found their feet, however, Peronella and Irishman dashed to the front, and after traversing a furlong, Peronella had half a length advantage from Irishman, who was a length in advance of Malt Rose, with Winsome next, and Sunburnt last. Without material alteration they raced round the back and up the hill. Peronella and Irishman were together entering the straight clear from Malt Rose, with Sunburnt coming fast on the outside. At the distance Peronella had charge, and coming on, won easily by a length from Irishman. Sunburnt was half a length away third, and four in advance of Malt Rose, with Winsome last. Time, 1m 14s.

JUMPERS' FLAT RACE, a handicap of 80 sovs; second horse 10 sovs and third horse 5 sovs from prize. 1m 3f.
Mr. Adcock's blk m O.D.V., by Dalmeny (imp.)—Aqua Pura, 6yrs, 9st 7lb (J. Clifton) 1
Mr. C. Hebden's b m Orea, 6yrs, 10st 12lb (F. Fielder) 2
Mr. J. M. Campbell's br or blk g Scone, aged, 9st (G. Phillips) 3
Other starters: Kiaki, 11st 7lb (W. Crimp); Grenfell, 10st 3lb (J. Freeland); The Dip, 9st 10lb (B. Hadfield); Demos, 9st 7lb (W. Burke).
Betting: 5 to 4 v Orea, 4 to 1 v O.D.V., 5 to 1 v Grenfell, 8 to 1 v Kiaki, 10 to 20 to 1 each v the others.
Demos and Orea were first to move, with Kiaki at the head of the others. Breasting the rise Demos had a neck advantage from Orea, who was clear of Kiaki, and after a gap came Scone at the head of the others. Coming into the straight Orea and Kiaki were in charge from Demos, with Scone next, Grenfell and O.D.V. being last. The same pair led out of the straight, and along the back, where The Dip moved up behind the leaders, and O.D.V. commenced to make up ground. Coming up the hill for the second time Orea and Kiaki were half a length in advance of The Dip, with Demos next. At the bend O.D.V. appeared on the scene. Entering the straight Orea was in charge, with Scone and O.D.V. as her nearest attendants. At the distance, however, O.D.V. ran to the head of the field, and eventually won, easing up, by three lengths from Orea, who beat Scone by a neck for second place. Demos was five lengths further off, fourth, and a couple in advance of Grenfell and The Dip, with Kiaki last. Time, 2m 29½s.

STEWARDS' MILE of 80 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 1 sov. each added; second horse 10 sovs and third 5 sovs.
Mr. E. I. Stanton's b f Kilmeadon, by Kilcheran (imp.)—Conronne, 3yrs, 8st 6lb (F. Hickey) .. 1
Mr. W. Hammett's b or br g C.H., 5yrs, 8st 8lb (F. Hood) 2
Mr. W. T. Nolan's blk g North Woodleigh, 3yrs, 8st 1lb (R. W. Brennan) 3
Other starters: Lady Splendora, 7st 7lb (J. Townsend); Belle Vive, 7st 7lb (P. J. Foley).
Betting: 6 to 4 v Kilmeadon, 2 to 1 v C.H., 5 to 1 v Lady Splendora, 7 to 1 v North Woodleigh, 10 to 1 v Belle Vive.
From an excellent start North Woodleigh was first to show out, and passing the stand had half a length advantage from Lady Splendora, who had C.H. and Kilmeadon at her heels. As they turned out of the straight North Woodleigh drew away, and at the six furlongs pole was a length in advance of Lady Splendora, after whom at length intervals came C.H. and Kilmeadon, with Belle Vive last. As they raced up the hill Kilmeadon improved her position, and at the top was a length behind North Woodleigh, who still had charge. Entering the straight North Woodleigh and Kilmeadon were on terms a length from Lady Splendora and C.H. At the distance Kilmeadon took charge, and, stalling off a late challenge from C.H., won by a length and a half. North Woodleigh was a length away third, and Belle Vive a close fourth, Lady Splendora being the last to finish. Time, 1m 42s.

PARK STAKES of 100 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 2 sovs added; second horse 10 sovs and third 5 sovs from prize. 6f.
Mr. S. Stapleton's b h Shoalhaven, by Newhaven—Voyou, 5yrs, 7st 3lb (W. Swanson) 1
Mr. S. Bedford's ch m Fleathe, 5yrs, 7st (J. Townsend) 2
Mr. G. A. Schneider's b h Prince Araxes, 4yrs, 8st 7lb (D. Burke) 3
Other starters: Berber, 8st 2lb (F. Mead); Saucy Ruth, 8st (R. Abbott); Dominion, 8st (S. Lamond); May Dance, 8st (D. Callinan); Verdant, 7st 12lb, inc. 1lb over (G. Alward); Ialoch, 7st 10lb (W. Manning); Ramble, 7st 7lb (F. Hood); Miss Rosary, 7st 7lb (G. Hook); Bobaline, 7st 7lb (R. Smith); Maygar, 7st 3lb (S. Mackay); Aerobelle, 7st 3lb (G. Pinn); Molly Mars, 7st 2lb (J. Hinton); Expedite, 7st 2lb (R. E. Smith); Perisa, 7st 1lb (G. M'Carthy); Kolonga, 7st (A. Thomas); Silver Heels, 6st 9lb (J. Hadlow).
Betting: 3 to 1 v Berber, 5 to 1 v Shoalhaven, 6 to 1 v Saucy Ruth, 7 to 1 v May Dance, 8 to 1 each v Bobaline and Verdant, 10 to 1 each v Fleathe and Maygar, 15 to 25 to 1 each v the others.
Prince Araxes, Berber, Fleathe, and Shoalhaven moved off in line, but when they had settled into their strides Prince Araxes had two lengths advantage from Berber, Aerobelle, Bobaline, Verdant, Shoalhaven, and Saucy Ruth. At the half-mile Prince Araxes and Berber were clear from Aerobelle, who was two lengths from Shoalhaven, and in the same order they raced up the hill. Prince Araxes and Berber were still together, at the bend, with Shoalhaven handy, and Aerobelle close up. At the distance Shoalhaven put in his claim, and won by a length from Fleathe, who was a length and a half in advance of Prince Araxes. Berber was fourth, followed by Verdant, Aerobelle, Ialoch, Bobaline, and May Dance, with Dominion and Perisa last. Time, 1m 13s. A protest against the winner for interference was dismissed.

CANTERBURY HANDICAP of 120 sovs; second horse 20 sovs, and third 10 sovs from prize. 1¼m and 100 yards.
Mr. S. F. Anderson's b or br m Kyloe, by Lancaster—Angela, aged, 7st 8lb (P. J. Foley) 1
Mr. E. Hanley's ch h Cashmore, 5yrs, 8st (S. Mackay) 2
Mr. John Alward's b g Crown Thistle, 5yrs, 8st 5lb (G. Alward) 3
Other starters: Ennisbelle, 7st 12lb (F. Hood); Salladay, 8st 12lb (J. Townsend); Maying, 6st 8lb, including 1lb over (G. Pinn).
Betting: 5 to 4 v Cashmore, 4 to 1 each v Kyloe and Salladay, 5 to 1 v Crown Thistle, 8 to 1 v Ennisbelle, 15 to 1 v Maying.
On the rise of the barrier Cashmore and Maying were smartest to find their feet, but when fairly going Maying was a neck in advance of Cashmore and Crown Thistle, with Kyloe last. Maying led into the straight, but at the stand Cashmore was on terms with her, and, coming away showed the way out of the straight. Passing the six-furlongs pole Cashmore was a length clear from Maying and Salladay, and after a gap Ennisbelle and Crown Thistle, with Kyloe still last. Cashmore increased his lead to two lengths round the back, and Kyloe commenced a forward move. As they neared the hill Cashmore was a length ahead from Salladay and Crown Thistle, after whom came Kyloe. At the bend Kyloe ran into second place. Cashmore was still in front at the distance, and from that point a desperate race was fought out. Cashmore faltered in the last couple of strides, and Kyloe, finishing gamely, succeeded in gaining the judge's decision by a short head, while Crown Thistle was a neck away third. Salladay was a length off fourth, and then came Ennisbelle, with Maying beaten off last. Time, 2m 16s.

WELTER HANDICAP of 75 sovs, with a sweepstakes of 1½ sov added; second horse 10 sovs and third 5 sovs from prize. 6f.
Mr. W. C. Kirby's b g George Gunn, by Machine Gun—Georgina, 4yrs, 9st 10lb (F. Kuhn) 1
Mr. R. W. Clancy's b h Sunburnt, 4yrs, 9st 10lb (W. Osborne) 2
Mr. Jas. Alward's br m Ayreline, 5yrs, 9st 1lb (G. Alward) 3
Other starters: Troon, 8st 10lb (H. Duggan); Humulus, 8st 12lb (J. S. M'Donald); Belau, 8st 12lb (F. Mead); Mount Terrell, 8st 8lb (R. Walker); Hall Mark, 8st 8lb (W. Ryan); Diplomatist, 8st 7lb (W. Swanson); Port Stephens, 8st 7b (R. W. Brennan); Malt Flag, 8st 7lb (F. Sullivan).
Betting: 5 to 2 v Sunburnt, 3 to 1 v George Gunn, 4 to 1 v Ayreline, 5 to 1 v Humulus, 10 to 20 to 1 each v others.
George Gunn and Ayreline were best served at the start, the favourite being one of the last to move. Gallopping freely, George Gunn soon drew clear from Ayreline, who droppe dback to her field, and at the five furlongs post was five lengths clear of Humulus and Troon, who were followed at short intervals by Ayreline and Diplomatist. With the exception that George Gunn had increased his lead to six lengths the positions were unchanged going up the hill. At the bend George Gunn still held a six-lengths' advantage from Humulus, Troon and Ayreline being next, with the favourite, who had made up a lot of ground, close up. The order was unchanged as they turned into the straight, but at the distance Humulus faded out of it, leaving George Gunn to win in an easy manner by three lengths from Sunburnt, who was two in advance of Ayreline. Humulus was close up fourth, and a length in advance of Troon, after whom came Port Stephens, Diplomatist, Malt Fag, and Mount Terrell, with Hall Mark last. Time, 1m 15s.

ASCOT RACING CLUB.

The attendance was so large at Ascot on Saturday that the meeting savoured more of a mid-week fixture than that of the "off" day. Fields throughout were large, and the Novice Handicap was divided. Game Lady was sent out a 5-to-4 "on" favourite in the Fourteen Hands Handicap, but she failed by half a length. The Ascot Handicap was won by J.M., about whom 10 to 1 was obtainable. The long programme was run through smoothly, and finished in good time. Details:—

Flying Welter Handicap of 60 sovs, second 7 and third 3 sovs from the prize; 4f.—Cres O, by Orzil (imp.)—Cressida, 8st 12lb (W. Harris), 1; Vanora, 9st 7lb (A. Wagner), 2; Tartar, 8st (G. BOWLS.

PENNANT AND "B" COMPETITIONS.

SATURDAY'S PLAY.

THE PENNANT.

Another round of the pennant and "B" competitions was played on Saturday. In the pennant City had the biggest margin of the afternoon against Redfern, and Randwick also won against Waverley. In that section, therefore, City is on top with three wins and one loss. Waverley and Randwick have each two wins and two losses to their credit, while Redfern has sustained three losses and secured only one win. In all the other pennant matches on Saturday the winning teams scored above the century, and their majorities over their opponents were substantial ones. In rink scoring, six of the teams managed to get over 30, but none of the quartets touched 40. The highest rink total of the afternoon was 38 got by O'Neill's rink, of Petersham. Spohn, of Randwick, was next with 37. In that same team, however, was the rink with the lowest score of the day, viz., M'Clure, 12.

POSITION AT THE CLOSE OF THE DAY.

When the scores were made up the clubs were in the following positions:—
City beat Redfern by 58 points.
Randwick beat Waverley by 28 points.
Victoria Park beat St. George by 32 points.
North Sydney beat Kuring-gai by 31 points.
Warringah beat Mosman by 20 points.
Parramatta beat Strathfield by 22 points.
Petersham beat Burwood by 20 points.

B COMPETITION.

In the B competition the scores were much closer all round than in the senior grade. There were, however, exceptions to the rule, and in the case of Randwick v Waverley the home team secured a two-to-one victory. Kuring-gai again forfeited, this time to North Sydney.

POSITION OF THE CLUBS.

The clubs finished up in the following positions:—
Randwick beat Waverley by 28 points.
Mosman I. beat Manly by 22 points.
Warringah beat Mosman II. by 15 points.
Ashfield I. beat Petersham I. by 29 points.
Petersham II. beat Ashfield II. by 13 points.
Parramatta beat Ryde by 4 points.
Kuring-gai forfeited to North Sydney.

NOTES ON THE RACING.

As the result of Saturday's race, Mr. A. L. Mullens becomes the owner of the handsome cup presented by Sir Thomas Lipton to the Royal Sydney Yacht Squadron, having for the second time defeated the boats of the eight metre class.

Petrel, Yeulba, and Sunbeam made an excellent start, crossing the line simultaneously on the port tack with the first-named to windward, while Magic was hove to at the lee end of the line, and some time elapsed before she began to move across on the starboard tack astern of the others. At Bradley's Head Petrel found the lee, and Yeulba, a little wider out, forged ahead. Sunbeam was in third place, with Magic to leeward.

Yeulba was first to throw round clear of Bradley's, being followed by Petrel and Sunbeam. Magic stood on until close under Shark Island, with the result that on the next leg she had an advantage of Sunbeam, which, however, was lost by standing too far across, there being more wind towards the eastern shore.

Yeulba retained her lead throughout the race, and worked the eastern shore to Watson's Bay; Petrel and Yeulba, and, later on, Magic, did the same. From this point a course was laid for the Manly buoy by the scratch boats, but Sunbeam and Magic made a board to round, the former finding it necessary to make a fisherman's luff to clear.

As sheets were eased, the times taken were:—Yeulba, 3h 42m 13s; Petrel, 3h 42m 17s; Sunbeam, 3h 46m 2s; Magic, 3h 47m.

Petrel's chance now seemed small, she having failed to establish a lead when on the wind. The appearance of Magic's sails gave very little encouragement to her admirers, and regret was expressed that Mr. Murray had not joined the racing earlier in the season, when he would have been justified in fitting out with new sails.

Spinnakers and balloon jibs were added for the run to Shark Island, on which Yeulba continued to draw ahead. The times at the island were:—Yeulba, 4h 16m 24s; Petrel, 4h 17m 16s; Sunbeam, 4h 23m 10s; Magic, 4h 23m 15s.

After the jibs Sunbeam was hung up under the lee of the island, and was passed by Magic; but she regained her position on the lead to Fort Denison, where the times were:—Yeulba, 4h 34m 20s; Petrel, 4h 35m 33s; Sunbeam, 4h 41m 42s; Magic, 4h 42m 10s.

No alteration of the order was made on the thrash to the Pile Light, where Yeulba had 2m 12s to spare from Petrel, Sunbeam being almost 8 minutes astern of the second yacht. Magic was not timed. From the pile light to the finish, via Shark Island, was uneventful. Yeulba crossed the finishing line at 5h 44m 53s, Petrel at 5h 46m 52s, Sunbeam at 5h 55m 22s, Magic at 5h 58m 10s.

Thus Yeulba won by 1m 59s from Petrel, who obtained second place from Magic (after the adjustment of times) by 4m 18s, Sunbeam being last by 12 more seconds.

The club steamer Lady Chelmsford carried the flag of Vice-commodore Arthur J. Milson, who was assisted in his official duties by Mr. F. Butler. A good view of the race was obtained by the numerous patrons of the club steamer, refreshments being served as usual under the lee of Shark Island.

* * * * *

The race for the 18-footers' championship between the Queensland boat Pastime and 15 of the local fleet resulted in a runaway win for Golding. Getting away well at the start, she immediately went to the front, and eventually got so far ahead as to rob the race of all its interest so far as first place was concerned.

Although she won a handicap race at Brisbane last season, this was Golding's first victory in Sydney, apart from Flying Squadron's heats. Chris. Webb has sailed her consistently since last November, but his handling of the boat on Saturday overshadowed all his previous performances with her, and the win will go down as one of the easiest Sydney's premier skipper has yet scored in championship races.

It was a great race for second up to a point between Hero, Donnelly II., Acme, and Pastime, but W. Dunn and Acme again proved too good for their opponents over the triangle, and eventually had no difficulty in securing the second prize. The Queensland boat was well handled, and sailed prominently throughout, but she would, in all probability, have been beaten for fourth had not Hero's spinnaker boom carried away on the run home.

Starter De Groen got the fleet away to a good start at Clark Island. All crossed the line on the starboard tack, and while Livonia and Acme had the best of matters at the windward end of the line, Donnelly II. and Golding were nicely placed to leeward of them, Pastime and Eunice also getting away well.

Chris. Webb soon had Golding out in front of Livonia, and after standing halfway to Bradley's Head threw round, and laid for Shark Island, the Queensland boat Pastime, Mavis, Advance, Moira, and Sunny South having stood towards Point Piper, while most of the others worked into Bradley's Head.

On their first meeting Golding easily crossed the Queensland boat, and as she romped away in the lead recollections of what used to happen when Australian (whose sails and colours Golding carried) got in front on such a day, suggested that the championship was practically gone, so far as the other competitors were concerned. But it was Golding, and not Australian, that was ahead, and the spectators were as yet not too sure about it.

Acme was now second boat, and close to the Shark Island beacon not only Dunn's charge, but Donnelly II. also crossed Pastime, Hero now being a close fifth. All these boats were moving nicely, and the Queenslander gradually improved her position. Crescent and Livonia were the most prominent of the others, Sunny South, which was not at all suited by the light breeze, being well astern.

Chris. Webb got a beautiful look-up by standing close in to Steel Point, and so did Pastime and one or two of those behind. Acme was still going well here, but dropped back before reaching the new light beyond the Lightship, while Hero considerably improved her position, and worked into second place.

Arline, Eunice, Scot, and Zena worked the western shore down the harbour, and consequently missed what easterly slants there were on the other side.

Golding rounded the new light with a lead of 1m 12s, the times here being: Golding, 4-40-3; Hero, 4-41-15; Pastime, 4-42-5; Donnelly, 4-43-1; Acme, 4-43-15; Livonia, 4-43-17; Crescent, 4-43-40; Eunice, 4-44-52; Advance, 4-45-10; Scot, 4-45-28; Mavis, 4-45-50; Arline, 4-46-5; Mona, 4-46-10. Zena was next, followed by Sunny South. Eunice was here disqualified for not making way for Advance.

With spinnakers and ringtails drawing, the fleet presented a pretty sight running up to Shark Island. Nearing the island Hero lost a man overboard, and was practically anchored until he was hauled out of the water, whilst the breeze chopped to the east somewhat, and made matters very lively. Hero lost her ringtail overboard, whilst the spinnakers of this boat, Donnelly, Pastime, and Acme blew over their heads and practically took charge of them. Acme shipped so much water that she went within an ace of capsizing, a good "save" being effected by Dunn and his crew.

While these and some of the other boats were in trouble Golding was sailing farther away than ever, and when Hero, the second boat, reached the island buoy Golding was 2m 17s in the lead. Hero was 26s ahead of Donnelly II. and Pastime, which were just in front of Acme. Livonia, Crescent, Advance, and Scot were next in order.

The run up to the Clark Island mark saw Golding increase her lead to 3m 42s, whilst Pastime not only failed to hold Donnelly, which was sailing a great boat, but was displaced by Acme. Hero, Donnelly, and Acme were practically together at the rounding mark, as the following times show: Golding, 5-6-30; Hero, 5-10-12; Donnelly, 5-10-15; Acme, 5-10-18; Pastime, 5-10-32; Livonia, 5-11-35; Crescent, 5-12-22; Advance, 5-12-45; Scot, 5-13-10; followed by Arline, Mavis, and Sunny South.

Acme disposed of Donnelly and Hero on the beat to Taylor Bay, where she was 28s ahead of Pastime and Hero, Donnelly being next.

Hero set a topsail-head ballooner for the lead across stream, but this had to be stowed half way across, owing to the wind being too far ahead. Meantime, Acme had been opening up the gap between her and Hero, while Pastime and Donnelly were both closing on the latter. The times at Shark Island were: Golding, 5-26-30; Acme, 5-39-55; Hero, 5-40-42; Pastime, 5-40-49; Donnelly, 5-40-55; Livonia, 5-41-44.

Donnelly soon covered and passed Pastime and Hero, and the three were making an interesting struggle of it for third, when Hero's spinnaker boom snapped in two, and the extra went into the water, and pulled up dead. This left Pastime fourth, and, as she was unable to overhaul the speedy Donnelly she finished in that position.

Golding had crossed the finishing line before the steamers got up, but her skipper and crew nevertheless got a great reception, and on the champion coming alongside the umpire's launch, Lady Hopetoun, Chris. Webb was decorated with blue and maroon ribbons by that old sailing identity, Mrs. Lennie.

This race was originally to have been for the State championship, but as Pastime's owner was unable to make the trip to meet Nimrod and the Western Australian boats for the Australian championship at Perth, but came to Sydney instead, it virtually resolved itself into a contest for the blue riband of Queensland and New South Wales.

Mimosa's easy win in the Sydney Amateur Club's A class race was in a large measure due to a fine new suit of sails. They were just what were wanted for the prevailing breeze, and she got so far ahead that one might easily have concluded she was not in the race at all.

The skiff championship of Botany Bay drew a big crowd of spectators to the points of vantage and the steamer and launches following the race on Saturday afternoon. The nine entrants faced the starter, and out of the scramble Unique, piloted by the Rene's skipper, did best. Then followed Dearing and Bernie, with Native, who had fouled a boat, last. On the work to Taylor bar pile Unique increased her lead, with the others following as at the start. There was no alteration on the close haul to Brighton pier, where the rounding times were:—Unique, 4h 23m 20s; Dearing, 4h 25m 2s; Truant, 4h 26m 1s; Bernie, 4h 26m 40s; Thrush, 4h 27m 30s; Olympic, 4h 27m 50s; Native, 4h 28m 15s; Myth, 4h 29m 40s; Venus, 4h 29m 34s. On the close haul and short work to Botany Unique still forged ahead, and Douglas, taking Dearing too far in towards Cook's River, lost a slant of wind, and saw Bernie and Truant pass him. The rounding times at Botany pier were:—Unique, 5h 0m 15s; Bernie, 5h 3m 20s; Truant, 5h 4m 32s; Dearing, 5h 5m 20s; Myth, 5h 8m 30s; Olympic, 5h 9m 2s; Native, 5h 9m 10s. All boats set ballooners for the lead to Kurnell buoy, and again Unique, under Duncan's skilful handling, placed a bigger gap between herself and the rest of the fleet. Misfortune overcame Bernie, who was running second. Just after rounding the Botany mark one of her crew (P. Landberg) fell overboard, and in throwing up into the wind to rescue the young man two minutes were lost. Shortly afterwards her balloon jib got foul and went overboard, but, notwithstanding this, she was still in second place when the Kurnell mark was rounded. Before Kurnell was reached Thrush had given up the task, and the rounding times were:—Unique, 5h 20m 20s; Bernie, 5h 25m 30s; Truant, 5h 25m 40s; Dearing, 5h 28m 3s; Myth, 5h 30m 2s; with the rest too far away to be timed. Ballooners were still carried on the run home as far as Towra Point, and there were squared off when nearing the finish. The times crossing the line were:—Unique, 5h 56m 40s; Bernie, 6h 2m 34s; Truant, 6h 3m 15s; Dearing, 6h 4m 40s.

NORTHCOTE CUP.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

On Friday, Saturday, and, if necessary, Monday, February 9, 10, and 12 next, the third contest for the Northcote Cup will take place this year.

New South Wales has once more challenged, through the Royal Prince Alfred Yacht Club, with Rawhiti II., the property of Messrs. Albert and Sayer. The Victorian defender is Mr. J. Dixon's Killara. The St. Kilda Yacht Club has made all arrangements to unship the Rawhiti, which is due to arrive by the steamer Bombala on Monday, and tow her to their sheds, where she will be put in racing trim with all possible speed. Arrangements for the race are in the hands of the Royal Yacht Club of Victoria.

LEAGUE.

WAVERLEY LEAGUE'S CARNIVAL.

LADIES' 100 YARDS CHAMPIONSHIP.

The first annual carnival of the Waverley District League was held on Saturday at the Bronte Baths. With good public support and an interesting programme the meeting proved successful. Possibly one of the most important events was the decision of the ladies' 100 yards State championship. Miss Gladys Tate and Alice Pearce fought this event out between them, and it was only in the final burst that the race was won, Miss Pearce being the victor. The time was 1m 20 3-5s. The 100 yards championship of the eastern district fell to C. Laws (Waverley), L. Macqueen (Eastern Suburbs) being second. The distance was covered in 67 2-5s. Results:—

60 Yards Club Handicap.—L. Kerr, 19s, 1; G. Gillis, 8s, 2; S. Farnilo, 11s, 3. Time, 55 2-5s.

100 Yards Ladies' Championship of New South Wales.—Miss A. Pearce (Eastern Suburbs), 1; Miss Gladys Tate (Randwick and Coogee), 2; Miss I. Bury (North Sydney), 3. Time, 1m 20 3-5s. Won by a yard.

66 Yards Interclub Handicap.—Heat winners: A. Davis, 14s. Time, 57 2-5s. J. Hill, 15s. Time, 56s. W. Sneddon, 16s. Time, 54s. R. Kelly, 27s. Time, 65s. R. Wardrop, 11s. Time, 49 2-5s. E. Pearce, 19s. Time, 56s. R. Perry, 19s. Time, 53s. J. Thiel, 14s. Time, 52s. W. Withien, 12s. Time, 49s. J. Adams, 13s. Time 50s. S. Campbell, 9s. Time, 47s. G. Cooper, 11s. Time, 47s. W. Schaefer, 4s. Time, 40 3-5s. A. Papps, 11s. Time, 47s. N. Roach, 8s. Time, 44s. W. Geogheagan, 7s. Time, 45s. J. Kane, 4s. Time, 41 4-5s. C. Lovelace, 5s. Time, 45s. R. Decrell, 6s. Time, 42s. R. Gibb, 2s. Time, 51 1-5s. Semi-final—Heat winners: Roach (Waverley), Time, 44s. Hill (E.S.), Time, 54 2-5s. Adams (E.S.), Time, 52s. Papps (E.S.). Time, 47s. Final: J. Adams (Eastern Suburbs), 1; J. Hill (Eastern Suburbs), 2. Time, 52s. Papps was disqualified, though he touched first.

50 Yards Ladies' Handicap.—Heat winners: Miss E. Graham, 6s. Time, 43s. Miss R. Formilo, 25s. Time, 55s. Miss A. Pearce, 1s. Time, 38s. Miss L. Barry, 2s. Time, 47s. Miss A. Decker, 20s. Time, 52s. Final: Miss Formilo, 1; Miss Graham, 2; Miss A. Pearce, 3. Time, 48s.

Interclub Diving Competition.—P. Punch (Leichhardt), 1; Geo. Reed (Globe), 2; P. Dibley (Leichhardt), 3. A fine display.

Fancy Costume Event.—The race (33yds) was won by W. Pepper (Randwick and Coogee), and the costume contest by E. Higginbotham.

Cork-bobbing Competition.—A. Papps.

100yds Championship of Eastern District.—C. Laws (Waverley), 1; L. Macqueen (Eastern Suburbs), 2; E. Bailey (Waverley), 3. Time, 1m 1 2-5s, claimed to be a world's professional record.

SOUTH SYDNEY AMATEUR CLUB.

The South Sydney Club will decide a 75yds race at the Domain Baths to-night, for which the following handicaps have been declared. The committee has decided to hold an extra race on Wednesday night, the distance to be 75yds. A. Bellingham, R. Reardon, scr; O. Williams, C. Woods, 2s; J. Casey, T. Tollis, R. Hill, 3s; J. Starkey, J. Halloran, 5s; T. Edwards, W. Mortimer, 6s; J. H. Stevens, E. E. Austin, W. Flowers, 7s; P. Coll, W. B. Jones, J. C. Rigley, 8s; H. Morson, F. Howard, H. Frost, L. Crawford, A. Markie, 9s; W. Bristow, J. M'Donald, 10s; J. Swan, T. Dawson, H. Hartman, 11s; R. M'Donald, T. Oakfield, 12s; A. Guthrie, H. Campbell, 13s; R. Duncan, A. Balgowa, 14s; J. Mahoney, 16s; W. Corbett, R. Gray, T. Bathurst, 17s; G. Thynne, T. Moore, 18s; R. Abbott, 22s; W. Wilson, 22s.

INTERCLUB SWIMMING CARNIVAL.

AUCKLAND (N.Z.), Sunday.

The final swimming carnival in connection with the Sydney team's visit was held on Saturday. Miss F. Durack, the Australian lady champion, put up two world's records for ladies' swimming. She swam 440yds in 6 minutes 42 seconds, beating her previous record by 30 seconds. She also swam 50 yards in 31 seconds.

M. E. Champion reduced his New Zealand mile record from 25 minutes to 24 minutes 30 4-5 seconds. Barry (Sydney) swam 100 yards in 59 4-5 seconds, and L. Solomons covered 50 yards in 24 seconds.

The Waitemata won the interclub contest with Sydney by 20 points to 14. In this contest the races decided on Saturday were 100 yards and the mile, both scratch events. Barry won the 100 yards, with Boardman second, and Solomon third. The mile resulted: Champion, 1; Wolson, 2; M'Quinlan, 3; Purnell, 4.

The principal other events resulted as follows:—Miss J. Mackay, 16s, 1; Miss F. Durack, scr, 2. Won by a touch. 50 yards invitation scratch race: Solomons, 1; Barry, 2.

A CHAMPION BEATEN.

MELBOURNE, Sunday.

At Williamstown yesterday the State champion, Mason, was unexpectedly beaten by Ivan Stedman, junior champion of Victoria, in the 200 yards championship of Victoria. Stedman finished well ahead of Mason, in 2m 30 1-5s. J. C. Craig, the ex-Sydney swimmer, was a close third.

ROWING.

ENTERPRISE CLUB'S REGATTA.

Although the Enterprise Rowing Club was established as far back as 1886, it was not until Saturday that it ventured to hold its first public regatta. The function was in every respect a great success. The president (Mr. J. Goodsir), the vice-president (Mr. A. W. Sommerville), and the other officers of the club had no difficulty in raising the necessary funds, and the organisation generally was well up to the mark. The club's shed at White Horse Point was a blaze of colour, and the waters of Iron Cove presented an animated scene. The umpire's boat was the Government steam yacht Eva, which had on board his Honor Judge Backhouse, Messrs. Q. L. Deloitte (president N.S.W. R.A.), A. Thomson (hon. sec. N.S.W. R.A.), W. J. Hanna, and other rowing enthusiasts, besides the officials of the day, as follow:—Umpire, Mr. N. J. M'Donald; starter, Mr. J. M'Gregor; judge, Mr. J. Degotardi; timekeeper, Mr. A. W. Sommerville.

The steamer Kookooburra followed the races, and was well patronised. The weather conditions were ideal for rowing, and the sport was good. Results:—

Junior Eights, about 2m.—Enterprise R.C. (A. J. Russell, W. Carter, J. Walker C. Shand, D. Christianson, J. Holley, F. Kirkby, C. Wooll, stroke, F. Cronin, coach and cox), 1; Leichhardt R.C. (S. Symons, M. Mison, T. Mitchell, A. Spence, J. Hosking, S. Williams, W. Dimmich, F. Mison, stroke, O. J. Wood, cox, A. Ramsay, coach), 2. The Enterprise crew were far the heavier, and after a splendid race they wore down their rivals, winning by a length and three-quarters, in 10m 20s.

Maiden Fours.—Enterprise R.C. (C. Anderson, J. Goswell, T. Roderick, H. Green, stroke, C. Kelly, cox), 1; Glebe R.C. (E. Sutton, H. Damasceen, R. Logan, J. Rogerson, stroke, Graham, cox), 2; North Shore R.C. (G. Smith, E. O. Moore, A. Ellis, G. R. Stair, stroke, N. Solomons, cox), 3. Crews from Balmain, Leichhardt, and Enterprise (No. 2) also started. Enterprise had a slight advantage at the start, and at once began to leave the others astern, being a clear length ahead at the end of the first quarter of a mile. Passing under the bridge Enterprise No. 1 had a lead of about two lengths from Balmain, Glebe and North Sydney being together half a dozen lengths away from the latter, while Leichhardt and Enterprise No. 2 brought up the rear. Enterprise No. 1 passed the flagboat three lengths ahead of Glebe, who beat North Sydney by the same distance for third place. Time, 7m 9s.

Invitation Eights.—University Boat (T. Macnee, B.R.C., F. Elliott, L.R.C., R. Philp, S.R.C., E. Symons, L.R.C., W. Martin, B.R.C., C. Heggins, B.R.C., H. Hassen, G.R.C., J. Robinson, B.R.C., stroke), 1; Sydney boat (H. James, C.R.C., G. Allen, G.R.C., F. Smith, B.R.C., L. Hughes, B.R.C., E. Cochrane, B.R.C., W. Koltz, B.R.C., C. Robson, S.R.C., H. Vaughan, G.R.C., stroke), 2; Enterprise boat (C. Hawken, G.R.C., R. Thompson, B.R.C., T. Walsh, L.R.C., C. Wooll, E.R.C., D. Christiansen, E.R.C., R. Irving, S.R.C., T. Lassen, G.R.C., A. Kenny, G.R.C., stroke), 3. Six crews started, and presented a fine sight. The start was a capital one, and a hard race resulted in University boat winning by a length.

Club Fours.—H. Ellis, H. Timbrell, C. Anderson, E. Bell (stroke), 1; L. Thompson, H. Bottomley, E. Wills, H. Green (stroke), 2. There were two other crews. A good race. Won by a length and a half.

THE OLYMPIC CREW.

The crew chosen to represent New South Wales was on the water in Iron Vove during the afternoon, and made a decidedly good impression. Their places in the boat were:—R. B. Fitzhardinge (stroke), H. Heritage, S. A. Middleton, H. Hauenstein, T. Parker, J. A. Ryrie, C. R. Barker, S. Ames (bow), H. G. E. Waley (cox).

BOXING.

AL THOMPSON DEFEATS TOM TOWNSEND.

A PROMISING HEAVYWEIGHT.

Al Thompson, the winner of the last Australasian amateur heavyweight championship, fought his first professional fight at the Stadium on Saturday night, and won. Not only did he win, but right handsomely, too, and that against no less an opponent than the formidable Tom Townsend. Of course, no one would ever claim that Townsend was a champion, but still he is a dangerous opponent. He is not particularly clever, but has a good defence, wonderful power of assimulating punishment, and is always boxing in. He is a seasoned boxer, too, and as such could not but be expected to be a formidable adversary for a comparative novice such as Thompson.

The ex-amateur won; but it can hardly be said that his exhibition is conclusive proof that he is a coming champion. He shows great promise, but there is a small element of combativeness wanting, just that all-important trifle which marks the difference between the first-rate and the truly great boxer. Of course, it may come to Thompson as his experience increases. His was undoubtedly a fine performance; but right through the contest he did not seem to box with quite the same lack of effort which has characterised all his amateur performances. True, he was more effective; but there were times when he was almost too careful. Still, on occasions, as witness the wonderful sixth round, a round which will live long in the memories of all those who witnessed it, he proved conclusively that when put to the test he can stand in close and give rapid exchanges.

For the first few rounds there was little or nothing between the two men, Townsend's clever smothering and guarding to a great extent minimising Thompson's superior speed. One fact soon became very apparent, and it was that Townsend was making much harder work of the fight than his oponent, who always kept himself well in hand. The sixth round was tremendous. The men stood toe to toe and punched. Nearing the end of the round Thompson was half-punched, half-pushed down. He took nine seconds, and then electrified the audience by rallying, and fairly beating Townsend to a standstill.

It was the turning point of the fight. From that time on Townsend was all in. Thompson was very weary, too, but knew enough to box his opponent off rather than risk another rally like that wonderful sixth round. He had the fight won, and he knew it. He was slowly but surely driving Townsend to such a condition as would allow of him doing as he liked with him. He was gradually wearing him right out.

At last, in the twelfth round, a short right jolt to the jaw dropped Townsend. He took five, and then the bell saved him. Early next round a similar punch staggered him, and a moment after another right dropped him. He was so palpably beaten that the referee, Mr. "Snowy" Baker, never counted him out, but just pointed to Thompson as the winner.

STEWART DEFEATS LEONARD.

There was only a moderate attendance at the Gaiety Athletic Club on Saturday night to witness the contest between Snowy Stewart, of Woy Woy, and Johnny Leonard, of Redfern. Half-way through the eighth round Leonard's seconds threw in the towel.

COULON OUTPOINTS CONLEY.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.

Johnny Coulon fought Frankie Conley in a terrific 20 rounds' contest. Both men were badly damaged, but Coulon was given the decision, which pleased the crowd.

WINDSOR, Friday.

At the Windsor Stadium last night, in the 8st 7lb tournament, Dalton, of Richmond, beat Arnold, of Windsor, in four rounds, on points. Perry, of Richmond, and Greentree, of Freeman's Reach, fought two rounds, when the former retired, through hurting his wrist. In the final, Greentree beat Dalton.

ANGLING.

DELEGATE, Saturday.

Mr. F. M. Norris landed a rainbow trout out of Delegate River weighing over 5lb, and when cleaned it turned the scales at 4½lb. This is probably one of the largest trout caught hereabouts.

SHIRE COUNCILS.

BLAND (West Wyalong).—Councillor George Paston has been unanimously re-elected president of the Bland Shire Council. The formal starting of the new road-making plant purchased by the Bland Shire Council took place on works in progress near Wyalong on Saturday, in the presence of all the councillors and many visitors. The president said the outlay of £1500 was fully justified by the results already shown. Since the plant was in use it had resulted in a saving of fully 50 per cent. in the cost of the work.

DUMARESQ (Armidale).—The shire council has decided to co-operate with the Shires Association in a protest urging the Government to exempt shire ratepayers from the new income tax, in view of the promise made when the Local Government Act instituted that such ratepayers would no longer be liable to land and income tax. A rate of 1½d in the £ on the unimproved capital value was struck. A motion to fix the president's salary at £40 per year was lost, and £25 decided on. Councillor A. Glass was re-elected president, this being his third year.

PATRICK PLAINS (Singleton).—Councillor Wm. Bailey has been re-elected president. This will be his fifth year of office as president.

WINDOURAN (Deniliquin).—The Windouran Shire Council on Friday elected Councillor A. M'Bean president, with an allowance of £75. Councillor M. Carew was elected deputy president. The council struck a rate of 2d.

IT IS SIMPLE WISDOM

We find in the axiom that prevention is better than cure; yet how many give it practical attention. This negligence of so clear a truth is as common as it is amazing. "For want of a nail the shoe is lost; for want of a shoe the horse is lost; for want of a horse the rider is lost." Does not the Spanish proverb drive the nail home? For want of a dose of Beecham's Pills serious illness may overtake you. What is to-day merely a symptom, suffered as temporary—a cause of irritation—an unpleasantness—a low-spirited condition—may, if neglected, result in complications requiring much attention, time, and money to set right. Would it not be far better at the first hint of anything wrong with the digestion—with any ailments arising from disorder of the stomach, liver, bowels, or kidneys—and be wise in time? When you feel headachy, bilious, dyspeptic, run-down, and not up to the mark, why not set about the cure at once? Do not wait until the trouble grows great—until it looks like developing into something serious—until your vitality is lowered and your energies largely impaired. See to it at once. Preserve your health. Take Beecham's Pills,

TO TAKE

BEECHAM'S PILLS

AND DO IT NOW.

Sold in boxes labelled, price 10½d (36 pills), 1/1½ (56 pills), and 2/9 (168 pills).

CRICKET.

EIGHTH ROUND OF GRADE MATCHES.

UNEVEN BATTING FORM.

REDFERN IN DANGER.

WAVERLEY AND SYDNEY SCORE HEAVILY

S. E. GREGORY 162, AND W. E. PITE 100.

The eighth round of grade matches was commenced on Saturday in ideal cricket weather, and the wickets were in favour of run-getting. Nevertheless, with the exception of three clubs, no total reached the second century. Waverley (five for 418 against Gordon) and Sydney (nine for 400 against Middle Harbour) performed excellently, but Burwood (nine for 269 against Paddington) was the only other team to reach 200. In the other matches each of the clubs went in to bat.

During the afternoon 61 wickets fell for 1850 runs—an average of 29.65, but Waverley and Sydney between them scored 818 runs at an average of 58.42 runs per wicket which helped to swell the average considerably.

Redfern, the leading and only unbeaten team in the competition, looks like receiving a check from Central Cumberland, who dismissed the metropolitan team for 169, and will commence on Saturday requiring 42 to win with six wickets in hand.

Besides the heavy scoring of Waverley and Sydney already mentioned, and Burwood's score against Paddington, little of moment occurred. Glebe, minus several prominent players, collapsed for 156 against North Sydney, who did little if any better with the bat, losing five for 88. Petersham, none for 84, look like gaining an easy victory over Balmain (138).

Following are the results of the afternoon's play:—
Glebe, 156, against North Sydney, five for 88.
Waverley, five for 418, against Gordon.
Burwood, nine for 269, against Paddington.
Balmain, 138, against Petersham, none for 84.
Redfern, 169, against Central Cumberland, four for 128.
Sydney, nine for 400, against Middle Harbour.

HONOUR LIST.

72—H. L. Collins, Sydney v Middle Harbour.
68*—E. L. Waddy, Central Cumberland v Redfern.
68—F. McMullen, Burwood v Paddington.
57—W. C. Prentice, Burwood v Paddington.
56*—J. S. Norton, Petersham v Balmain.
54*—W. T. J. Finneran, Sydney v Middle Harbour.
53—N. Winning, Sydney v Middle Harbour.
51—R. F. Harvey, Burwood v Paddington.

Bowling.

Five for 44—J. D. Scott, Petersham v Balmain.
Three for 27—R. Barry, Central Cumberland v Redfern
Three for 28—D. Cullen, Glebe v North Sydney.
Four for 38—F. S. Middleton, North Sydney v Glebe.
Three for 37—A. J. Hopkins, North Sydney v Glebe.
Three for 43—A. Rough, Petersham v Balmain.
Three for 46—J. R. O'Neill, Central Cumberland v Redfern.
Four for 66—B. Stafford, Paddington v Burwood.

Gordon, who were without the services of Trumper, Iredale, and Macartney, were treated to a rare leather-hunting on the Waverley oval, the local team losing five wickets for 418. S. E. Gregory (162 not out), W. E. Pite (100), and H. Davis (76), were the chief run-getters, though Thomas and Mackinlay each contributed useful totals. On two occasions lately Gregory expressed the view that if he could pass the 20 mark he would score 200. On the first occasion he made 11. Saturday was the second, and he was on the high road to keeping his word. He batted a little over two hours and a half, hit 21 fours and three sixes, and gave but one chance. It was an innings in keeping with this great little batsman's reputation, nearly all the strokes being executed with an ease and grace, yet with so much power, as to surprise the spectators. Pite's even century was a stylish and forceful effort of an hour and 10 minutes' duration. The ball found the boundary at all parts of the compass at a rare speed. Pite hit 18 fours and one six, and played a chanceless innings. Davis, who batted well in the colts' match at Melbourne, scored 76 (12 fours), by solid cricket. Thomas (31) and Mackinlay (28 not out) also played well. Gordon's bowlers were severely treated, Waverley scoring 418 off 498 balls. M'Lean three for 75, obtained all but one of the wickets that fell to the bowlers.

Redfern's visit to Parramatta proved disastrous, and as a result of the afternoon's play it looks as if Cumberland will be the first club to inflict a defeat on the all-conquering metropolitan team. Batting first on a splendid wicket, Redfern collapsed for 169, to which Central Cumberland replied with four for 128. Though seven of the Redfern batsmen reached double figures, Foster's 33, Kerim's 25, and Emery's 20 were the only efforts exceeding the teens. For Cumberland Edgar Waddy played brilliantly for 68 not out, whilst Cranney (22) and Pye (31) also played serviceable cricket. Barry three for 27, and O'Neill three for 46, wrought most damage for the "inland" team, whilst White took two for 27 for Redfern. Foster, the Redfern batsman, was given out caught at point by the umpire, but Pye, the opposing captain, asked him to continue his innings.

At Wentworth Park, the spectators witnessed some interesting, if not very entertaining, cricket, between Glebe and North Sydney. During the afternoon wickets fell at frequent intervals, the complete tally being 15 for 244 runs, so that the ball dominated the bat. Glebe, who had first knock, commenced fairly well, the century being up with only four wickets down. Afterwards a collapse occurred, and the innings closed for 156. Then the North Sydney batsmen, who appeared to have an easy task ahead, began to tumble out even more quickly than their opponents, the fifth wicket falling at 87. However, that was Glebe's last success for the day, as Dr. Poidevin (31) and A. J. Hopkins (25) added 61 without being separated—a most opportune stand. H. Brisbane 35, B. Freeman 28, H. Carrick 24 not out, were Glebe's chief rungetters. North Sydney tried four bowlers, and each met with success—Hopkins three for 37 and Middleton four for 38 achieving best results. For Glebe Cullen took three for 28, and Christie two for 35. L. R. Hill, the South Australian, is playing with North Sydney.

Sydney batsmen are still in a scoring mood. This time the Middle Harbour bowlers sampled their prowess. Nine men reached double figures in a total of nine wickets for 400, and four of them exceeded 50, with Marshall's 73 and H. L. Collins's 72 topping the list. N. Winning 53, and Finneran 54 not out were the others to gain honours. As usual, Collins played fine cricket, his stroke play being faultless. He hit nine fours and two sixes. Marshall (left hand) played neat cricket, and so did N. Winning. It was Finneran, however, who created the sensation. He went in at 6 o'clock, yet at 6.15 he had scored 54 not out—1, 6, 6, 1, 1, 6, 4, 6, 1, 4, 4, 4, 4, 6. There were only 14 scoring strokes, and of these five were sixes and a like number fours. He warmed Walton up to the tune of 4, 4, 4, 4 (in succession) and 6, in one over. The spectators thoroughly enjoyed the big hitting by the spectacled batsman. Middle Harbour fielded well, but the bowling proved easy to negotiate, the 400 runs being got off 486 balls. Walton, four for 81, obtained best results. B. Kortlang, formerly of Balmain, but who migrated to Victoria, where he became famous as a batsman, is once more residing in Sydney, and played for Middle Harbour on Saturday.

Slow scoring, with few exceptions, was the rule at Hampden oval, where Burwood occupied the wickets against Paddington during the afternoon, the board showing nine for 269 when stumps were drawn. R. F. Harvey was an exception, scoring 51 in as many minutes by freely swinging the bat in executing drives and pulls. Due credit should, however, be given Diamond, Prentice, and M'Mullen for stopping what promised to be a "rot," three wickets being down for 20. Diamond contributed a modest 18, and was enterprising, though batting 70 minutes. The fieldsmen, however, were well placed and safe. Prentice's 57 is his highest score this season, and was particularly valuable in the circumstances. M'Mullen (68) showed sound form. C. Docker hit out merrily in scoring 19, but retired through "run out," though Pratten, his partner, appeared to be the actual victim. Stafford (four for 66), bowled really well, and Dowd commenced promisingly, but was subsequently punished. Sayle (two for 40) trundled fairly, Cody was easily hit, and Noble was ineffective.

The batting display of Balmain against Petersham at the Sydney Cricket Ground was of a very prosy nature. With the exception of a soundly-made 44 by Arnott there was nothing above the commonplace, and the side was dismissed for 138. Fast-bowler Scott used the fast wicket to great advantage. He kept up a fast pace, bowled a good length and occasionally turned in a little from the off. One of these balls bowled Folkard. His figures were five for 44. Slow left-hander Rough, who was very puzzling, secured three for 43. Petersham hit up 84 runs without loss. Norton played with sparkle and life for 56 not out, whilst Norris made 23 by quiet batting. At least a two-points' victory for Petersham seems assured.

BATHURST MATCHES.

BATHURST, Saturday.

In the first grade competitions to-day First Nuggets, seven for 174 (Cousins 40, B. Schofield 29), defeated Bathurst, 173 (H. Thompson 58, D. Suttor 40), by three wickets. For the winners, B. Schofield took four for 53, W. Schofield two for 31, and J. Schofield one for 24; and Athol, M'Mahon, and Lawford each took wickets for Bathurst. Federals, 138 (Kelly 46, A. Schofield 33), sustained their first defeat at the hands of Rockley, who made 204 (Edwards 94, Sweetman 46). Bowling for the winners, Edwards secured seven for 21; and for the Federals, Young and Gurney each took four for 36. Tarana is now leading in the competition. In the second grade matches, Mockler Bros., 113 (Cave 45, Austin 22), defeated George's Plains, 95 (Sweetman 23, Cook 22). For the winners, Naylor took three for 45 and Chifley three for 17; for George's Plains, Gew took nine for 24. Post and Telegraph forfeited to Eglinton.

WATSON'S BAY FERRY.

The latest addition to the Watson's Bay and South Shore Steam Ferry Company, the steamer Greycliffe, having proved popular, it has been decided, in view of the rapidly increasing traffic, to proceed at once with the construction of another vessel, which will be practically a replica of her, though of slightly increased size. The new vessel, designs for which are being prepared by Mr. Walter Reeks, naval architect, will be equipped to negotiate the additional run to Manly, which it is proposed to inaugurate.

The steam service running between Ashfield, Enfield, Burwood, Mortlake, and Cabarita Park has been withdrawn, and a regular service will be maintained by means of electric cars.

AUSTRALIAN SPORT.

HEALTHY TRAINING.

THE PREMIER ON FOOTBALL.

To the accompaniment of much cheering from the enthusiasts in the league branch of the football game, the Premier, Mr. M'Gowen, on Saturday, laid the foundation stone of the grandstand on the new arena being got ready at Alexandria. It is to be called the Australian Football Ground. The fences are up, the oval is being levelled, and the sides are being sloped up to provide for the thousands of sightseers who are to watch football played there next winter. The granstand is well advanced. The president of the league, Mr. A. E. Nash, took the opportunity to detail the history of the game and its vicissitudes, and mentioned that a second enclosed ground had been secured, and that a third would be under control in a few weeks. It was largely due, he said, to the efforts of Mr. H. R. Denison that the new ground had been secured—a freehold of 10½ acres. The league will occupy it for portion of the year, other sports being allowed during the remainder. The trustees have decided that it shall be open free of charge to the school boys of the metropolitan district, as the organisation is to run in conjunction with the Public Schools' Athletic Association. Boys training under the Federal defence scheme will also have the use of the ground in the dry weather, and the lower part of the pavilion on rainy days.

Mr. M'Gowen, in his speech, after he had been presented with the customary silver trowel and a mallet, and had preformed the laying of the stone, said:—"I don't think it needs much persuasion to convince Australians of the necessity of bringing up their children with healthy muscular exercises, which will develop not only their mental but their physical capacity, and fit them for the battle of life. One who won't do his work is very soon found out in a football team, and as a matter of fact there is very little room in Australia for 'passengers.' (Applause.) There is no room in Australia either for a man who plays a selfish game. If he is playing for himself the team gets rid of him. It requires not only individuality but united effort if they wish to succeed, and what better lesson can we have to fit us for our careers? We're blessed with an amount of fine weather in this sunny land of ours, and those who watch the sports are benefited because they are taken out of themselves, and they get fresh air and sunshine. The carping critic may say we devote too much time to sport, but let him remember that it cultivates manliness, uprightness, and unselfishness. Let us encourage that in the world, and the community will be so much the better for it. I hope this will be the national game all over Australia. The generous manner in which the governing body is catering for the public will, I'm sure, find a responsive chord in the hearts of the people, and I wish every success to the Australian game."

The donations—including £100 from Mr. Denison—were then announced, and the party was entertained at afternoon tea in marquees on the lawn.

KIAMA CREW'S WAGES.

MINISTER'S REPLY TO UNION SECRETARY.

With regard to the statements of the secretary of the Australasian Institute of Marine Engineers (Mr. Peck), regarding under-payment of the hands on the Government steamer Kiama, Mr. Griffith states that the deputation to which Mr. Peck referred dealt only and solely with the dredge employees, and that no reference was made either then or subsequently to the fact dealt with by Mr. Peck at the conference—namely, that some of the men on the Kiama were getting less money than private firms were paying. The fact, as stated previously by Mr. Griffith, was never brought under the notice of the department prior to Mr. Peck's reference to it at the Labour Conference.

All the statements by Mr. Peck concerning the dredge employees, reported in Saturday's "Herald," Mr. Griffith added, were entirely beside the question, and were apparently brought forward by Mr. Peck as an attempt to excuse what the Minister terms "his own dereliction of duty in this particular matter."

Mr. J. E. Rose writes, saying that the utmost care should be taken by those handling electric apparatus. The body should be insulated from the ground, dry boards, free from nails, being good for the purpose, and rubber gloves for the hands. Rubber coverings for the handles of tools are a safeguard. For outsiders, it is wise to keep away from wires and electrical machines, especially when carrying tools.

PICKLE TALKS

(By a Ready Writer.)

"A few evenings after THE Navy Pickle was introduced to me, a friend of mine from Melbourne came to my house for tea. When he beheld the fresh and palatable appearance of the Pickle in the jar on the table, he was tempted to eat. Smack! went his lips as soon as he tasted it. "What a delicious pickle!" he exclaimed. "We can't get such lovely pickles in Melbourne."

THE NAVY PICKLE

can be supplied by your grocer. When you are making out your Grocery List be sure to include the Navy Pickle, because it is the best pickle that has ever been put on the market. It is made from the choicest of young and succulent vegetables, which are preserved in rich, wholesome spices, and bottled in pure liquor.

PRICES, 9d and 1/3 PER BOTTLE.

"FRIENDS."

Friends,—Yes, it's a great thing to make friends—to get the hand clasp and the smile as we journey on. And making Friends is just "MAKING GOOD," which is to say, getting into the game and playing it fair—with a strong arm and a strong heart. And what is true of an individual is true of a business—a Business is just the man in motion. To create, evolve, perfect—in short, to do a thing better than it has ever been done before is to make friends, and friends who will cut cross-lots to reach you. And that is the history of this Business. The people are finding out that my Dentistry Work is superior to many others who charge a lot more than I do. My Painless Methods for Treating and Extracting Teeth are in a class by themselves. They stand for the very highest achievements in Progressive Dentistry. The most nervous person can come to me fully assured that there will not be an atom of pain from start to finish, and thus make Friends every day.

HAVE YOUR

COSTUME TAILOR-MADE TO ORDER—£5/5/.

LATEST LONDON STYLES (repeated down the margin)

Any lady who has had a tailor-made costume to order will tell you that besides getting a more distinctive character in style, and a higher-grade finish, you get an absolutely faultless fit and authentic fashion. It is not too early to order your new season's gown now, because the dame of Fashion demands the production of tailor-made costumes for the forthcoming season, and there will, on this account, be such a big inrush of orders that I shall not be able to meet it. Order your new costume now—whilst selection is larger and more varied, and I'll be able to pay extra attention to minor details.

TIGHT SKIRTS—TIGHT SKIRTS—

—THE SLENDER WOMAN'S TRIUMPH.

The day of the slender woman's triumph has arrived. As one of the most fashionable dressmakers remarked, "the thinner a woman is nowadays the more stylish and attractive she seems." Time was when this would have been the very worst news to the fat woman, who would have had to try dieting or exercising in order to reduce her superfluous flesh. Now, however, if too fat for the prevailing styles she [illegible] and so reduces her superfluous flesh quickly and without injury to her health. This wonderful remedy is scientifically prepared, perfectly tasteless, purely vegetable, and guaranteed non-poisonous. It is also the most economical preparation for reducing fat, because it quickly and effectually does all that is claimed for it.

and, as well, overcome those distressing complaints—heart palpitation, shortness of breath, indigestion, etc., which stout people suffer from, and by reducing the fatness and overcoming coarseness of aspect, enable you to regain that slender figure and contour of youth, making you appear much younger than you really are. "Formettes" cost 5/3 per carton, and one carton is sufficient to start you losing weight. Direct from H. Henshall, Chemist, 246 Clarendon-street, South Melbourne, Vic.
